Board Approves Hiring Of 30 General Teachers

To meet the demands of increased enrollment during the 1972-73 school year, Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 board of education members Thursday approved hiring 30 additional general classroom teachers.

Action on the employment of a new principal, 25 more teachers for special department use, special education and diagnostic duties, and 32 clerks, aids and janitorial workers was postponed.

Member Gerald Lewin insisted on a two week delay stating he did not have time to review the recommendations prepared by Ronald Rubie assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, for additional staffing.

Rubie said the additional personnel for the 1972-73 school year are needed to carry out the present educational programs.

HE ANTICIPATED School Dist. 54 should have 450 more students in grades one to six. The district now has 1,716 kindergarten children moving to first grade next year, and only 1,431 sixth graders moving into junior high school... a difference of 285. The remaining 185 will be made up of new move-ins.

Rubie added class sizes in growth areas will be comparable to those of other schools at the beginning of the year. But he is also asking authorization to hire seven additional teachers at mid-year to meet increased enrollment.

The junior high school enrollment will increase by 223 students when the present 1,431 sixth graders move to seventh grade and 1,206 eighth graders move to high school.

The new principal is needed for the new building.

The employment of a bi-lingual teacher, a new position, is requested to provide service for 17 children that have little command of the English language.

THE DISTRICT has added 15 classrooms in the first to sixth grade level, and four additional special education classes.

Teachers aides, clerk aides, and teacher aide interns to implement the Individually Guided Education program previously approved, account for 12 of the needed staff.

Adjoining School Dist. 16 is still considering staff needs, and the board has not discussed hiring additional personnel.

School Dist. 59 is maintaining its present staff level with no increases.

Cub Scouts Receive Advancement Awards

Eight scouts from Cub Pack 193 at Lakeview School in Hoffman Estates received advancement awards during a recent pack meeting.

Three of the scouts received Arrow of Light awards and will be going into Boy Scouts. The recipients are Ken Alexander, Gerald Lee and David Mulcahy.

Other award winners were Salvatore Merri, gold arrow; Tim Alexander, gold arrow; Ronnie Overby, gold arrow; Mark Johnson, gold and silver arrow; and Michael Clemmes, silver arrow.

RICHARD SALINAS, who has been charged with attempted murder after a shotgun shooting at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve Friday, is subdued by Rolling Meadows and Cook County Sheriff's Police. Twenty pellets allegedly lodged in the back of Jose Lopez, after an argument over Salinas' wife. Two Arlington Heights residents were injured in an auto accident that occurred as Lopez was being taken to the hospital.

James Guthrie Resigns From Mental Health Bd.

James Guthrie, an attorney and Schaumburg village trustee, has resigned from the Schaumburg Township Mental Health Board.

Citing his growing legal practice plus time-consuming responsibilities as a village trustee, Guthrie said he doesn't feel he can "do full justice to the board."

"I do consider the board one of the most important in the area," he added. Guthrie characterized mental health as a critical problem in Schaumburg Township, mostly because of the booming population.

The township mental health board serves as an advisory body to the Schaumburg Township Board of Auditors. The board consists of seven members, all appointed by the auditors.

Vernon Laubenstein, township supervisor, said he plans on replacing Guthrie by the next town board meeting May 24.

"I have several candidates in mind that would fill the bill and would be a credit to the board," Laubenstein said. He added that he will be making "overtures" to these people during the next weeks.

Laubenstein added he is disappointed in losing Guthrie. "The board will miss his analytical mind and legal expertise," he said.

Unit School Study Snubbed

An offer to join Elk Grove Twp. School Dist. 59 in a study of unit districts was turned down by Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 board of education, president Mrs. Dianne Hart said last week.

Mrs. Hart, after hearing a letter from Harry Peterson, Dist. 59 president, said "our interest in unit districts is in how it would affect Dist. 54."

She added that Dist. 54 appreciated the offer from the adjoining district and might contact Dist. 59 to share general information but she indicated Dist. 54 would conduct a separate study.

Adam Jelen asked by Mrs. Hart to chair a unification committee, declined the chairmanship. The education committee chairman Sherwood Spatz will begin that committee's study.

Love-Triangle Murder Try Charged

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Richard Salinas, 26, of 805 W. Dundee Rd., in Palatine Township, was subdued by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs. Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abel, 1242N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband, Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and slight trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search

Project Help Nets Thirty Truckloads

Saturday's mostly sunny skies and moderate temperatures provided a comfortable environment for about 125 youthful but enthusiastic Project Help volunteers.

In phase one of the tri-part improvement and beautification program being conducted this month as a joint-village venture, crews had, by 3 p.m., collected more than 30 truckloads of rubbish from streets and roads in Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates.

"I am extremely pleased with the people who turned out for the roadway clean-up but once again it is a case of being pleased with the reaction of youth from our communities and disappointed by that of the adults," Schaumburg Trustee Jack Larsen commented.

Larsen and Trustee Diane Jensen, of Hoffman Estates were chief organizers of Project Help.

According to Larsen's estimate, approximately 750 manhours went into Saturday's roadway spruce up.

Crews reported an over abundance of laundry baskets and other such domestic discards found along roadways. Also found were larger items such as dishwashers and household appliances.

Soft drinks were provided to the volunteer force by MacDonalds, Cal's Roast Beef, Burger King and Seven-Eleven (Gold Road).

Plastic bags had been donated by Tobin-Stahr, Inc., of Elk Grove.

Public works vehicles from both communities were employed in the cleanup and crews were assisted by civil defense and police from Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg.

The program will continue next Saturday with planting of trees and shrubs in both towns.

Those wishing to sign up for Project Help's planting day are asked to call The Herald, 394-2300; Ext. 236.

Names of all individuals, groups, organizations or schools represented in Project Help will be printed in The Herald.

The combined environmental project will end Sat., May 20 when miles of creekbed area in both villages are cleared.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

Handcuffed by Communist victories in Vietnam, the Senate end-the-war bloc is likely this week to put aside its attempt to legislate an end to American involvement in the conflict.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, with three primary wins under his belt, said his wide victory margin in North Carolina may prompt him to enter the California primary as a write-in candidate.

Henry A. Kissinger has postponed, for the second time in less than a month, his scheduled visit to Japan.

Texas, angered by two years of scandal in state government and 20 years of Democratic empire rule by Lyndon B. Johnson and John B. Connally, voted out their leaders in a rush for reform and sent the South's first black woman to Congress, primary returns showed.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers interrupted his nine-day European mission and returned to Washington for urgent talks with President Nixon on the Southeast Asian crisis.

Senate Democratic and Republican Leaders Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott returned from what they described as an "unproductive" 16-day visit to Communist China, and said they would report directly to President Nixon within two days.

About 30 persons were hospitalized in San Diego, Calif., after they breathed toxic nitric acid fumes created when a support cart defueling the Apollo 16 moon capsule, exploded.

The World

Honduran soldiers spread out through the thick, rain-soaked jungles south of the Gulf of Honduras, searching for a man who hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane between Allentown, Pa., and Washington and parachuted with $305,000 into this Central American nation.

Investigators for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reported that Laos and Cambodia were on the verge of toppling before North Vietnam concentrated its troops in the current offensive against South Vietnam.

Jerusalem-Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir says Romania is prepared to act as a go-between but not mediator to produce a Middle East settlement.

Anarchists, apparently anxious to avenge the execution of three of their members, set off a series of bombs in Istanbul, Turkey's largest city, injuring four persons.

The War

U.S. Navy warplanes shot down three North Vietnamese MIGs in dogfights 80 miles southwest of Hanoi but a Navy attack bomber was knocked down by a Communist antiaircraft missile, the U.S. command said.

North Vietnamese Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap, marking the 18th anniversary of his victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, said he has since defeated three American governments and is in the process of finishing off "the war of Nixon."

'I Gotta Stand In Line To Pay Taxes?'

by JERRY THOMAS

Taxpayers hold little identity in the Cook County assessor's office because most real estate tax payments are made by mail; but there is a small group among the thousands of property owners who add personality to the numbers they are listed by in the assessment books.

Mostly it's the little guy, bill clutched in hand, who walks into the first-floor office to pay his taxes in person.

It's almost as if some of the index numbers have walked off the pages in the binder to make the guys behind the counter at Parky's place (Assessor P. J. Cullerton's office) take notice.

A majority of those who walk in are women. They instinctively head for the spot at the end of the room where the line is as if they know you always wait in line to pay.

The clerks are polite but busy, and as one told a disgruntled woman complaining about her tax bill, "Hey, I'm a taxpayer too."

The lines are short now; the bills have just come out. For one old woman they were not short enough. Her babushka-bound head bobbed in emphasis as she kept up a steady stream of cusswords in her native language throughout her half-hour wait.

She punctuated the descriptive dialogue with a few statements in English like, "not enough I gotta pay, I gotta wait too," and, "how come you don't wait for the money like I wait in the line?"

No one shushed her or appeared to hear her except the guy in back of her, who said, "If it makes you feel better, talk. But, take it from me, you pay no matter what you say, so what's the difference?"

Usual in the offices can tell you where to go whatever your question. They direct people to the right lines and won't tolerate cut-ins or sloppy lines.

"Keep those lines straight, close up there," is the usual order and even the

IT'S INEVITABLE, like death and taxes, lines of waiting make their payment in person, have started filling the corridors of the Cook County assessors' offices this week. Real estate bill taxpayers, the kind who like to old woman stops her pacing and stays close in line.

Some homeowners explain it's the first time they're paying and the clerks explain the system. You get stamped at one line, then go to another line and wait to pay a cashier.

It's old stuff for some taxpayers and they exchange pleasantries with the clerk, who by now is a familiar face.

"You going to pay your tax bill this time?" the clerk asks one woman.

"I'm paying, but under protest just like always," she answered.

"Okay," he said, laughing. "Then, like always I gotta tell you, go to the third floor and protest. You sure must like to stand in line."

She is the last in line of about 30 taxpayers he has processed. The clerk turned to a fellow worker and asks the same question again: "Why do they come downtown to stand in line?"

Enrollment will be open until May 15. Everyone interested in this training should call the Northwest Opportunity Center, 255-3456, giving his name, address, and telephone number so that he can be formally enrolled in the program.

May 'Mental Health Month'

Gov. Richard Ogilvie has signed a proclamation designating May as Mental Health Month. This comes at a time when significant shifts of emphasis can be seen in the mental health profession.

The emerging need in the mental health care field is aimed at providing care where the need for care originates, in the community. Community awareness and understanding are vital to the success of modern mental health treatment. These programs have been designed to meet the needs of real people faced with real problems.

In the past, whenever someone developed a mental or emotional problem he was "shipped off" to a faraway state hospital. Because of the distance to these facilities, family and friends would forget about them and the patients often developed greater emotional problems making recovery more difficult.

The Illinois Department of Mental Health is now working to make treatment available in every county of the state. This would enable the emotionally disturbed patient to receive professional

Preadmission Test To Save $$

A new system of preadmission testing being used by Northwest Community Hospital for elective patients will provide a savings of time and money for the patient and a greater bed utilization for the hospital.

Under the preadmission testing program, elective patients are asked to come to the hospital prior to the scheduled admission date for certain diagnostic tests. This permits the medical work-up and test results to be on the patient care chart when he is admitted. Delay due to waiting for test results is eliminated.

Blue Cross and many commercial health insurance companies recognize the benefits of the new procedures and will cover the cost of the tests. Should an admission be cancelled after the tests are made, due to a shortage of hospital beds, there will be no charge.

In many instances the program can reduce the total length of confinement by one day. If a single day can be saved on each elective patient during the year, it would be the same as having an additional 14-bed patient care unit in the hospital. The saving to the patients and insurance carriers would approach a quarter of a million dollars.

Most of the standard tests required upon admission are included in the coverage. Anyone planning on a hospital confinement should check with their insurance policy to see if preadmission testing is covered.

help without a major disruption of his lifestyle.

While stopping further enlargement of state mental hospitals, the department is encouraging individual counties to develop clinic and rehabilitation facilities. State and federal grants-in-aid are available for the establishment of these clinics.

The DMH cannot, however, make local treatment programs totally effective without local cooperation, which also is a measure of the community's dedication to its citizens.

Johnson's Logic Is Still Good

by STEVE NOVICK

The naming of Lyle Johnson to head a citizens committee aimed at selling the Hoffman Estates Park District referendum to the public is an occasion for nostalgia.

I first met Johnson nearly four years ago when he was a High School Dist. 211 board of education member, and I was a reporter covering my first beat.

We were both green and idealistic in our ways. As I recall, I was anxious to report to the community the pluses and minuses of its high school system and Johnson was interested in having swimming pools built with new buildings the school district would construct.

AFTER RETURNING from an out of town business trip Lyle would report on the swimming pools he toured, an interesting diversion from the image of a businessman spending free time in another city.

He frequently gave orations on the savings that would be made if the school district built pools with their new schools and the value of an aquatics program, etc.

He'd propose local park districts share costs so pools could be used by the community and he talked all sorts of logic that four years ago sounded good on paper, but that's as far as the ideas could go.

His thoughts were ahead of their time for two reasons. The school being planned back in '68 was Schaumburg High School to be built with Illinois School Building Commission funds. Under commission guidelines there was no money for swimming pools.

THE SECOND REASON was Schaumburg park officials and Johnson couldn't get together for the park district to pick up the tab. The park district later passed a $1 million referendum that gave Schaumburg people Atcher Pool on Springguth Road.

But, Lyle wouldn't let his dream die and Hoffman Estates park commissioners have decided to ask their constituency to finance a pool for construction with Hoffman Estates High School.

The basic logic is still good. It's now up to Johnson to sell the fine points to the community. The cause certainly has the right man to bring about the effect if sincerity means anything when motivating a man's effort.

MIKE VANVAERENBURGH, 14, and Kevin Hannon, Of Dimes Walkathon held Saturday in the area. hoped they would be the first to complete the 12, were two of about 100 marchers in the March. These two boys were the first out to walk and march.

Grand Opening Is Scheduled

Schaumburg, in a short while, will be a "complete city," Mayor Robert O. Atcher said recently during grand opening ceremonies for a new Skorberg Furniture Store at 830 E. Golf Rd.

Atcher, speaking at a luncheon for Skorberg employees and village officials, told company president Neal Skorberg his new store is one of the many local commercial enterprises making it possible for Schaumburg to become "complete."

Schaumburg will have everything a self-sufficient city should have such as "schools, churches and homes," Atcher said. "And the paycheck will be here too."

Because of stores such as Skorberg's and other furniture stores, Schaumburg also is fast becoming the "place to buy furniture," the mayor continued.

EMPHASIZING his company is "just delighted to be here," Skorberg characterized Schaumburg and the Northwest suburbs in general as the "dinner-bucket belt in the furniture building."

Skorberg Stores Corp. is headquartered in DeKalb. The 34-year-old company now has 12 stores throughout the Chicago suburban and adjacent areas.

The store will sell a variety of furniture, carpeting and bedding and will be open seven days a week.

Manager of the store is Herman Welts. At the outset, the store will employ 25 persons.

Other village officials attending the grand opening were village trustees Ray Kessell and Peter Justen, Fire Chief Lloyd Abrahamsen and Police Chief Martin Conroy.

6-Foot Fence To Block View Of Church Is Asked

Five Schaumburg homeowners, tired of looking at a neighboring church's backyard, Wednesday requested approval to erect a six-foot fence to block the view.

Kenneth Parker, 1400 Chartwell Rd., told the Schaumburg Zoning Board of Appeals that the back corner of Prince of Peace Lutheran Church's property abutting his lot is an eyesore and a junkpile.

It is filled, he said, with many "undesirable" items such as "a disposable swimming pool, telephone poles, garbage cans, a school bus, skids, barrels and other discarded property."

Parker wants to build a fence to block out the view. Four neighbors also want variations to allow them to construct similar fences. The neighbors also want to block their view of the church's parking lot. Prince of Peace is located at 930 W. Higgins Road in Hoffman Estates.

The zoning board recommended the variation be allowed providing the fences are no higher than six feet and are 50 per cent "open" as opposed to being entirely closed in. The recommendation goes to the village board May 16.

Admitting the back corner is not "exactly a garden," the Rev. Mark Knutson, pastor of Prince of Peace, said the church would start cleaning the area Saturday.

"It will be a volunteer effort," he said.

Rev. Knutson said the area is difficult to police because it is swampy. "Also," he added, "A lot of debris is thrown in there" by unknown people not connected with the church.

The pastor said there are some barrels in the area. However, he said, the bus referred to by Parker is not junk. "It is our own bus which we use very regularly," he said.

"We are concerned this be a usable area and not an eyesore," he said.

Other petitioners are Allen Singer, C. C. Iannella, John P. Kelley and William Stypzykewski.

2 Airport Study Firms Reviewed

Two firms vying to do a study on the advisability of a municipally owned airport in Schaumburg had their facts reviewed Thursday by the village airport study committee.

The firm Arnold Thompson, Inc., combining with Vickrey-Wines, Associates, and Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, were discussed.

Interviews with Ralph H. Burke, Inc., and Peat, Marwick and Mitchell, other firms also being considered, will soon be scheduled in the village.

A village owned and operated airport is included in plans for a regional transportation center proposed by Schaumburg Mayor Robert O. Atcher.

The study, expected to be funded primarily by the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA), will not limit itself to expansion of the now privately owned Schaumburg Airport, but will also survey other practical sites within village limits for a general aviation (utility type) airport.

IN DISCUSSION directed by Bob Starzyk, serving as chairman in the absence of Dennis Ledgerwood, the group concluded that background exposed in the Thomson-Vickrey-Wines presentation revealed extensive airport planning on a national basis.

Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, on the other hand, is involved presently in five airport studies funded under the Airport and Airways Development Act of 1970.

That legislation provides $15 million annually for airport planning and expansion and is essentially where funding for the local project would come.

Through these federal monies, two-thirds of the cost of the feasibility study would be recaptured by the village under a master planning grant. Remaining portions of the cost of the project would come from a one-sixth grant from the Illinois Department of Aeronautics and an equal amount would be borne by the village.

Village expenditures would be retired through proceeds of a revenue bond issue and would involve no taxpayer burden.

In a scrutiny of environmental studies required in order to qualify for FAA funding, doubt was cast on methods to determine such data as outlined by both consultants.

DAN LUREY, an observer for Hoffman Estates Environmental Concerns Committee, questioned the validity of computer programs used in preparation of noise contour portions of the planned study.

"Loudness contour of the human ear is important and varies with the individual. Is this program good enough to determine the entire scope of the noise question?" Lurey asked.

In response, committee members indicated they feel "canned" data going into this portion of the study is modified to project error. It could also be found in a manual study as compared to the proposed computer program determination.

Jane Murphy of Schaumburg, said the airport committee should wait for results of an Argonne National Laboratory study dealing with environmental information being obtained in the O'Hare Airport area.

In her opinion, FAA guidelines for the proposed study "are not stringent enough."

"Those studies will not affect how an airport is constructed but will determine aircraft standards," answered Ken Wolmer, Schaumburg Airport manager.

During the next four weeks, committee members will continue to determine steps for preparation of an FAA funding application.

IN LINE WITH FAA and state requirements, Schaumburg would sponsor the project and federal funding would be disbursed through the Illinois Department of Aeronautics.

It is also presumed that one village official will be named to act as liaison with the FAA.

According to consultants' projections, the study would not be completed in less than nine months and actual airport master planning and financial arrangements would take additional time.

The committee will continue preparing a summary of objectives and intentions to accompany the funding application.

Park Referendum-Education Programs Begin This Week

The first in a series of programs designed to acquaint the voters of Hoffman Estates Park District to the details of the June 10 park development referendum will be held this week.

The major meeting of the week, according to park officials, will be Thursday evening at Helen Keller Junior High School. Park officials hope to attract as many community leaders as possible to the session to explain the upcoming vote.

Park district director Al Binder said a request for support will be made at that time. He added that persons wishing to help promote the park project may volunteer at that meeting.

Lyle Johnson, who last week was appointed to head a citizens committee to promote the referendum will lead the meeting.

BINDER SAID a complete presentation of the park district plans will be made at the meeting. The cost of the program to the taxpayer also will be discussed.

Park district officials are planning meetings with as many community groups as possible.

The district hopes to reach 35-40 community groups before the June 10 vote. The two-part referendum issue is seeking $1.1 million to build an indoor swimming pool at the new Hoffman Estates High School and undertake a large-scale development project at neighborhood parks.

Other meetings scheduled for this week include: Jaycees Wives, tonight, 8 p.m., park district offices, 650 W. Higgins Rd., Hoffman Estates; Twinbrook School PTA, tomorrow, 10 a.m., at the school, 400 Ash Rd., Hoffman Estates; Hoffman Estates Athletic Association, tomorrow, 9 p.m., park district recreation center, 650 Higgins Rd., Hoffman Estates; and Hoffman Estates Boys Club, Wednesday, 8 p.m., 161 Illinois Blvd., Hoffman Estates.

School Board OKs Rent Payout

A year's rent payment of $221,000 was approved by Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 board of education members Thursday for repayment of an interest-free loan from the Illinois School Building Commission.

The district must approve the lease each year during the 16-year, 8-month repayment time, said Marvin Lapicola, business manager.

Lapicola said six schools — Thomas Dooley, Douglas MacArthur and its addition, Nathan Hale, Edwin Aldrin, Neil Armstrong and Michael Collins — all were built with loans from the ISBC.

ABOUT 125 Project Help volunteers collected and roads in Schaumburg and Hoffman Estates with planting of shrubs and trees in both towns. more than 30 truckloads of rubbish from streets Saturday. The program will continue next Saturday.

J. Edgar Hoover

For nearly a half century the name J. Edgar Hoover has been synonymous with law enforcement in the United States. The man who took over the directorship of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in 1924 at the age of 29 transformed an unarmed, unrespected, unorganized department into a vital link in maintaining national law and order. His work has not been without controversy, ranging from periodic uproar over phone bugging to unjustified accusations from the Senate floor that he sent his G-men on dangerous missions while he played it safe in Washington. Few, however, have questioned the dedication of the man over the years in building a streamlined, investigative machine to fight crime.

Hoover: Start Of A Legend

by SAM FOGG

WASHINGTON (UPI) — J. Edgar Hoover joined the government in 1917 as a $600-a-year law clerk. At his death more than half a century later, he personified a sense of power in Washington without parallel in American history.

A few people, including the eight presidents he served, had more authority over shorter periods of time, but none held power longer and more surely than did Hoover.

His career was a case study of almost classic dimensions of how single-minded dedication and talent can achieve power, exercise it and — if you believe his critics — misuse it.

It was a career unlikely to ever be matched as a result of a four-year-old law under which his successor, to be chosen by President Nixon, must be confirmed by the Senate and will serve at the pleasure of the chief executive.

IN THE BEGINNING, in 1924, he moved in as chief of a corruption-tainted government bureau of investigation and cleaned house, stamping his own brand of Puritan virtue on the agents who worked for him.

In the '30s, with the help of an intensive public relations effort, he arrested or eliminated a galaxy of criminals and thereby gave the FBI legendary status.

In World War II and the Cold War that followed, Hoover became a spy-hunter, uncovering Nazi saboteurs and later Communist atomic espionage rings.

When he died last Tuesday, he was a center of mounting controversy, assailed by the New Left and under fire from civil rights spokesmen and militant blacks.

During his years as director of the FBI and its predecessor agency, Hoover dealt with eight presidents from Coolidge to Nixon and 16 attorneys general. Some of the chief executives and a number of the attorneys general were privately critical of the FBI chief, but none dared fire him.

After he reached the mandatory retirement age of 70, both Lyndon B. Johnson and President Nixon kept him on anyway. Congress all but rubber stamped his budget requests which rose from $2.4 million in 1921 to $236 million in 1971. In 1969, he commanded 727 agents. At his death, there were 8,000.

Hoover made his agency one of the best in the world, utilizing the most modern of techniques, including top-notch laboratories, a police training school and a fingerprint file that is unmatched.

HE RAN THE bureau in martinet style. Agents whose personal lives were less than conventional or whose attitudes were less than loyal were either ousted or punished by being sent to out-of-the-way places.

On May 10, 1924, when he was named to command the agency, Hoover needed all the disciplinary tools he could get.

The son of a government printer, he had joined the Justice Department less than two years before, after finishing law school. It was just before scandal engulfed the Harding administration, including Atty. Gen. Harry Daugherty, a free-booting member of the Ohio Gang.

When Harlan Fiske Stone replaced Daugherty, one of the first moves was to fire the head of the government's Bureau of Investigation as the FBI was then known. The agency had fallen into disrepute for rifling senators' files during the hearings on Teapot Dome and because of corruption and high-handedness during the Palmer raids to deport aliens.

Hoover accepted only on condition that he have full authority, that the bureau be divorced from politics and that appointments and promotions be strictly on merit.

At age 29, Hoover became the federal government's top policeman.

It was the era of the Tim Lizzie and "keep cool with Coolidge." It was also the era of Prohibition and bootlegging that spawned the beginnings of organized crime.

Hoover survived his first power struggle in 1933 when there was speculation newly elected President Franklin D. Roosevelt might abolish the agency in favor of a new setup. Instead, the FBI was formally created with Hoover in charge.

HIS LUCK WAS running. The depression and Prohibition had created a crime wave and made headline figures of such desperadoes as Pretty Boy Floyd, Baby Face Nelson, Ma Barker, John Dillinger, Alvin Karpis and Machine Gun Kelly.

Pretty Boy was the first to lose to the FBI. Wanted for his part in the "Kansas City Massacre," Floyd was slain in an Ohio cornfield on Oct. 21, 1934, when he tried to shoot it out.

Kelly, who got his nickname by tattooing his initials on rural barns with his machine gun, was taken in Memphis, Tenn., for kidnaping a wealthy Oklahoma oilman and coined a new term in the American language by pleading

"Don't shoot, G-men; don't shoot!"

But it was John Dillinger who made the FBI the symbol of law enforcement in July, 1934. Dillinger, an Indiana farm boy, had achieved folklore status by his bank robberies and escapes from jail and police ambush.

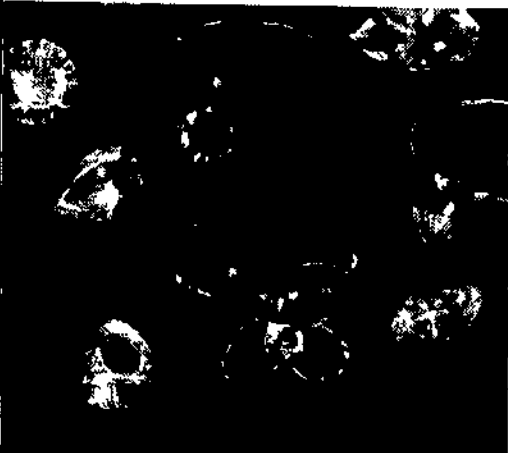

The outlaw, hiding out in Chicago, took up with Anna Sage, a bawdy house madam who tipped off a police captain in East Chicago. Fifteen FBI agents, along with East Chicago police, set a trap at the Biograph Theater.

As Dillinger emerged with Anna "The Woman in Red" and another woman, he apparently sensed the trap and fled down an alley. Moments later he lay dead and Hoover's agency became a household word.

In January, 1935, Ma Barker and her son, Fred, were tracked to a cottage near Ocala, Fla., and shot to death in a gun battle.

Regner Won't Be Pinned On Lottery

by BOB LAHEY
Reports of his knighting as champion of a state lottery are greatly exaggerated, according to state Rep. David J. Regner, R-Mount Prospect.

Press media in the state capital last week reported that Regner had lent his support to a bill calling for the lottery.

He said Friday, however, that he has not altered his position on the lottery: he favors it in principle, but he has neither studied the proposals of two pending bills on lotteries nor taken a position on them.

Reports of approval of the lottery by Regner, who is chairman of the influential House Appropriations Committee, were taken by observers last week as a sure sign that the lottery bills would become law.

Regner said, however, that he was awaiting a report of a study of the bills by the Appropriations Committee staff. He expects to call the bills for hearing by the committee in about two weeks.

Meanwhile, he said, "I am not opposed to the idea of a lottery. I certainly would prefer that to any increase in taxes."

Regner also pointed out that a recent survey among his constituents in the 3rd Legislative District showed that a 62.5 per cent of those responding favored a state lottery to aid school financing.

The proposed lottery would provide the state about $100 million revenue annually, according to its proponents.

REGNER as expected, was named co-chairman of a new commission to provide the General Assembly with an estimate of state revenues during the next biennium.

Regner will share the chairmanship with Rep. Gerald Shea, D-Riverside. It consists of 20 members and will replace the Illinois Budgetary Commission in meeting a constitutional requirement that says state appropriations "shall not exceed funds estimated by the General Assembly to be available during that year."

First action of Regner and Shea was to appoint a four-man committee to survey colleges and universities throughout the state in search of an economic consultant to aid the commission in its study.

Regner said a number of candidates would be contacted over the weekend and he hopes "to come with a name" in time for a meeting of the commission at 5 p.m. today in Springfield.

Regner noted that the commission is running out of time. "All appropriations must be passed by June 30, but none can be acted upon until the commission completes its estimate."

Skating Rink End Of May Is Their Hope

Owners of the Arlington Ice Spectrum, a year-round ice skating rink being constructed at 1350 E. Northwest Hwy. in Palatine, are still optimistic they can open the facility for summer scheduling by the last week of May.

Despite recent wet weather which caused delays, the rink is expected to be open by the end of the month and offer its first full program of hockey instruction beginning June 12.

The hockey school will run for 12 weeks during the summer under the direction of Emile Francis, general manager of the New York Rangers.

Figure skating will also be taught in advanced and beginners classes for a six-week session from July 17 to Aug. 21. Patch and free style skating sessions will begin June 19.

Registration of any of the ice programs will be taken upon completion of the building.

Besides the ice rink, an indoor roller rink is also being constructed under the same roof and will be called Orbit Roller Rink. Lessons in skating will also be offered at this facility with a program to be announced later.

In a separate building behind the two rinks the Arlington Indoor Tennis Club will be housed in eight courts. Season memberships will be available for individuals and families.

Auto Sticker By Mail Could Be A Problem

Cook County Treas. Bernard J. Korzen Friday advised residents of unincorporated Cook County that vehicle sticker applications received by mail in his office after today may not be processed in time for return to the taxpayer to affix the sticker by the May 15 deadline.

Korzen emphasized that stickers and tags are available in his office in the County Building, Room 112, 118 N. Clark St., Chicago, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

License fee for motor vehicles of 35 horsepower or under is $10 while vehicles of greater than 35 horsepower is $15. Motor trucks, buses, and tractor semi-trailer units are taxed on a separate schedule. Disabled veterans, school and church buses and government owned vehicles are exempt from the tax after making application.

Applications may be obtained from village halls, village police stations and all Sheriff's Police stations. Stickers and tags are available only through the office of the Cook County Collector.

Paddock Cited By Mental Health Group

Robert Y. Paddock, executive vice president of Paddock Publications, Inc. accepted the Mental Health Association of Greater Chicago Communications Award on behalf of Paddock Publications recently.

The award is given to selected media from radio, television and the press which have been recognized for consistently informing the public of mental health issues and urging support of activities sponsored by the association.

Winners of this year's awards were announced at the ninth annual working-together luncheon of the association on May 3.

Motion To Quash Middleton Guilty Verdict Postponed

A hearing on a defense motion to vacate a verdict of guilty in the case of Dr. James G. Middleton was postponed Friday when the defense requested a week's delay.

Dr. Middleton, 46, of 969 S. Elmhurst Rd., Des Plaines, was found guilty Feb. 3 of deviate sexual assault and aggravated battery. He was charged with drugging one of his woman patients in his Des Plaines office and then forcing her to submit to a deviate sexual act.

The doctor's attorney, Sam Adam, recently filed a motion with Criminal Court Judge Robert Downing requesting the court to set aside the finding of guilt and the 5 to 10-year prison term ordered.

In the motion Adam contended the state's attorney's office knowingly used prejudiced testimony to gain the conviction. Adam said Assistant State's Atty. James Kavanaugh, who led the prosecution of the case, admitted to the doctor during a telephone conversation that he knew some of the witnesses against the doctor had lied.

Friday, Assistant State's Atty. Larry O'Gara filed a motion requesting more specifics in regard to Middleton's allegations, and Adam requested more time to answer that request.

Judge Downing rescheduled the hearing for May 10 at 9:30 a.m.

'Mailbox Improvement Week' Soon

The U.S. Postal Service has designated May 15-20 as "Mailbox Improvement Week." The traditional observance contributes nationally to environmental quality.

For many years, Mailbox Improvement Week has served as a signal for special community efforts to encourage repairing, painting and other improvements in the security and appearance of about 18.5 million rural and suburban curbside type boxes.

The observance helps in promoting the security of mail as well as in contributing to the appearance of the boxes, which may often be damaged by the previous winter's weather.

Mailbox Improvement Week has been observed for generations, particularly in rural areas. Today, more Americans receive their mail on rural routes than ever before. About 42.2 million individuals are served by some 31,600 rural carriers.

As part of the observances of May 15-20, the Postal Service is asking postmasters to seek community assistance in promoting the campaign, and asking all personnel directly involved in suburban curbside and rural deliveries to cooperate with householders in making certain their receptacles comply with regulations on such matters as safety and accessibility.

Looking For I-90 Access Route? It's Not There Yet

This Rte. 53 teaser for I-90 ...

... And this Higgins Road pointer ...

... lead to this, old Rte. 53.

DON'T BE TAKEN in by signs promising an Interstate alternate to the Northwest Tollroad, now undergoing resurfacing. The two I-90 directional signs on Higgins Road and new Rte. 53 will lead you to old Rte. 53's two-lane traffic tie-ups until September, when the I-90 access route to the Eisenhower Expressway, now under construction, is to open. Six-lane road-way will speed traffic between Dundee Road and Itasca. Unfortunately, that will be after the Aug. 1 completion date for the Tollroad work.

Commuters to Chicago, beware.

Don't be taken in by signs on Higgins Road and new Rte. 53 pointing to a mecca for the traveler caught in Northwest Tollway resurfacing traffic jams.

The signs show the way to enter or stay on Rte. 53 for an I-90 (Interstate) access route that connects with the Eisenhower Expressway to Chicago. At the particular points where the signs have been erected, an unsuspecting driver would chuckle with glee. In these locations, Rte. 53 is a minimum of six lanes wide and traffic generally is uncongested, moving at a good clip. Better, in fact, than on the Northwest Tollway even when it is not being repaved.

But there is a small catch, one the State Highway Department fails to mention.

The access route is not finished. And it won't be completely open for use before September, a month after the tollroad work is slated for completion.

Until then, I-90-bound drivers on Rte. 53 will find themselves on old Rte. 53, a two-lane highway fraught with rush-hour traffic jams notoriously long enough for regular attention in radio station traffic-copier reports.

Attorney Critical Of No-Fault Revamp

by LEA TONKIN

Leonard Ring, the Chicago attorney who filed the original suit against Illinois' no-fault auto insurance law, is sharply critical of revamped no-fault bills approved by a House committee last week.

The original no-fault bill as well as the two no-fault bills passed by the House Insurance Committee last Wednesday are nothing more than "insurance profit plans," says Ring. "The Moore bill in its final form is really no different from the law that was held unconstitutional by the Illinois Supreme Court," he said.

Ring referred to a measure introduced by Rep. Don Moore, R-Midlothian, which at first differed in several respects from the state's original no-fault bill. After the measure was nearly killed in committee, Moore amended it to read almost the same as the old bill.

According to Ring, "The only difference between the present Moore bill and the measure declared unconstitutional is that first party benefits are extended to commercial vehicles. That doesn't answer the critical objections to the original law." He testified against the measure before the House Insurance Committee.

Ring says the unconstitutionality of the original no-fault program centered on the lack of tort (fault) recovery among the uninsured. This included approximately 1 million persons in the inner city of Chicago alone, he estimates. "Our evidence shows that over 80 per cent of those living in the inner city area have no insurance on their car," said Ring. He claims the original no-fault law as well as the Moore bill would discriminate against the right of these uninsured motorists to tort recovery.

A second bill voted out of the House Insurance Committee last week was criticized by Ring. The measure introduced by Rep. Tobias Barry, D-Ladd, Ring said the Senate vote to send all such measures to a joint study commission for possible action in 1973 is the "only sensible thing to do." The study group could report its findings after this year's elections, free from political pressure, said Ring.

He is working on a modified no-fault bill which, he claims, would be "constitutional and in the public interest." It would discourage litigation of many small claims, he said, but would provide out of pocket expenses to all victims.

JUDGE DANIEL Covel of Cook County Circuit Court ruled the state's no-fault law, initiated Jan. 1 of this year, is unconstitutional. The suit was brought by Ring on behalf of another lawyer, Michael Grace. The Illinois Supreme Court later upheld the decision.

The state's Department of Insurance can file a petition for a rehearing on the ruling until May 15, said Ring.

The Illinois Insurance Information Institute, representing some 250 insurance firms doing business in Illinois believes the concept of no-fault plan was not struck down in court. Coverage was not broad enough under the original plan, but its faults can be corrected, said institute chairman Thomas Reynolds. He said the Supreme Court decision fell far short of trial lawyer plaintiff expectations.

Reynolds said the Supreme Court decision is a costly one, however. An estimated $85 million in losses will be incurred by insurance firms insuring the state's 5 million passenger cars, he said. This is because the firms are offering the no-fault coverage at no additional premium to buyers of insurance. In the meantime the yardstick formula for estimating pain and suffering established under the no-fault law is invalidated. The cost of conversion to no-fault and reversion to the former system is also added in the total figures, he said.

The original no-fault law provided up to $2,000 per person for accident victims and a specified amount of income/wage benefits (up to $150 a week for 52 weeks) and loss of service costs.

Step-By-Step Guide To Peace Talks

by DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Many people find international negotiations, such as the Paris peace conference and the SALT talks in Helsinki, difficult to follow.

And with good reason. For in international negotiations, the negotiating is rarely done by the negotiators.

This week, for example, the White House announced a "major advance" toward a strategic arms limitation treaty with the Soviet Union.

The breakthrough, as expected, did not occur at the strategic arms limitation treaty negotiations in Helsinki. It came about in "confidential exchanges" between President Nixon and Soviet Communist Party Leader Brezhnev.

The Vietnam peace negotiations have, of course, been even more diffused. Nearly everyone has had a hand in them except the Vietnam peace negotiators.

DESPITE SO much peripheral activity, however, international negotiations usually fall into a set pattern that unfolds in well defined stages.

Let us say the United States comes up with a new Indochina peace plan. It would bring about an end to the fighting by providing for the gradual withdrawal of all Vietnamese forces from Vietnam.

Followed by the withdrawal of Cambodian forces from Cambodia, Laotian forces from Laos and Thai forces from Thailand.

If they follow the usual pattern, the negotiations begin with a series of secret talks between President Nixon and Henry Kissinger.

In the next stage, Kissinger files to Moscow for secret talks with Soviet Premier Kosygin. Who, in turn, holds secret talks with Brezhnev.

At this point, the French ambassador enters the picture.

Now the stage is set for indirect consultations with Peking, through which contact is made with Hanoi which results in a tacit "understanding."

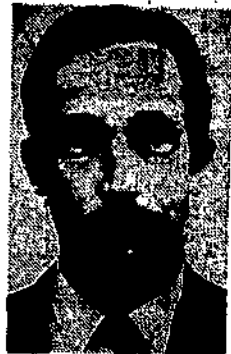

ONCE THE negotiations have reached this stage, Saigon is notified and terms of the U.S. proposal are made public.

Whereupon the plan is denounced by Moscow, Peking, Hanoi, Paris and Saigon.

The unanimous opposition to the proposal is taken in Washington as a "signal" that the other side is finally ready to begin serious negotiations.

So a conference is arranged in Paris, giving negotiators for both sides a chance to harden their positions. Meanwhile, secret talks outside the conference are getting under way. Once you learn to recognize these various stages, you should have no trouble following the progress of international negotiations right up to the final deadlock.

Firm Pays Penny For Pound Of Glass

"Glass containers to be recycled into new bottles and jars must be free of metal contaminants and separated by color," according to Bill Stone, manager of the Ball Corp. plant in Mundelein.

Ball is one of eight Illinois glass container plants participating in an industrywide recycling program. Containers brought to the Ball plant on Ill. Rte. 60, west of U.S. 44 between 1 and 4 p.m. on Wednesdays and Saturdays are purchased by the company at a penny a pound.

Redemptions of more than 100 tons of containers a month at Mundelein are not unusual, Stone said. Spring and summer are particularly busy periods at the recycling centers.

Dear Dr. Lamb — What is your answer to the many thousands of people suffering from muscle injury, like the young boy you wrote about who was hurt with judo? I had a similar problem for years and, after seeing many doctors without results, went to see a remedial massage therapist with training in Denmark. My muscles were in spasm from the base of the skull to the base of my spinal column. As treatment progressed, there was slow but evident relief.

In time, it became evident that my main problem was a great deal of nervous tension associated with my occupation. More than I had possibly realized. Then I was also hurt later with judo. I have repeatedly obtained considerable relief from treatment by a remedial massage therapist.

In Canada, they are persona non grata to the medical profession and hundreds of sufferers with similar problems see a therapist without their physician's blessing and the therapist is refused payment for his treatment by the Canadian government. In the United States, does the therapist or masseur have to be a medical doctor to be recognized as capable of treating this type of injury? I am not suggesting you take a stand politically, but simply state your views on the practical efficiency of remedial massages. Do you disagree with the European medical profession in their cooperative use of this type of therapy?

Dear Reader — The medical profession can and does use massage, heat, traction and most every aspect of muscle therapy that is useful for the body. In the United States, this is organized in conjunction with, or under the supervision of, a physician who is a specialist in physical medicine.

THE INDIVIDUALS who give the massage and provide this type of care are called physiotherapists. In one sense, you can regard them as assistants or technicians to the specialist in physical medicine. They are well-trained in the art of muscle massage and muscle therapy. Physiotherapy departments, with their hydrotherapy and other devices, are very important in medicine and are used in treatment of muscle injuries and at one time, when polio was common, they helped rehabilitate polio victims.

There is an advantage to receiving your muscle therapy from a physiotherapist under the supervision of a specialist in physical medicine, because it decreases the likelihood that the patient will have some other medical problem that needs attention. Some individuals with muscle pain have serious illnesses that require other forms of treatment, for example rheumatoid arthritis. Others occur repeatedly because of poor dietary habits. Still others are associated with skeletal abnormalities, like the individual who has one short leg. Correction of these problems is essential to solving the muscle difficulties.

I see no reason why a physician shouldn't refer his patients to a remedial massage therapist for specific treatment if he chooses to do so. But I do think that it is unwise to go directly to an individual who is not a doctor for massage therapy for a persistent medical complaint without a good and complete medical examination by someone trained in the broader aspects of medicine.

Teens' March To Aid Research

Illinois teen-agers will hold a statewide march Sept. 10 to help support medical research. Campaign director Lois Guerra is sponsoring a recruitment drive to enlist teen-agers from every section of the Chicago area.

Funds raised through the march will be used for research directed toward eliminating childhood diseases.

Entertainer Danny Thomas has appealed for support of the youth of America to help him raise money to help operate St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The hospital recently announced that it has achieved a 67 per cent cure rate for children afflicted with acute lymphocytic leukemia. Research also is being conducted in the areas of childhood cancer, muscle disorders, endocrine problems and sickle cell anemia.

Patients are admitted to St. Jude upon referral of their doctor regardless of race or creed, and there is no charge for treatment.

Teen-agers and adults interested in helping the young people organize and conduct the campaign should get in touch with Miss Guerra at 922-4882.

Tax Reform, Then Lottery

Perhaps it was the image of the one-room schoolhouse which did it, but tax money to support our schools always has a sort of all-American ring to it.

Now, our legislature is considering a gloriously Utopian plan to boost its support for public schools without taxing the overburdened homeowner one red cent!

The new well of revenue will not come from taxes. It will come from "contributions," from those who wish to gamble a bit and take a chance on winning a portion of a state lottery.

There's something for everyone in HB 3608, which would establish the lottery in Illinois:

— For the taxpayer, there's no new tax hike.

— For the school administrator, there's the possibility that $30 million may be poured into state aid to education.

— For the gambler — and we all have a bit of the itch to double an investment, whether at Arlington Park or on the stock market — there's a chance we might win — thus making a state lottery ticket a good investment.

With all these pluses, are we enthusiastic about a state lottery?

No, we aren't. It isn't that we're opposed to on-track wagering, either, as a $50 million source of revenue for Illinois. That form of gambling, so long as it is closely monitored by the state, is inoffensive to us.

Poster Pick-Up

Long after the sound and fury of an election have died away and the campaign promises have vanished like the snows of yesteryear, something tangible yet remains.

Or to put it more poetically, old campaigners never die; their signs just fade and fade and fade away.

Not so in Dayton, Ohio, however. That city seems to have solved its political poster problem through a shrewd combination of private greed and public spirit.

It started just after the 1970 election when an oil company (Sunoco) offered to pay five cents for every political poster turned in to its dealers.

This, of course, mobilized the

The problem is that the lottery addresses itself to the Illinois revenue crisis in the same way that direct taxes do — as a source to feed increasingly ravenous taxing bodies.

No, what is needed, as we've argued before, is a complete revamping of our entire taxation system. From the federal level, where canny tax experts can fix it so your taxes are minimal, to the local level, where the property tax inequities are obvious, a revamping is needed.

Further, if we should go to a lottery, those who have proposed it have included provisions to allow at least 30 per cent of its revenue to go to public schools. If $100 million were raised, $30 million would go to the schools — or an average of $23,000 per state school district.

This assumes the lottery would raise $100 million. A lottery has been successful in New Jersey — but in New York and New Hampshire, it hasn't provided the anticipated revenue bonanza.

Yes, we desperately need the money, and no one would be forced to take a chance on winning the big financial rainbow at the end of the lottery ticket.

No, a state lottery won't solve anything — and we badly need a solution to the present unfair system of taxation. Let's change the system after careful study, not depend strictly on a well-intentioned state lottery to prop up the present plan.

kids, who are both more adept at shinning up telephone poles and more in need of nickels than adults — though one man brought in 1,200 posters and went away with $80 in his pocket.

In all, about 30,000 posters were collected that year. The same program was run in 1971, and curiously enough only 8,400 signs were turned in, yet the city was stripped bare of political posters.

Explains Judy Pope, administrative assistant on the Dayton City Beautiful Council, the 1970 program "shamed the politicians into getting their signs down themselves in 1971."

Now that's an accomplishment.

Know Your Heirs

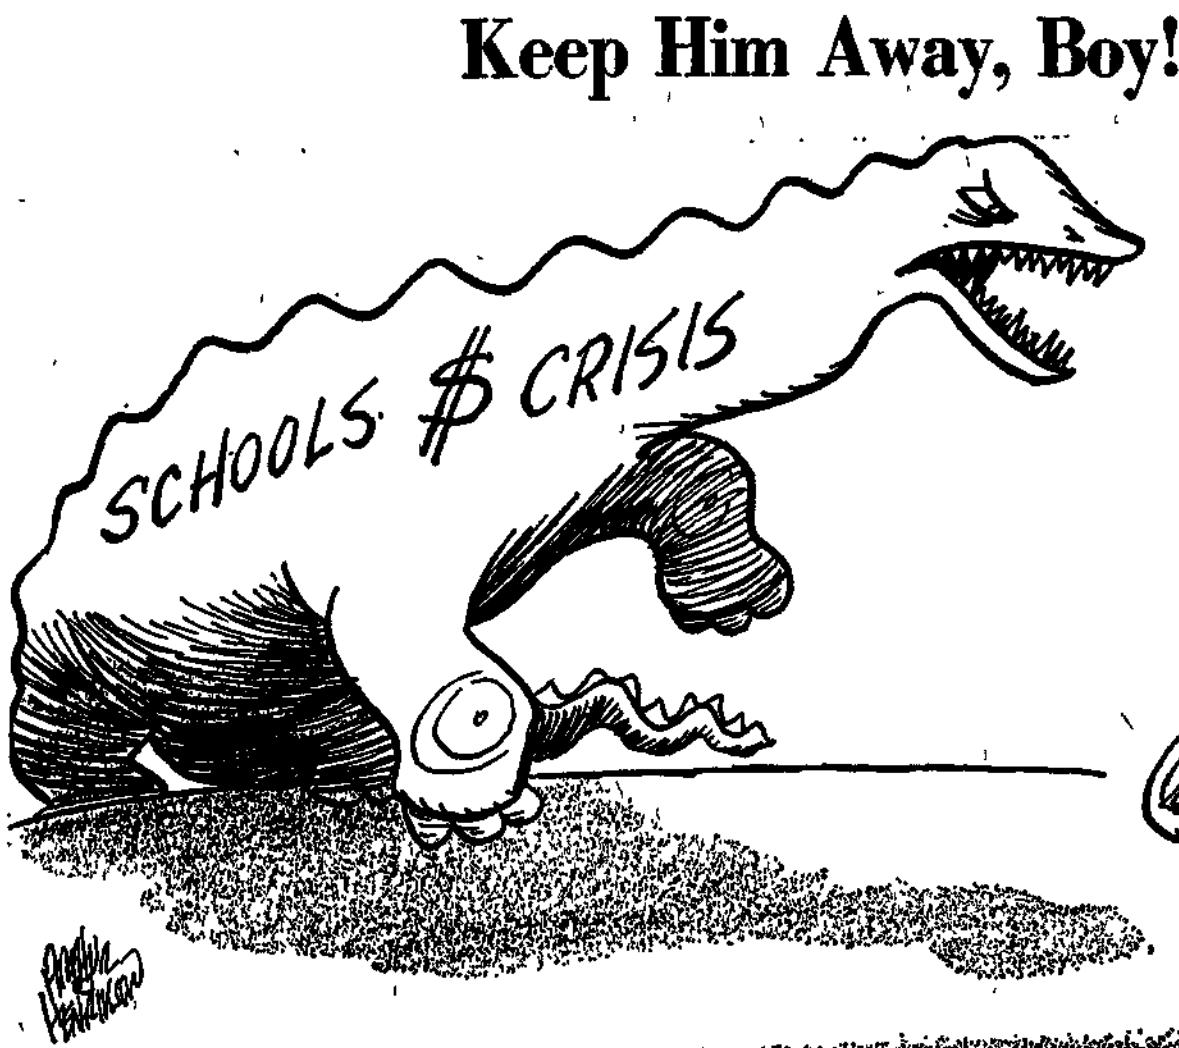

The St. Louis Better Business Bureau reports a new way in which people are being parted from their money.

It seems that an outfit in California is looking for missing heirs. It is looking so conscientiously, in fact, that it sends identical letters throughout the country to people with the last name of a deceased person. (Currently, the "hot names" are Williams, Johnson and Taylor.)

For a modest charge of $8.50, the firm offers to send copies of pertinent court records on the decedent's estate. Obviously, the possibility of any solicited person being a true heir is remote.

Deal with such solicitations at your own risk, says the BBB.

Hanrahan Critique Irks Reader

Having been accused by friends of trying to be a champion for lost causes, I wish to inform Roger Capetini that I am adding him to my list. Not only because he sees fit to downgrade Ed Hanrahan but that he does so in such a manner that irritates me.

Hopefully between now and November I can persuade Mr. Capetini with logic, facts and common sense that Ed Hanrahan is the people's choice and because he is the best qualified to do what the people want.

In Mr. Capetini's recent column I took encouragement in seeing that he read Mr. Hanrahan's weekly report. Now if he can refrain himself from reading between the lines and assuming things, he might begin to see the light.

His article states how Mr. Hanrahan complained about the court handling of a particular case which involved an assistant who was burglarized and how this case was typical of how the victims are mistreated. To this, Mr. Capetini agreed wholeheartedly. Where he decided to go off into never-never land was when he insinuated that Mr. Hanrahan complained only because it was an assistant.

When an editor who has vast resources of information available to him makes a statement like that about Ed Hanrahan, he is either prejudiced or suffering from a bump on the head. In fact, he admits how Mr. Hanrahan has been attacking judges. Well, what does he think "our hero," as he put it, is attacking them on?

The way they comb their hair? As a matter of record, Mr. Hanrahan said in a recent visit to Palatine residents and a Herald reporter (Marcia Kramer) that it was a shame he had to even try to institute legislation to prevent actions such as these from recurring.

It seems, however, that to some small degree Mr. Capetini is starting to see the light. I regret, however, that it took a personal incident to make him agree that there is a problem in our courts.

Now if he can sit down and figure out who is to blame, rather than attacking the first man he associates with justice, he might accomplish some good.

If you will, I suggest you take a poll of your subscribers and ask them where they think the fault lies. It would be interesting to see if the majority think as I, that it is the legislators who draw up the laws, and the courts and judges who inscribe them that are guilty. By all means, not the attorney, who in effect is given inadequate tools to handle a major job. Then when trying to persuade and institute changes runs into closed minds.

WAKE UP ROGER! You're casting your stones in the wrong direction.

Do some checking and be honest with yourself and your readers. There is no sin in making a mistake but only in being too proud to admit it. In fact, as soon as I make one I'll admit it, too.

Ecology Choice Hit

We write this letter in response to the recent decision of the Palatine Village Board to earmark funds from the village recycling program towards an extension of the village beautification project.

The village, in its decision, destroyed the original proposal of the environmental control board. The recommendation of the ECB was the funds from the recycling program were to be used for a scholarship for a Palatine student entering some field relating to the environ-

Yet, the village board chose to ignore the recommendation of the ECB. This clearly shows the attitude of the village board toward the ECB, the field of environmental education, and all Palatine students.

As Palatine High students, we authored a pamphlet designed to inform the village residents of the need for recycling. We helped distribute this information to many Palatine residents. We did this because we recognize the urgent need for the recycling of our natural resources. But we also did it because we feel that environmental education is something we all need desperately if we are to survive.

Yet, the village board chose to ignore us. In ignoring us they have ignored our plea for environmental education. In turning their backs on us they have turned their backs on an entire generation, as well as the needs of that generation.

Those village officials who destroyed the original recommendation are that type of narrow-minded people who may be the cause of the eventual demise of spaceship Earth.

Candidate Hits 'Power Abuse'

Roy H. Berquist, program director of the Niles Chamber of Commerce recently invited the Niles Commissioner of Consumer Fraud to attend the Chamber's luncheon on April 18th and also asked him to participate in the program on Consumer Fraud. The Commissioner requested that an invitation also be extended to me, Thomas Flynn, the Assistant Commissioner of Consumer Fraud. Mr. Berquist stated that he could not do this because I was a Candidate for the office of State Senator in the 4th District. He stated my appearance might be interpreted as a political gesture and at the least it would be opening up the Niles Chamber of Commerce to possible criticism because of my candidacy. At the time I felt that I was being discriminated against but did not want to embarrass the Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Berquist's logic seemed rational.

I now feel that Mr. Berquist is guilty of a "malicious abuse of power" because "his" main speaker is none other than Donald Mulack, the Republican Candidate for Cook County Coroner. He in effect has given a platform to a Republican candidate for office and deliberately discriminated against a Democratic candidate for office. I am unequivocally convinced that the Niles Chamber of Commerce would not have allowed this to happen if they were aware of the circumstances. I have been the Assistant Commissioner of Consumer Fraud for almost two years and have always had an excellent relationship with the Chamber. In fact, I have handled several complaints from out of Niles and Illinois at the specific request of the President of the Chamber. I am not, have never and will never allow politics to interfere with my duties as Assistant Commissioner. My records are open to prove this statement.

Mr. Berquist, who is a Republican precinct captain and a former Republican candidate for the Illinois House of Representatives, has displayed the mentality of Republican Machine politics. My opponent who owns a chain of newspapers has refused to print my news releases and in effect has taken away my right of free speech is now joined by another Republican party functionary in denying me my right of free speech. God help us all if we have to suffer through another four years of their version of Americanism.

When Sisters Leave, 'It's A Great Loss'

I would like to thank your feature writer Cindy Tew for the excellent article on the 150th anniversary of the Dominican Sisters. For eighteen years, these Sisters have taught Christianity by word and example to the children of Arlington Heights, and I believe that we all owe them a great debt of gratitude.

My only objection to the story in your paper is that either my words were taken out of context, or I did not express myself clearly. I meant to indicate that our Finance Committee is not overly concerned about the higher salaries that lay teachers receive. We are not exactly happy when our salary budget increases, but we are truly unhappy when we lose one of the Sisters. Our lay teachers are wonderful, dedicated people, and they do a marvelous job for our children. However, I believe that they all would agree with me that the presence of the Sisters in our school is very very important. Every time we lose a Sister, our school suffers a great loss.

Story Draws Praise

The fine article on the Holy Family Sisters in Des Plaines was most enjoyable. It is articles like this and the one pertaining to the Sisters at Our Lady of the Wayside in yesterday's paper that are really inspiring to the Catholic readers in your coverage area.

However, I do not think it just to categorize these Sisters as "conservative," as was stated.

These articles prove to the reading public that all Sisters are wearing pantsuits, turtle-necks and mini-dresses as I said.

The white-habited Sisters over at Holy Family Hospital are a source of joy to any sick person. If one appeared in my room dressed as the above mentioned — my temperature would rise in anger.

Fox River Pollution Leads To Cancerous Tumors: Study

The polluted waters of the Fox River, between McHenry and Ottawa, may be causing significant incidence of cancerous tumors in fish and possibly in humans, according to a team of Chicago-based researchers.

At the American Cancer Research Association's national convention held recently in Boston, investigators reported finding 40 types of tumors in fish caught in the Fox River during the past year.

Investigators added that without exception organic compounds in the watershed "exceed the minimum state standards by more than 100 per cent."

The team described the Fox River as a "highly polluted watershed bordering at times on the appearance of an open sewer."

In their study they compared the Fox River and its tributaries to a similar control watershed in the Lake of the Woods area of Western Ontario. They tested each watershed for minerals and organics and attempted to correlate the findings to tumor incidence in the fish common to both waters.

RESULTS OF the investigation concluded that up to 16 per cent of the fish caught in the Fox River had tumors as compared to about 1 per cent in the Canadian waters.

An analysis of water samples taken from the two areas, showed unsafe amounts in the Fox River water but not in the Canadian waters. The river was found to be contaminated with unusually high fecal materials, cancer-producing compounds, herbicides, insecticides, phosphates, nitrates, gasoline, ether and similar compounds.

The investigators pointed out that approximately 350,000 people live along the river "and in summer it is estimated that more than 1.5 million use its water for fishing, drinking and recreation.

They conclude that while no definitive proof of the cause of the high number of fish tumors can be made, the fact that pollutants were not found in the Canadian water might well suggest carcinogenic (cancer producing) actions "by the chemicals in the Fox River."

Investigators are Dr. Eric R. Brown and Lewis Keith of the Chicago Medical School, Dr. James J. Hazdra of the Illinois Benedictine College Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry, and Dr. J. B. G. Kwapiński of the University of Manitoba Medical School.

THE SHIRTWAIST STYLE is still a favorite choice of women although the length of the skirt has drastically changed since the first tennis costume was initiated. An adjustable belt adds extra tailoring.

MRS. JOYCE MANGELS of Palatine models a sleeveless V-neck tennis dress that allows plenty of movement when she reaches to serve the ball.

PAUSING BEFORE SHE goes onto the court, Resa Marsh of Mount Prospect chooses a tennis dress trimmed in braid which features a short pleated skirt.

Short And White

The Tennis Fashion Story

by GENIE CAMPBELL

Tennis is on its way to becoming the social sport of the '70s.

Add that the total number of tennis players in the United States is approaching the country's estimated 13 million golfers, and there's no doubt that tennis fever is rampant.

And, it's no longer just a summer sport. Seasonal changes nor time of day have any effect. Indoor courts are why.

Ten years ago there were less than 100 roofed facilities in the entire country compared to more than 700 today. Currently it's possible for a Chicagoan to play tennis just as often as a sun-bleached Californian.

DRESSING ALL the new tennis players in regulation whites has become big business for the fashion industry. It's a whole new undeveloped market. And even though white must remain predominant, women still are finding they have a variety of choices open to them in dressing for play.

Because of the freedom of movement they allow, short tennis dresses with matching shorts underneath are endorsed most often.

Yet there is no reason for any woman to lose her fashion identity. Even the straight cut basic styles are enlivened by colorful trims and appliques to make every dress a stand-out on its own.

Made of washable double knit polyesters, crush-proof crepes, cottons and even some lacy fabrics, tennis dresses are as functional as they are fashionable.

THE MIX-AND-MATCH movement in sportswear has spread to tennis, where separates have become a growing part of the complete fashion story.

Short shorts, pleated and wrap-around skirts are attractively being teamed with a variety of matching or coordinating tops in tank or shirt styling.

It just depends on what you like and what you are able to wear. Midriff tops for women are tennis' answer to the bare and cut-out look currently popular in high fashion.

What about body shirts? In stretch knits, they are receiving a lot of approval from racquet toting misses who wear them with either matching shorts or skirts.

IT WASN'T ALWAYS necessary to look the part for tennis. In 14th century France where the game was such a rage with the nobility that the church condemned the sport for keeping the elite from performing their inherited responsibilities, no one thought to change clothes before venturing onto the courts. Pity the uncomfortable corseted ladies.

Men were first to catch on to the idea that tennis required special clothing. They began to wear whites on the tennis courts in the 19th century. Yet it was still improper for women to show too much ankle.

Even in the early part of the 20th century women still wore on the court whatever was the fashionable dress of the day. No matter how athletically inclined a female happened to be, she was still not liberated enough to expose shapely limbs.

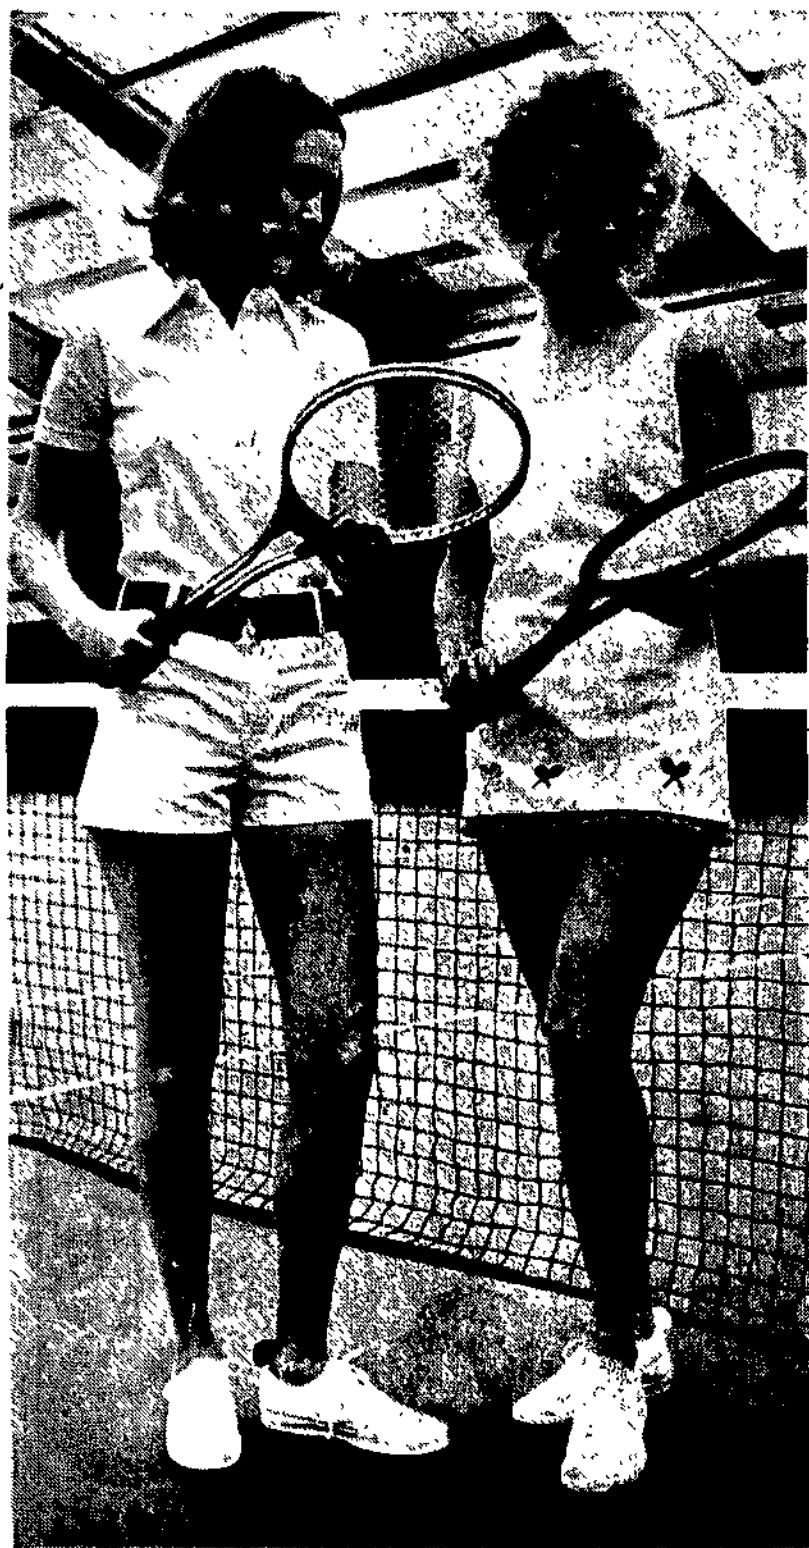

WOMEN'S FIRST costume consisted of a shirtwaist dress and wide brimmed hat. Mrs. Maud Wallach, national women's champion in 1908, wore a small cake of ice under her hat in an attempt to keep cool.

However, through the years female tennis attire has become increasingly abbreviated in keeping up with the times.

And do you want to know something? It's just as impossible to hide bulges in today's tennis dress as in that skimpy swimming suit.

(The accompanying pictures were taken at the Right Club in Schaumburg. The fashions are available at Aspen Ski and Sport in Arlington Heights or the Right Club.)

DIFFERENT AVENUES to tennis fashion. Resa Marsh models a favorite of the young female tennis player, hot pants coordinated with a knit top. The scooped neck tennis dress worn by Joyce Howard is individualized with appliques and trim.

The Catch In Marriage Contracts

by MARY SHERRY

Although it was considered quite laughable in the beginning, the marriage contract is obviously gaining in popularity. The kind of contract I am talking about is not the one made by the exchange of "I do's" but one where the work of maintaining a house and raising children — traditionally woman's work — is specifically divided between husband and wife.

As I faced a clean-up job after a party Saturday night, it suddenly occurred to me that a marriage contract wouldn't be all bad, especially if this were HIS night for the dishes.

I must admit my husband is pretty helpful around the house, and that he does assume a great deal of responsibility for the children. However, I thought it would be nice if I could depend on days off now and then.

So last night I decided to pursue the idea.

"What do you think about our writing up a marriage contract, dear?" I asked cautiously.

"HUM? HUH? CONTRACT?" he said from behind the newspaper. "Oh, didn't I tell you, we got it."

"I didn't mean for your company. I meant for our jobs here at home — laundry, dishes, cooking, kids."

"Just how would we go about that?" he asked suspiciously.

"Well, going by an article I read recently, I'd suggest that I would do the home laundry, and you would take care of the dry cleaning. I'd strip the beds, and you'd make them. I'd cook and clean up on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; you would have Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Sunday we would work together or eat out. All care of the kids would be mine for three days, yours for three days, and we would share one. What do you think?"

I expected him to hoot and howl and slap his knee or otherwise make fun of my proposal. But he was quiet and thoughtful.

"I THINK THIS would help boost my spirits over being tied to this mental labor," I explained.

My husband continued to think for a while. "It just might have some possibilities," he said thoughtfully.

"Really?" I was amazed. "Want to start right away? I'll make today my day for the kitchen." I offered generously.

"Don't you think we should work out the details first?"

"Details? What details?" I asked.

"Well, I'm thinking of those such as letting you cut the grass on the first and third Saturdays, and I'll take it on the second and fourth. I'll change the faucet washers in the bathroom and lavatory if you'll maintain those in the kitchen and basement. I'll paint the gutters on odd-numbered years; you do them on the even. When do you want to rotate the tires on the car?"

Suddenly I had the feeling that I was getting trapped, but I wasn't sure how to get out of it.

JUST IN TIME we were interrupted by the sound of a violent fight in the family room. My husband and I rushed in and demanded to know what was wrong.

The elder of our sons stopped beating his brother's head on the floor to say, "He says it's my turn to set the table; and I did it last night."

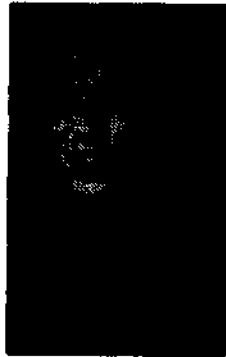

Our children don't exactly have a contract, but they do have a posted schedule dividing their chores. When it doesn't work out, they tend to solve their problem by the method they were just using.

Considering this I decided that spelling out work, subdividing the nits is not my way. I'd rather get by with a little help from a friend.

IN ADDITION TO A tennis dress, many sportswomen are also investing in warmup outfits, the kind Joyce Mangels is modeling. Billie Jean King, the first women athlete to make more than $100,000 in a single year, inspired this see-through lace tennis dress worn by Resa Marsh.

Bride Follows Tradition

When Barbara Ann Geething of Mount Prospect was married on April 15, she followed the bride's tradition of "something old, something new . . ."

For something old she wore her mother's original wedding band; something new was her eyelet lace wedding gown and Juliet cap with shoulder-length veil. Something borrowed was a handkerchief from her sister, Mrs. Linda Yoder of Des Plaines, who was her matron of honor; blue was a garter worn under her full-length gown.

And for luck, she carried a penny in

Barbara became the bride of Michael Guy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Guy of 121 W. Suffield, Arlington Heights. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Geething of 607 Ironwood Drive, Mount Prospect.

THE WEDDING took place at two in the afternoon in Prospect Heights Baptist Church, with a reception for 180 guests immediately following in the church hall.

Barbara wore traditional bridal white, her gown of eyelet lace designed with high neckline, Juliet sleeves and a long train. Her headpiece was a Juliet cap trimmed with pearls and lace, and she carried pink roses, lilies of the valley and baby's breath.

Her cousin, Carol Ann Plummer of Paulding, Ohio; Susan Shaffer, Mount Prospect; and the groom's sister, Deborah Guy, were bridesmaids, while 5-year-old Janet Finkbeiner of Mount Prospect served as flower girl.

The matron of honor wore lavender lace with Empire waistline and Juliet sleeves and her bouquet was composed of pink rosebuds, lilac stephanotis and white baby's breath.

One of the bridesmaids wore an identical lavender gown, and the two others wore pink in the same style. They all tied the pink lilac and white floral bouquets. Contrasting their attire, the flower girl was dressed in purple and carried a basket of pink rosebuds and baby's breath.

DANE DUVAL of Wheeling was Michael's best man, and groomsmen were Donald Yoder and Rodney Benson, Des Plaines, and David Banks, Arlington Heights.

The couple's brothers, Robert Geething and Larry Guy, seated the wedding guests. Barbara's other brother, 8-year-old Kevin, was ring bearer.

Among the special wedding guests were the groom's grandparents, Mrs. Earl Guy and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Tickle, here from Kansas for the festivities.

The newlyweds are living in Rosemont since returning from a two-week honeymoon at Disney World in Florida. Both work locally, Barbara for Shaffer Spring Co. in Elk Grove and Michael for Central Telephone in Des Plaines. Both are graduates of Wheeling High School.

Wed In Rainbow Setting

Standing beneath an arch covered with greenery and sprigs of baby's breath, Debra Gilley of Hanover Park became the bride of Pvt. Dana Willman Deerwester of Schaumburg on April 15. The wedding was solemnized at the altar of the First Baptist Church of Hoffman Estates.

At Debra's side were four attendants, each gowned in a pastel color of the rainbow — lilac, pink, yellow and aqua. The floral decorations in the church were also in rainbow shades, as was the frosting on the wedding cake served later at the reception at Streamwood Moose Lodge.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gilley of 1581 Ramblewood Drive, Hanover Park. Dana is the son of the Stephen Deerwesters of 708 Hingham Lane, Schaumburg.

For the 2 p.m. double ring ceremony she chose Susan Tompkins of Hoffman Estates as her maid of honor. Susan appeared in a lilac chignon and lace long-sleeved gown and carried a nosegay of white and lilac carnations.

Renay Deerwester, Dana's sister, wore pink chignon and lace and Patricia Boyle of Hoffman Estates wore the same dress in yellow as they came down the aisle as bridesmaids. Each of the girls had a nosegay of carnations in white and the color of her gown.

The aqua in the color scheme was worn by the 3-year-old flower girl, Shannon Christoff of Toledo, Ohio, who is the bride's godchild. She carried a white basket filled with mixed carnations.

A TRADITIONAL gown of silk organza over taffeta was Debra's choice for her wedding day. The dress had a high neckline, long full sleeves and a sweep train. Rows of embroidery accented the neck, cuffs, and Empire waist, and extended down the front of the dress from neck to hem.

A floral bonnet held the bride's two-tiered mantilla veil which was edged with embroidery to match her gown. She carried white French carnations, baby's breath and ivy in a cascade arrangement.

Pvt. Richard Berhite of Schaumburg served as best man and the couple's brothers, Rusty Gilley and Dana Deerwester, ushered.

The bridal pair spent a week's honeymoon in Leesville, La., before going to Ft. Leonard Wood to live.

With A Push From The Gov

ERA Up For Action In Assembly

by TOM LAUE

SPRINGFIELD (UPI) — The amendment to the U.S. Constitution guaranteeing women equal treatment is ready for action in both the Illinois House and Senate, but it took some arm-twisting by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to get it there.

The Senate Executive Committee Wednesday passed the ratification resolution with little trouble.

But its counterpart in the House seemed stymied because Committee Chairman Robert Juckett, R-Park Ridge, said even hearing testimony on the proposal would violate the Illinois Constitution.

Juckett referred to the provision that no proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution can be ratified by Illinois unless three-fifths of the legislature's members have been elected since the amendment was proposed.

CONGRESS THIS spring submitted the Equal Rights Amendment to the 50 states for ratification, long after Illinois lawmakers took their seats last January. Reps. Eugenia Chapman, D-Arlington Heights, and Giddy Dyer, R-Hinsdale, pleaded with Juckett to call the resolution, despite his constitutional concern.

"This legislature has passed bills contrary to the constitution before," Mrs. Dyer said. "Parochialism is a prime example. So I don't see what would be wrong with acting on this and then letting the courts decide its constitutionality."

But Juckett stood steadfast until both Ogilvie and House Speaker W. Robert Blair phoned Juckett, asking him to hear the measure.

"I believe I was right in the stand I took earlier," Juckett said in agreeing to call the bill.

"But out of deference to the House speaker and a personal request of the governor, a vote will be taken."

THE VOTE FINALLY came Wednesday evening as committee members, anxious to end their work, were walking out. Nearly lost in the shuffle were the comments of Rep. George Hudson, R-Hinsdale, who voted with House Majority Leader Henry Hyde, R-Chicago, against the proposal. Fifteen voted for it.

"This will lower the privileged status of women," Hudson said. "Why would you expect me to vote for something that eventually will do you immeasurable harm?"

Hudson held high a sheet of telegrams he said came from women too busy doing housework to testify in person against the equal rights resolution.

Hudson's remark drew groans from women who backed the proposal.

"Do you want to be drafted?" asked Hudson.

SHOUTS OF "YES!" and "Right on!" were his answer.

Hudson asked a cluster of women if they opposed alimony payments and one replied, "Of course. Alimony is such an injustice to men."

So far, 17 of the 38 states needed to ratify an amendment to the U.S. Constitution have approved the equal rights measure. Three-fifths of the members in each chamber must approve the resolution before Illinois joins them.

Meanwhile, Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott said he soon will issue an opinion on the validity of the constitutional question Juckett raised.

Florida's attorney general already has said he thinks a similar provision in Florida's charter is unconstitutional because it adds a standard no state may impose.

Panel Of Women To Appear At 'Y' Auxiliary Luncheon

Northwest Suburban YMCA Women's Auxiliary is poppin' with plans for its 12th annual spring luncheon, set for Wednesday, May 24, at Casa Royale, 783 Lee St., Des Plaines.

"A Panel of American Women" is the afternoon program. The panel consists of a group of women who are convinced that understanding and sharing are vital. Each relates a few experiences which have made a difference in the lives of the four — a Catholic, a Jew, a Black and a member of the White Majority.

None are professional speakers or official representatives of any other organizations. Their goal is to help bring people together, and they welcome all questions from their audience.

TICKETS FOR the May 24 luncheon are $4 and available at the 'Y' front desk. A noontime social hour precedes a buffet meal at 1 p.m.

At this final meeting of the club year for the Auxiliary, members who have given 100, 200 or 1,000 hours of service at the 'Y' will be honored with certificates and charms.

The women have a schedule of regular service in the snack bar, health club and swimming pool at Northwest Suburban YMCA, 380 E. Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines. They also help with office details when needed.

New recruits are always welcome. Anyone wishing to join the volunteers can call Mrs. Leonard Wander, membership chairman, at 382-7664.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick A. Texidor

Emphasize Family, Religion In Personalized Ceremony

Maralee Sue Camphouse and Patrick A. Texidor wanted to emphasize their belief in the important role of family life and religion in marriage. They did so by writing their own wedding ceremony around their beliefs.

Maralee and Patrick became man and wife in a candlelight double ring ceremony April 15 at Evangelical Free Church of Arlington Heights.

Maralee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee L. Camphouse, 194 W. Dulles Road, Des Plaines. Patrick is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Julio Texido, 130 Kemilworth, Elk Grove Village.

At 4 p.m. Maralee came down the aisle in a floor-length Shanahure white gown. A simple design of seed pearls and gold trim decorated the lace that formed a bib effect on the bodice and ran in three vertical lines down the A-line skirt. Her three-tiered, elbow-length veil was held by a Camelot crown trimmed in lace to match the gown. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and white stephanotis on a white Bible.

SUSAN J. PETERS, Arlington Heights, was maid of honor and bridesmaids included Marianne Hall and Mrs. Susan Schnell, both of Des Plaines; Chris Wiebe, Elk Grove; and Elaine and Sylvia Texidor, sisters of the groom.

The attendants wore aqua Juliet styled dresses with white lace trim on the bodice and sleeves and they carried colonial bouquets of blue carnations with white baby's breath.

Attending the groom were Robert Texidor, his twin brother, as best man and ushers Rick Murnane and Eric Dawson, Elk Grove; Robert DePrat, Hoffman Estates; and Jim and Chuck Camphouse, brothers of the bride.

Seven-year-old Lynn Texidor, a cousin of the groom, from Lincolnwood, was flower girl in a dress identical to the older attendants. She carried a basket of miniature aqua carnations and dropped rose petals on the floor before the bride.

TED CAMPHOUSE, 8-year-old cousin of the bride from Evergreen Park, was ring bearer.

A dinner reception for 175 guests was held following the ceremony at the Brasserie Restaurant, Arlington Heights. Afterwards the couple left for a week's honeymoon at Lake of the Ozarks.

Maralee is a 1969 graduate of Elk Grove High School and was a secretary with Universal Oil Products, Des Plaines. Patrick also graduated from Elk Grove High in '69 and is in his junior year at Northern Illinois University. He is currently employed with School District 300 in Carbondale, Ill., and has taken his bride there to live.

NOW Conference Will Probe Women's Status

An all-day conference on "Women: the Revolution" will be held Saturday at Kendall College in Evanston. It is sponsored by North Suburban Chapter of the National Organization for Women (NOW).

The conference consists of six workshops and two panel discussions.

Among the morning workshops is one on abortion, to be conducted by Patricia Stephenson of Arlington Heights. The other workshops are on divorce, marriage and family law; the Equal Rights Amendment; media image; volunteerism; and masculine-feminine mystique.

THE PANELS will discuss image vs. reality and women and the law.

The conference, running from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., is open to all. A $5 fee includes a box lunch and free day-care service for children.

Candi Morris of Palatine is a member of the coordinating committee for the seminar.

Service League Plans House Walk

A house walk in the Long Grove area is the upcoming fund-raiser of the Service League for Handicapped Children, and members will be holding a planning meeting Wednesday. The walk is set for Tuesday, June 6, with four homes chosen for their diversity of architecture and settings.

Chairman of the walk is Mrs. Charles Pipher of Long Grove who was instrumental in forming the league in 1965. The group, which consists of 15 women from Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Palatine and Long Grove, donate all funds to a center associated with the Easter Seal Society. The Society provides speech, physical and occupational therapy to anyone in the Chicago and suburban area regardless of the ability to pay.

Tickets for the walk are available from Mrs. Pipher, 438-7471, or Mrs. Jay Taylor, 289-4947.

Singles To Bowl

Suburban Singles will go bowling Friday evening at 7:45 at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights. All single men and women 30 and over are welcome to join the party.

Afterwards there will be snacks and conversation at a local restaurant. Irene Horn, 786-2812, can be called for details.

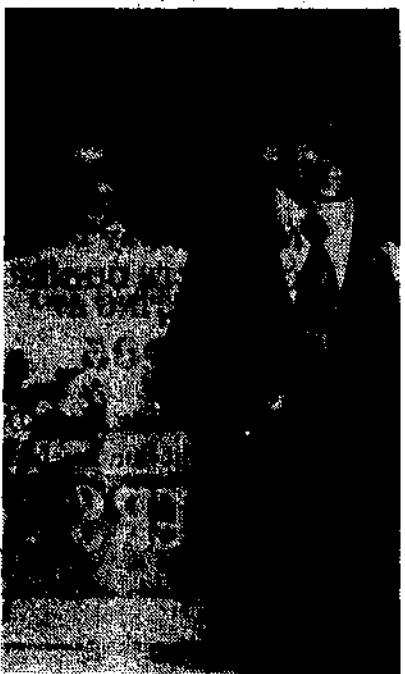

Take Camping Honeymoon

Jim Johannesen and his bride, the former Sue Wright, didn't take a real honeymoon following their April 1 wedding, but they will make up for it this summer. They are taking the entire summer for a camping honeymoon in Idaho, Utah and maybe Colorado.

Meanwhile they are residing with Jim's parents, the John B. Johannesens, 516 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights. Sue is the daughter of the Dean M. Wrights of Cincinnati, Ohio, who moved from Arlington Heights last October and are moving back in June.

A 1970 graduate of Arlington High School, Sue is a dental assistant in Arlington Heights and until her marriage resided in an apartment at 15 W. Davis, Arlington Heights. Jim, a '68 graduate of Arlington High School and a '71 graduate of the University of Oklahoma, teaches at Gordon Technical High School, Chicago.

The couple's wedding took place in First United Methodist Church, Arlington Heights. Sue's only attendant was her sister Peggy Crockett of Norman, Okla. Fred's best man was Roy Retberg of Norman; ushers were the couple's brothers, Larry Johannesen, Minneapolis, and Jim Wright, Cincinnati.

Schaumburg Club Gives Two $300 Scholarships

At the May meeting of Schaumburg Women's Club, two Schaumburg High School students were awarded $300 scholarships from the club's philanthropic fund.

Christine Johnston will begin pre-med studies at Loyola in September. Christine has long been fascinated with the biological sciences, particularly medicine.

Among her high school activities, Christine is copy editor of the Sentinel, takes part in the drama club and is a two-year member of the National Honor Society.

GINA BUCKLEY is enrolled in the school's diversified occupation program. After attending regular classes each morning, she spends her afternoons at John Lewis Palatine Beauty School studying cosmetology. Her first of a two-year course is free and the scholarship will assist in tuition for the next year.

Gina also works two night a week and weekends as a sales clerk in a department store. She sews most of her own clothes and those of her brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Merrill Johnston and Mrs. Eugene Buckley were at the club meeting to congratulate their daughters on their awards.

Mrs. Jack Bannister, club philanthropy chairman, and her committee reviewed the entries and determined selections. Mrs. Thomas Moss headed the ways and means committee which made the scholarships possible. Among the club's fund-raising events this year were a pumpkin sale, a dinner dance and fashion show.

"STOP EATING TRASH and be a smash" was Chapter 1093 of Schaumburg's banner for the recent Greater Chicago TOPS Area Recognition Days. It took third place. Mrs. Gene Seldomridge, left, lost 43 pounds to take first place in the area and state (for persons under 150 pounds). Mrs. Richard Orabutt earned recognition for Keeping Off Pounds Sensibly for a year. Both are in the Schaumburg chapter.

TOPS Loss Is A Gain

The weight lost by members of Chapter 1093 of Illinois TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) was really their gain during the Greater Chicago TOPS Area Recognition Days. The Schaumburg

Chapter, sponsored by the local park district, gained several top honors at the April 21-22 convention at the Conrad Hilton in Chicago.

Mrs. Gene Seldomridge of Streamwood, a member of the Schaumburg Chapter, earned a trophy for first place in division 5 (for persons under 150 pounds) in both the area and state contests.

For her record loss of 43 pounds, she may be going to Denver in July for the TOPS International Recognition Days.

MRS. RICHARD Orabutt of Schaumburg has maintained her desired weight loss for a year, thus earning recognition for KOPS (Keeping Off Pounds Sensibly) status.

The chapter also took a third place for its banner which was on display at the convention. It's slogan, "stop eating trash and be a smash," was characterized by Sesame Street's Oscar and his Trash Can.

Nine women from Chapter 1093 attended the area event, including the leader, Mrs. Thomas Nowotarski. The others were Mrs. Jack Solak, Mrs. Dave Stephens, Mrs. Joseph Kowaczek, Mrs. Mike Seeling, Mrs. Joseph Greco, Mrs. William Janopoulos, Mrs. Seldomridge and Mrs. Orabutt.

Feeling At Home With Securities

by HELEN HENNESSY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — To many women the financial pages of a newspaper are as familiar as their cousin. To others they are an enigma.

Before women's lib lowers the boom on me for staging out women in this instance, I hasten to say that the same is true of men. But they don't own 70 per cent of the country's investment money. And women do.

Still many women simply go to a man, be it husband, friend or professional money manager, and ask for advice.

"People simply don't realize how many options they have, how many different ways they can invest their money," said John C. Bogle, president of Wellington Management Co.

"MONEY CAN BE invested in a variety of ways, depending on each investor's goals and requirements," he added, "and investors should increase their knowledge of the market." Bogle, whose firm supervises more than $4.5 billion in mutual fund and investment counsel assets, pointed out that of the 480,000 individuals, families and institutions holding shares in the mutual funds they manage, 40 per cent or about 192,000 are women.

An understanding of the terms used in money management is the first step toward learning how to evaluate investment programs. And Bogle has defined the most frequently used terms in words that Holmes would have told Watson were "elementary."

MUTUAL FUND — Financial togetherness of a sort — you invest in a fund which then invests your money in a number of companies.

OPEN-END INVESTMENT COMPANIES — A mutual fund wherein the value of a share is computed by dividing the total value of the money invested by the total number of shares. New shares are continuously offered for sale or repurchase by the fund — thus "open end."

CLOSED-END FUNDS — Can be bought on the market the way one buys stocks.

INCOME FUND — A fund that invests in stocks or bonds that provide income for the shareholder.

GROWTH FUND — A mutual fund interested in seeking growth rather than current income.

SPECULATIVE FUND — A fund which aggressively seeks high growth by accepting the higher risk inherent in investing in stocks which may be unseasoned, have a volatile record or otherwise be a relatively lesser quality — without a tried and true track record.

SALES CHARGE — When you buy shares of a mutual fund, a portion of the price compensates the salesman and pays other distribution costs. Sales charges range from one per cent to 8½ per cent of the purchase price for most funds, with the percentage decreasing as the amount invested is increased.

ASSET VALUE PER SHARE — Mutual fund's net portfolio value (after deduction of all liabilities) divided by the number of shares outstanding.

NO LOAD FUNDS — These are bought and sold at asset value. What the stocks are worth on the market is what you pay. There is no commission charge for buying or selling. But included in the price of the stock is the cost of the necessary research.

LOAD FUND — These generally call for eight and one half per cent commission.

If you are part of that lucky 70 per cent of women investors, you probably don't need this special financial lexicon. But if you have stayed out of the market only because the lingo made you feel like a stranger in paradise, these clues may give you the security to feel at home with securities.

Obese Often Abused

The Fat Have A Friend In Dr. Mann

by PATRICIA McCORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — Fat is good and misunderstood if one is to place credence in Hippocrates' Aphorism 35. To wit:

"In all maladies, those who are fat about the belly do best. It is bad to be very thin and wasted there."

Dr. George V. Mann, cites the aphorism in a report titled "Obesity, the Nutritional Spook." He sympathizes with contemporary men and women plagued by experts, professional and otherwise, who view obesity as a moral issue.

"These people take the old-fashioned medical position which presumed that patients were sick because of their sins," says the associate professor in the departments of biochemistry and medicine, Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, Nashville, Tenn.

"THERE ARE ONLY a few of these 'immoral' diseases left in medicine — obesity, alcoholism, venereal disease and infectious mononucleosis."

The last has been called the kissing sickness. Case studies have linked necking with transmission of the ailment.

Dr. Mann, also a career investigator of the National Health and Lung Institute, in his report published in the American Journal of Public Health, says preachers over fat drive people into hands of quacks and frauds.

He reminds that obesity has some uses that are often forgotten. These include: flotation, filtration, starvation and insulation.

Yes, fat helps to keep one afloat, helps to keep one alive during periods of starvation (as when no food is available and one lives off one's fat, stored calories), helps insulate in cold weather and, where placed in certain ways on a female, leads to flirtation.

DR. MANN, who maintains that the obese often are abused, says the world would be healthier and happier probably if science and other forces in society would stop adulating the lean.

He would like to see a return to olden times when "fatness was good and desirable."

"It wore a white hat, while leanness was evil and mean and wore a black hat," he said. The transformation to "lean is good" has taken place especially during the last 50 years.

Dr. Mann also has old-fashioned views of the proper management of obesity: physical activity.

"We rarely see obesity in cultures where physical work is necessary," he says.

"Our only effective treatment, whether preventative or curative, is physical activity."

MEDICAL PRACTITIONERS, he gives this advice:

"There is no gain in driving fat people to faddists or to drink or to eternal anguish."

He recommends regular, vigorous exercise if a person really wants to reduce.

Dr. Mann said only extreme degrees of obesity carry health hazards. "The rest of us are not impaired by the 15 to 35 per cent of our body content which is fat," he said.

"The attainment of obesity is in fact a physiological goal accomplished in man's struggle with his environment. To be able to be obese is the badge of one's solution of his food problem — the fat man's cup runneth over."

Palatine Juniors Share The Wealth

Allocations totaling $3,900 have recently been dispersed by Palatine Junior Woman's Club.

Included in the total were three scholarships for $500 each: one to Palatine High, one to Fremd High and one to Harper College. School District 15 received $400 for a T-Matic Machine and Shadowscope Reading Center; the Countryside YMCA received $300 bringing the total contributions by the Juniors to $3,900.

St. Therese planned to buy a movie projector with its $200; Countryside Center for the Handicapped will buy gym equipment with its $300; the public library, an automatic slide projector and children's books with $150. Northwest Mental Health Clinic in Arlington Heights needed an addressing printing machine so were allocated $200 for the purchase. Palatine Leisure Club professed the need for money for bus trips. The Bridge, Northwest Community Hospital, St. Thomas of Villanova, St. Theresa and Immanuel Lutheran all received $50 each.

Sales Promotions Rules Will Help The Consumer

URBANA — Almost every shopper has been confused by promotions that claim "cents off," "economy size" and "introductory offer." What do they really mean?

The enforcement of some new regulations by the Food and Drug Administration and the Federal Trade Commission should eliminate the confusion, says Dorothy Goss, University of Illinois Extension home management specialist.

The regulations establish rules for the length and frequency of campaigns and define the term "regular price." Such rules will end those perpetual promotions based on artificial "regular price" designations.

Under the new rules consumers will be able to determine from the label the actual savings being offered. Shoppers can then make meaningful comparisons among brands.

Items qualifying for "cents off" labels must have been recently and regularly sold at a customary price in the promotional trade area. And promotions may not occur more than three times a year, with a lapse of at least 30 days between promotions. Any single size commodity may not be sold with cents off labeling for more than six months within a 12-month period. That regulation became effective Jan. 2.

AND AFTER JUNE 30 of this year, shoppers will be able to tell at a glance the savings involved in a "cents off" promotion. Such packages must be clearly labeled: "Price Marked is (amount) cents Off the Regular Price."

Miss Goss explains that "introductory offer" promotions must meet one of these criteria: the item being offered is a new product, a product has been substantially changed or the item is being introduced in a trade area for the first time.

Introductory offers are limited to six months, after which the product must be offered at a customary price for a reasonably substantial time.

Regulations on the use of the term "economy size" specify that at least one other size of the same brand must be offered and that only one package of that brand can be labeled "economy size." Packages labeled "economy size" must be priced at least five per cent less than the next highest price per unit offered by the sponsor.

The regulations on introductory offers and economy size became effective Dec. 31, 1971.

Grandma Was Right

When Grandma called washday drudgery day, she was right. Just 20 years ago, one study reports, it took 57 1/2 minutes and 625 steps just to hang, remove and fold eight pounds of clothes — after they were washed. Today, an automatic dryer cuts the time to 10 minutes and three steps.

Dear Dorothy: We seem to have an unusual number of spiders around our house. We have to be careful what we use as we have children and a dog. Is there anything that will do the job and not be dangerous? —Harvey K.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture continues to recommend a household spray containing lindane, malathion or ronnel. One of the state universities still recommends a household spray containing Baygon, diazinon, dichlorvos or ronnel. Art Instruction, Topic At Countryside

"Teaching Art by Skill or Concept" will be the topic discussed tonight by six art teachers at a program sponsored by Countryside Art Center.

John Doyle of Forest View, James Pink of Arlington, George Blanas of Maine West, Fred Welborn of Conant and David Ritter of Deerfield, will debate their individual ideas of art education on the high school level.

Barbara Housekeeper, artist, will represent adult education on the panel. Donna Read, education chairman of Countryside Art Center, will act as moderator.

A short business meeting and election of officers at 7:15 p.m. will precede the program which is open to the public. Countryside Art Center is located at 414 N. Vail in Arlington Heights.

"AND OVER YOU GO!" teased Mrs. Rudy Andrews and Mrs. Clark Sanford as they helped one of the children at Countryside Center for the Handicapped turn a somersault.

More equipment will soon be in the gym at Countryside, thanks to Palatine Juniors who included the Center in its list of club allocations.

Nixon's 'Guest' Comes Under Fire

by LESTER KINSOLVING

ST. LOUIS — President Nixon should be interested to learn that one of his White House guest preachers — whom he hailed as "one of our great Lutheran leaders" — has now announced:

"We believe that Jesus Christ is the only way to heaven and that all who die without faith in Him are eternally damned."

Nixon's "great Lutheran leader" is the Rev. Dr. J. A. O. Preus, president of the

2.8-million-member Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod — whose embattled liberals, taking cognizance of President Preus' initials, as well as his methods of 'leadership', coined the phrase: "Freedom now — with Chairman Jao!"

As an example, Preus has for the past two years been leading the most absurd heresy hunt since the Scopes "Monkey Trial" — with just about as much success as that Tennessee judicial circus had in suppressing the teaching of the theory of evolution.

PREUS' TARGET has been the third largest theological seminary (700 students) in the nation, Concordia, in St. Louis. And after two years of this hilarious holy inquisition, the mountain, having labored, has now brought forth a mouse — in the unsuccessful attempt to fire and later to suppress the teaching rights of just one of Concordia's 50 professors, the Rev. Dr. Arlie Ehlen.

Dr. Ehlen, explained Preus in an open letter to the Missouri Synod's membership, was questioned for "considerable time" last Dec. 13, "regarding the existence of angels and a personal devil." Furthermore, wrote Nixon's great Lutheran leader, Ehlen "did not believe certain miraculous events recorded in Scripture in connection with the Exodus had actually taken place."

CONCORDIA'S president, the Rev. John Tietjen, has defied Dr. Preus' directive that Professor Ehlen be prohibited from teaching any Biblical courses. Tietjen noted the limitations on what a professor may teach must be stated in writing at the time of his appointment — according to the denomination's own by-laws.

"If I were to carry out President Preus' directive," observed Tietjen, "I would be responsible for a course of action which — because it bypasses the authority and responsibility of the Seminary's Board of Control, faculty and administration — would have serious consequences for the accreditation not only of this seminary, but of every accredited institution in the Missouri Synod."

At the time of this writing, a team of examiners from the American Association of Theological Schools, the nation's theological seminary accrediting agency, had arrived on the Concordia campus to investigate the Preus-probe. Their report is due sometime this spring.

In addition to the medieval antics of Preus, Dr. Tietjen has an additional cross to bear, in that Chairman Jao's brother, the Rev. Robert Preus, is still a member of the Concordia faculty.

"THAT 'BROTHER Bob' may well be the evil genius behind President Preus' great assault on Concordia Seminary is indicated, among other reasons, by an incident which this writer observed in a hallway just behind the speaker's platform at the Missouri Synod's national convention last summer in Milwaukee.

I came upon Robert Preus even as he was in the act of trying to pressure the elderly convention parliamentarian, William Von Spreckelson, of Orlando, Fla.

And just prior to Preus' almost indescribable outburst of rage when he found himself caught in this act, I distinctly recall hearing him say to the Parliamentarian "Regardless of what Jack says..."

"Jack" is the Rev. President J.A.O. Preus, who comes up for reelection in July of 1973 at the New Orleans convention, of a denomination which he has so significantly caused to live up to the familiar nickname of "The Misery Synod."

Oswald: "Artificial conventions are essential to good bridge. You should play some as a matter of course. Blackwood as a starter. On the other hand, you don't whip a good horse to death. You don't need to use Blackwood in all your slam bidding."

Jim: "The first thing to learn about Blackwood is that it is primarily a method of keeping out of slams. Take the South hand as an example. South is interested in a slam the moment his partner opens the bidding. When his partner's second bid is a jump raise in hearts, South knows that the material is there for a slam. All that matters is the number of aces held by his partner."

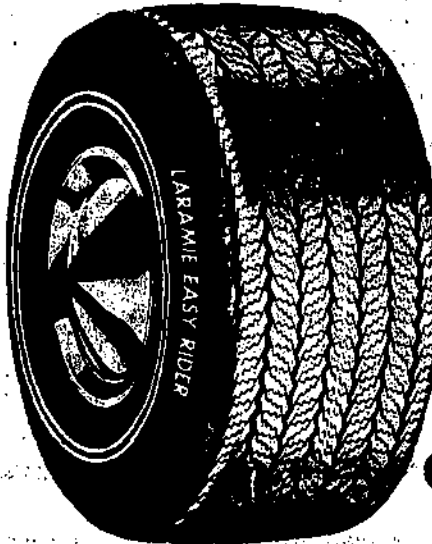

Oswald: "Our example is a classic Blackwood hand. South has 16 points in high cards, plus a lot of distributional points. He knows the total partnership count has to be in the grand-slam zone. More important, he knows that he can set the final contract the moment his partner tells him how many aces he holds."

Jim: "He is mighty disappointed when the best North can do is to bid five hearts in response to the Blackwood call. Not that North doesn't have a sound three-heart bid but, rather, that South expected North to show up with three or even four aces for his bid. He is also happy that Blackwood has kept him out of trouble."

Give her a cuddly bundle of love for Mother's Day

At Puppy Palace, a small deposit will hold him.
And you can take up to two years to pay.

This Mother's Day, let a puppy snuggle its way into Mom's heart. Puppy Palace will help you choose just the perfect puppy from 43 different breeds.

"We'll sell you the right puppy—or no puppy at all!"

But we won't let you walk out of Puppy Palace with just any old breed. Because it doesn't make sense to match a big, active dog to a small apartment. Or a tiny, delicate puppy to a family with lots of young, hard-playing children. Or a puppy who sheds easily to a Mom who has lots of dark, nubby upholstery.

So we'll ask some important questions. Questions about your home. And about your furniture. And about Mom's temperament. Then we'll help you pick out a puppy Mom will be certain to love.

2 years to pay

And just to make Mother's Day easier on your pocketbook, we'll let you take up to two years to pay for your puppy. We accept Master Charge, BankAmericard, Carte Blanche and Diner's Club.

He'll live 10 years or we'll help pay

Every Puppy Palace puppy is a purebred. Every puppy has undergone an extensive health program. Every one has his puppy shots. We're so confident of our puppies that we make this promise:

Your puppy will live at least 10 years — or we'll contribute to the price of a new one from Puppy Palace. (Naturally, we expect you to take reasonable care of your puppy. And you should check him with a veterinarian soon after purchase.)

Come in now

Come into Puppy Palace today. (We'll be getting busier and busier as Mother's Day comes closer.) Let a cuddly bundle of love say Happy Mother's Day for you.

While Neighbor Dozed, Shooting Incident Ended

by KURT BAER

"The suspect is believed to be a red pickup truck and should be considered armed and dangerous . . ."

The police radio operator's broadcast crackled through the sultry Friday morning air, notifying Cook County Sheriff's Police of a shotgun shooting in the Deer Grove Forest Preserve.

For nearly two hours, Cook County and Rolling Meadows police squad cars followed the progress of the red truck southward to a small frame house in Rolling Meadows, where Richard Salinas eventually was arrested.

Salinas had come to the home of P. T. Watkins, 2211 Fulle St., as part of a three-man crew of a blacktop company, which had been hired to resurface the driveway in front of the Watkins house.

The police were waiting near the house for the arrival of a third county squad car. After it got there, they planned to move in and make their arrest.

Then police observed Salinas and a fellow worker, who was not charged, mount a yellow construction tractor parked near the driveway and head west down Fulle Street.

ROLLING MEADOWS Patrolman John Drezen drove his squad car east on Fulle back out to Central Road, where he turned west and sped to Jay Street.

Drezen positioned his car at the intersection of Jay and Fulle streets, blocking the suspect's escape route.

County and Rolling Meadows squad cars closed in immediately behind the tractor. With drawn pistols, they ordered Salinas and the second man off the tractor. Both men were told to lie face down on the grass, where Salinas was quickly handcuffed.

The arrest had been planned and executed with precision.

Police searched the pickup truck and the area around the Watkins house looking for the sawed-off shotgun Salinas allegedly used in the shooting. They did not find it.

COOK COUNTY Sheriff's Police later recovered the weapon at Salinas' house in Palatine Township.

The movements of five squad cars on the usually quiet residential street drew curious residents to their windows and front doorways. But there wasn't much action to be seen.

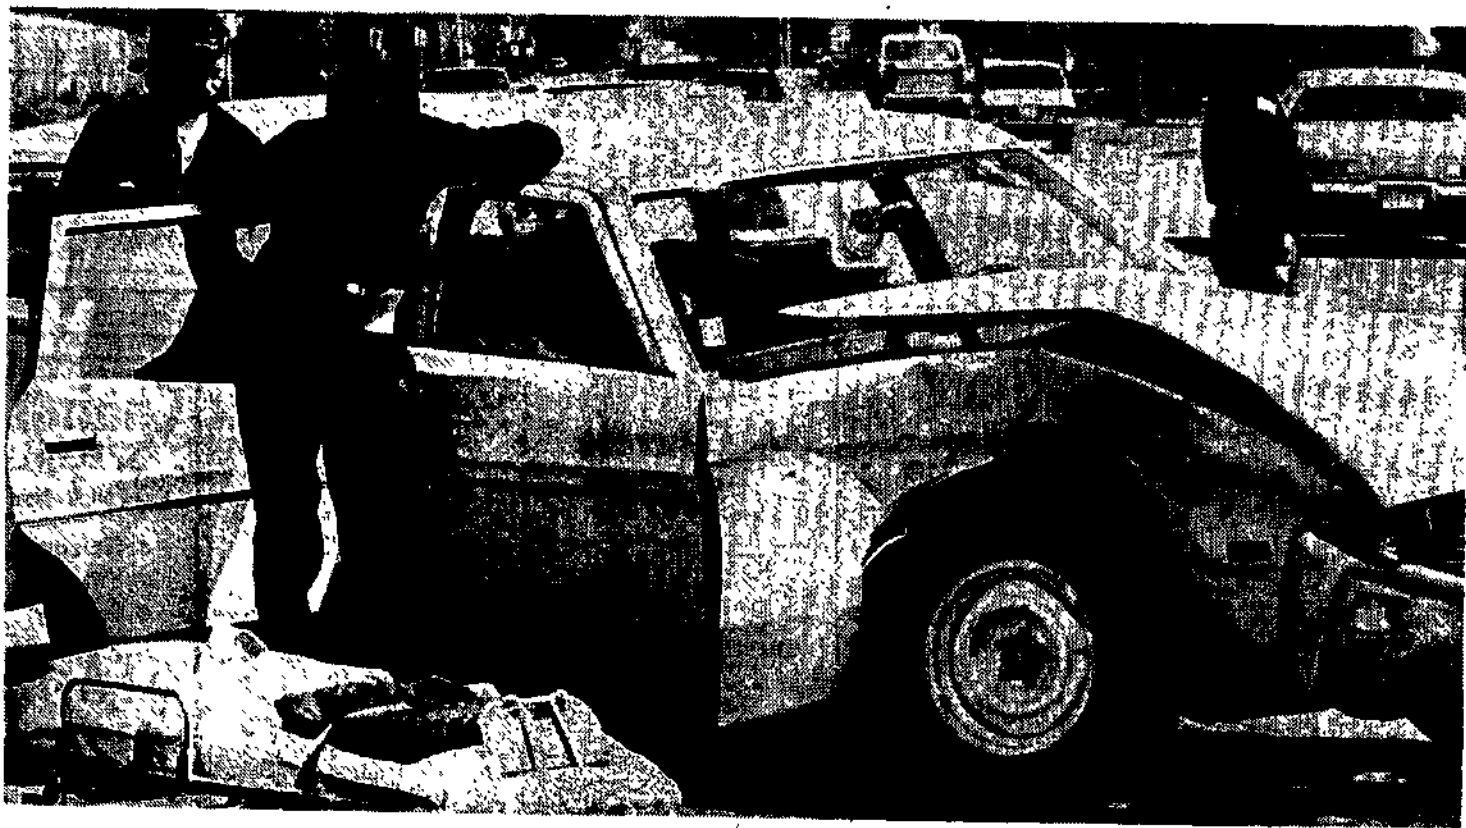

Salinas did not struggle when taken into custody and not a shot was fired.

On the other side of Fulle Street, an elderly man sat on a lawn chair in front of his house enjoying the warm afternoon sun and looking as if nothing had happened.

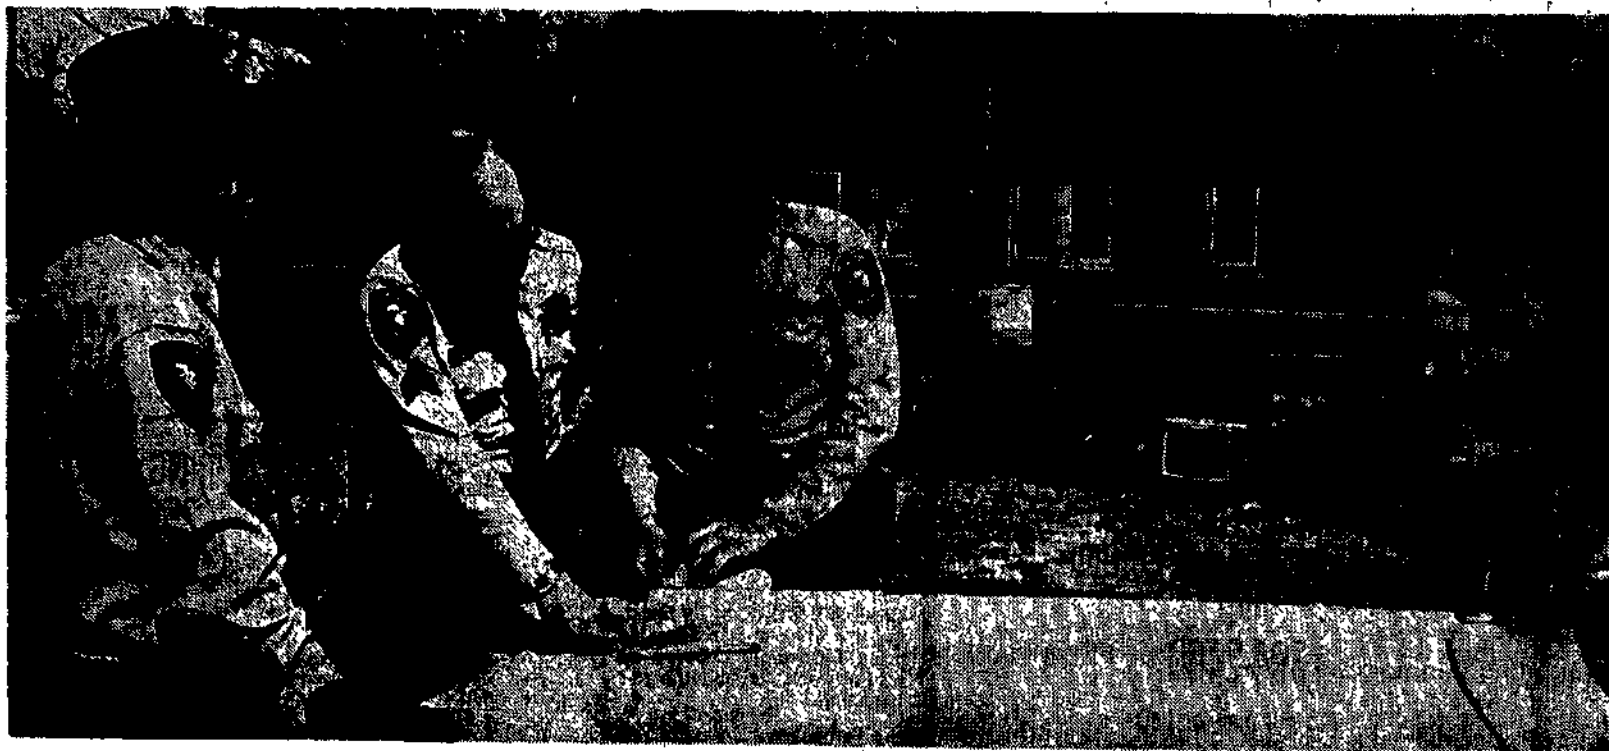

COOK COUNTY AND ROLLING MEADOWS police handcuff Richard Salinas, 26, in Rolling Meadows two hours after he allegedly fired a shotgun at a man in the Deer Grove Forest Preserve north of Palatine. Salinas and the man on the ground, a fellow workman who was not charged, had been ordered off a small construction tractor along Fulle Street where they had gone to resurface a driveway. Salinas allegedly shot 24-year-old Jose Lopez of Chicago after he discovered him in a car with his wife, Pauline Salinas. He has been charged with attempted murder.

District Play Resumes Today For Area Nines

A rained out contest at Wheeling and an interdivisional rivalry at Hersey are the two district openers on tap for Monday afternoon, rounding out leadoff action in the area for state baseball championship contention.

On the Wildest diamond a match between the hosts and Lake Forest initially scheduled for Saturday has been moved over to the afternoon at 4:00 and the other games in that five-team tourney have also subsequently been moved back one day each.

Wet grounds forced cancellation of the Cat Saturday lifter.

At Hersey's five-team affair Prospect and Forest View — two South Division members of the Mid-Suburban League — will collide at 4:30 p.m. today. The Knights, on a five-game league winning binge — will be anxious to try to make amends for their last conference loss. It was dealt out by the Falcons 7-6.

Wheeling's gathering will continue tomorrow with Highland Park meeting Stevenson, and on Wednesday Deerfield is slated to take on the winner of today's hookup. The victors in the Tuesday and Wednesday games will then take each other on next Thursday, weather permitting, for the title and the opportunity to advance to regional competition.

All games in the Wheeling tournament will start at 4 p.m.

The meet hosted by the Huskies will continue tomorrow with St. Viator tackling Hersey and on Wednesday Arlington is preparing to go against the winner of today's Prospect-Forest View tilt. At Hersey also, the championship game is billed for Thursday and all games in this arena will begin at 4:30 p.m.

In other district action thus far, Palatine, Fremd and Schaumburg have been eliminated from the Barrington tourney and the host Broncos will meet up with Conant today at 4:15 for the first place slot.

At Lake Park Friday the hosting Lancers dumped Elk Grove and today Rolling Meadows plays Glenbard North. Tomorrow at Roselle, Fenton will confront Lake Park and the winner of this match will advance to Wednesday's finale against the club emerging from today's bout.

All games at Lake Park kick off at 4:30 p.m.

Elk Grove Makes Top Area Showing In Falcon Invite

Track & Field Editor

For the second week in a row, Addison Trail made quite an impression on Herold area track fans in the Falcon Invitational at Forest View Friday night.

The Blazers, featuring a double-winning sprinter and a record-breaking long jumper, easily breezed to the team title of the seventh annual meet with 77 points to 52 for Willowbrook and 51 for Elk Grove, the only Herald territory team with more than 25.

This came less than a week after Addison had finished a strong second in the 17-team Class A division of the Palatine Relays.

Eight Mid-Suburban League teams were entered in the 12-squad field, but none were really in contention after about the halfway point of the finals. Until that point, Elk Grove — led again by standout hurdler Frank Taucher — had shown signs of threatening, but Addison Trail's depth proved to be too much.

Taucher was probably top MSL performer on display and one of only two double-winners with :15.1 in the 120-yard high hurdles and :20.5 in the 180 lows.

Two other standout performances from the area were a 1:57.2 880-yard run time by Wheeling's Bill Schumann (his best of the spring and second best on the Herald area honor roll) and a 53-1½ shot put by Arlington's Mark Chidley. (Mark owns the top mark this year with 53-11.)

Performances all around were hampered by a light rain which fell during most of the finals, preventing what undoubtedly would have been more meet records and more personal highs. But at least the weatherman obliged enough to hold off heavier rains until after the affair was over.

Besides the firsts by Taucher, Schumann and Chidley, the area recorded two more victories — by Elk Grove's Damian Archbold in the two-mile run and Conant's Doug Paape with 12-4 in the pole vault. These were Archbold's and Paape's best efforts of the season.

Three meet records were set and a fourth one tied. The first was a 22-¾ long jump by Jack Pelland of Addison. Teammate Rowan followed by tying the high jump standard of 6-5 and the Blazers' 880-yard relay team set a third mark with 1:31.0. The other record was by Willowbrook's John Hudecek with :50.4 in the 440-yard dash.

But speedy Earl Strickert was the scoring star of the night for Addison, winning the 180-yard dash in :10.3 and the 220 in :23.2. The damp conditions probably prevented him from approaching his respective highs of :9.8 and :21.5.

There were some other fine showings for the area among second places. One of nings, as the game was squeezed in between showers Friday and Saturday nights. The field dried just enough to be played on, delaying the contest a half hour.

The wind was blowing out at a brisk clip and hitters took full advantage. Half of the 18 hits were for extra bases — six doubles and three home runs.

A two-run homer by Conant catcher Steve Andrews in the last of the eighth finally decided it. Earlier, the Cougars' Keith Steelman and the Vikings' Terry Kukla also had slugged round-trippers.

Battles Barrington For Title

Conant Sends Fremd To Sidelines

by LARRY EVERHART

It seems that whenever Conant and Fremd battle on the baseball field, there's a lot at stake.

Last year the teams met twice — for the Barrington District crown (Conant won) and for the Mid-Suburban League championship (Fremd won, two days later).

This year, again at Barrington, it was only a district opener when the same two squads clashed. But the game meant a lot, for both clubs have been somewhat in slumps and both wanted the victory.

Conant finally got it, 6-4 in eight in-

Track & Field Editor

National honors on the high school level are usually only mythical, not official — like the estimation of most observers who say Thornridge had the best basketball team in the country this year.

Fremd's freshman cross country team, however, can legitimately call itself the best in the country with no arguments. The team has the times and the award to prove it.

Fremd was given the top national harrier citation on the frosh level by the United States Track and Field Federation on the basis of times turned in from all around the country from last fall. It took some time to confirm all of the results, but the official announcement was made recently in the Track and Field News, national bible of the sport.

"This is a bona fide award," said Fremd head cross country coach Ron Menely. "There were witnesses to show that everything was legal and that times were accurate. The contest is endorsed by both the USTFF and the Track and Field News."

Fremd's frosh were entered in the five-man, three-mile postal competition, one of several divisions. Standings were based on the total combined times of five boys, each of whom ran three miles in a time trial in November, the week after the season ended.

Menely explained the competition, saying: "You run as many guys as you want, whenever and wherever you want sometime during the fall. It can be under any conditions — in a meet or in time trials — with the regular rules. That means you can't have people running around the track with the runners helping to pace them."

"We ran our boys one day in poor weather, just because we were curious to find out how they would stack up nationally. I feel we actually could have had better times with better mental preparation."

The five Vikings, all 14-year-old freshmen, combined for 24 minutes, 23.4 seconds in their three-mile stints. Jim Galis was the leader with 16:38.6. Wilson Fieldhouse was timed in 16:49.4, Clay Pittenger 16:53.8, Eric Inbody 16:54.9 and Paul Kinyon 17:07.6.

The state of California dominated the contest as it usually does. The only other Illinois team on the top lists was Riverside-Brookfield which was fourth on the varsity level.

Fremd's varsity, which finished eighth in the state meet, did not enter the competition this year as Menely felt "it would have been anti-climactic after the state meet." Next year, however, the varsity will enter along with the freshmen.

TIRED BUT HAPPY is Elk Grove distance runner Friday night. Archbold's winning time was 9:34.7, to finish third behind Addison Trail and Willowbrook. easily his best of the year, as he helped Elk Grove

Mid-Suburban Baseball Leaders

by LARRY EVERHART

Now Hersey's baseball team has its fate in its own hands. The Huskies don't have to depend on help from anyone else.

All coach Steve Chernick's team has to do is win one of its remaining two Mid-Suburban League games to clinch the North Division title.

The Huskies took another giant step toward the North pinnacle and league championship game last Friday when they locked up no worse than a tie for first with a crucial 4-1 victory over hot Fremd.

For the Vikings, it was a win-or-lose situation and it turned out to be "or else." They are mathematically eliminated from contention with a 4-1 division record.

Hersey, 6-2, is now a game and a half ahead of Arlington and Wheeling, each with a 5-4 North record. (Wheeling beat Arlington Friday, which was just what the Huskies were hoping for).

Three-hit pitching by strong right-hander Mark Leonhard and a two-run home run by Steve Kuebler to cap a decisive three-run sixth inning spelled victory for the guests. Doug Pettit went the distance for Fremd but saw his record slip to 4-2 under an eight-hit attack. Leonhard notched his fourth triumph in five decisions.

It was quite a pitchers' duel for four innings — during which time the game saw only three hits — until Hersey finally broke the ice with a singleton in the fifth. It all started with two out and nobody on.

Matt Loris legged out an infield hit, stole second and scored on Pat Broderick's solid single to left.

Hersey gained breathing room and gave Leonhard all the help he needed in the following frame. Mark started it off, aiding his own cause with a one-out double and scoring the winning run on torrid-hitting Brad Smith's single.

Kuebler followed with a line drive over the left field fence for another pair.

Fremd averted a shutout in the sixth when Mark Pettit, batterymate of his brother, stroked a one-out double. He advanced on Bill Peterson's sharp single and scored on Jesse Bell's sacrifice fly.

Both sides went down in order in the seventh (after two excellent catches by Peterson in right field) and the North crown suddenly was right at the Huskies' feet, waiting to be grabbed.

Prospect Slams Glenbard

Prospect strengthened its hold on first place in the South Division of the Mid-Suburban League with a resounding 13-0 triumph over host Glenbard North.

The Knights erupted for 15 hits in the onslaught that featured an eight-run fifth frame. Hurlers Jim Dumke and Bob MacAskill, meanwhile, combined for the whitewash while limiting the Panthers to just four safeties.

The Prospect assault began in the second when singles by Val Graffiti and Gus Esposito produced a run. Base hits by George Kman and Dennis Tite, coupled with an error, added another score in the second.

Consecutive singles by Esposito, Ken Kaliber and Dumke made it 3-0 after four innings and set the stage for the big fifth.

A dozen Knights paraded to the plate in the eight-run deluge that was catalyzed by two Glenbard errors. The first six Prospect batters up in the inning scored as Tite singled, Paul Obuchowski singled, Jim Prandini doubled, Graffiti singled, Esposito walked and Steve Mahanna singled.

The winners closed out the scoring with two more in the seventh as MacAskill walked, Dumke singled, Tite earned a pass and Obuchowski ripped a base hit.

By the time it had subsided, every member in the Prospect starting lineup had at least one hit.

Conant Eliminates Fremd

Steelman had three hits, including a double besides his homer, and drove in four runs. Mike Cody also had three hits and hot-hitting Gary Pemberton two for the winners.

Conant pitcher Bill Arkus hung in the full eight innings for the win in a creditable performance. He walked two and struck out nine. Ken Roggenbach also went all the way for Fremd, giving up 12 hits but walking just one and fanning eight.

Kukla broke the scoring ice in the third with his homer to left after a two-out double by Jesse Bell.

The Cougars came right back to match that deuce in the same frame, also starting with two out and no one on. After a walk to Arkus and single by Bill Gannon, Steelman doubled in both runs.

Conant took a 4-2 lead in the fifth when Arkus reached on an error and Steelman blasted his homer to right-center. But again the game was quickly tied in the sixth on a walk, error, and run-scoring doubles by Doug Pettit and Mark Pettit.

Bell gave everyone a start with two out in the seventh when he lined one out of the park but barely foul.

Given this reprieve, Conant won it with one out in the eighth when Chet Pudlosky singled and Andrews followed the script of the day with his check swing.

If the field dries in time, Conant will take on host Barrington today at 4:30 for the district title.

Costly Errors Nail Schaumburg

by LARRY EVERHART

Some costly errors leading to a 4-0 deficit by the second inning and stingy pitching proved too much for Schaumburg to overcome as the Saxons fell 6-2 to Barrington at the hosts' district meet Saturday afternoon.

Schaumburg had advanced with a first-round victory over Palatine, but their five errors — three of them resulting in three unearned runs in the second inning — led to the Saxons' elimination from further tournament play.

All that Schaumburg won was a coin toss designating it as home team. That meant Barrington batted first, and the Broncos wasted no time scoring three runs off starter Glenn Hayes on two walks, three singles and an error. Mike Schwartzburg, Bill Jarrett and John Koenen drove in the rallies.

The lead grew to 6-0 in the second because of the Saxons' generosity. Two more singles and the three miscues allowed the rest of Barrington's scoring.

Ken Gast, Schaumburg's fine lefty, relieved on the mound in the third and turned in four innings of excellent, two-hit ball. Meanwhile, the Saxons never gave up, with their two runs in the sixth averted a shutout and knocking out starter and winner Steve Perry.

The scoring started when Sam Aiello walked and Marty Hjerstad reached on an error. A single by Jeff Larson and double by John Blasco that hugged the the top ones was a :51.2 for George Busse of Prospect in the 440-yard dash. This was the second-best time in that event in the Herald area this year and Busse's best, beating the :51.3 he ran in the Prospect Invitational.

Elk Grove had three runners-up — Brian Powell with :40.8 in the two-mile run, Dave Jensen with :29.6 in the low hurdles and Jim Leopardo with 141-3 in the discus throw.

Other seconds were by Rich Hammesfahr of Hersey with 6-1 in the high jump, the Huskies' mile relay team with 3:31.5, and Scott Clark of Conant with 11-6 in the pole vault.

Four other vaulters — including Steve Sucher of Hersey and Jim Peepor of Elk Grove — also went 11-6, but Clark got second on the basis of fewest misses.

Leopardo's discus toss was the same as the winning throw but he was edged on the basis of second-longest throw.

Viator Golfers Run Skein To 51; Grove Fires 159

Golf Editor

Non-conference dual meets highlighted a skeleton golf schedule Thursday afternoon, but despite the fact that neither the Mid-Suburban nor Suburban Catholic standings were altered, the three matches still provided some interesting developments.

LIONS PROLONG STREAK

For the second time this season, St. Viator had its hands full with Palatine — one of the MSL's seriously-challenging teams. But the Lions, as they had earlier in the campaign, fired one of their better rounds of the season in running their incomparable dual-meet skins to 51 straight, 155-162.

Viator, the owner of the top perch in the SCC with a 4-0 mark and who stands 9-0-1 on the season, carded freshman Mickey Fitten's medalist 20, Larry White's 36, Terry McDonald's 40 and Dan Jarzembky's 41 en route to the triumph.

Other Lion scorers included Vic Incinelli and Mike Brawley who shot identical 49's and Ray Carroll who contributed a 42.

Palatine's Jim Sobczynski and John Lonergan toured Rob Roy in impressive 39's, but the Pirates couldn't match Viator's overall depth and balance. Dave Hafner notched a 42, Bob Capoun a 44, Doug Fyfe and Mike Long 46's and John Capoun a 47.

The frosh-soph Lions upped their overall mark to 7-3 with a 176-192 victory over their Pirate counterparts. The Palatine underclassmen are keepers of a 4-7 overall standard.

GRENADIERS HIT SEASON LOW
The fact that White Pines Country Club was playing very short enabled Elk Grove to record a sparkling 159 — a full nine strokes better than its previous best round of 168.

Fenton toured its home grounds in even greater precision while ringing up a 168-159 verdict. The teams played the par 34 nine at White Pines.

Grenadier Mark Okuma shared three-way medalist honors with a snappy 35 while teammate Scott Walker chipped in with a 40. Keith Moore needed 40 strokes, Dave Chersick 44, Ernie Woolard 45, Todd Gander 47 and John Bishop and Tim Evans, both 42.

The Blaine's stellar achievement came from 36's from Rick Garcia and Dan Fischer and 38's from Scott Day, Dave Nichols and Mike Bobat.

Fenton also captured the frosh-soph competition, 170-178.

COUGARS SUFFER HEARTBREAKER
Conant travelled to St. Andrews Country Club to battle St. Edward of Elgin, but came home stinging from a one-stroke setback. Despite the Cougars' third straight round in the 160's, St. Ed conquered by the minimum margin of 166-167.

Conant's Dave Love was easily the meet's medalist after a nifty round of 35. Support came from Eric Brewer's 41, 44's by Chris Dilger and Kevin Eakins, a 45 by Keith Kellogg, 50 from Dave Demack and a 54 by Mike Ryan.

St. Edward bunched the 41's of Marv Warner and Tom Coffey with the 42's of Denny Butzow and Terry Carlson for the triumph.

It was nearly the same story on the frosh-soph level as the Cougars dropped another close decision, 194-197.

A Spring Oil Change Is Indicated

The long winter's nap apparently didn't do any favors for some of the players in Union Oil Men's Twilight Golf League at Palatine Hills.

They might brag that they shot in the low 70's in their first night out, which would be great if it were an 18-hole league. On the other hand, opening night jitters didn't bother Russ Brown and Jim Cuipepper on Monday. Both had low nets of 36. Low gross Monday night was a 40 shot by Paul Ruttkar.

Birdies were shot by Ruttkar, Denny

Sharbaro, Cuipepper and Bob Evans. Tuesday night Lou Mehl had a low net of 37 and also low gross of 41.

There's no such thing as a sloppy bird but Mehl hooked his tee shot on the 9th into the heavily wooded rough, hooked a 4 wood into the right trap and then punched a 40-footer into the cup. Lee LeClaire shot a neat birdie on the popular 7th.

Maximum 3 putts were earned by Brown, Cuipepper, Howard Farra, Ruttkar, Sharbaro, Bob Scott and Hank Vrieland.

While Cardinal Netmen Roll Along

Tense Race For Runnerup Position

by PAUL LOGAN
Tennis Editor

The Mid-Suburban League tennis coaches had a meeting last week during which there was talk about ousting Arlington from the conference. The reason — Arlington never loses.

Although 11 coaches were kidding with Cardinal coach Tom Pitchford, it's a joke that his team seems invincible, at least against MSL competition.

Thursday afternoon was no exception as the Cardinals posted their sixth shut-out in as many tries with Fremd being their victim. One coach put it this way, "With Arlington out of the league, it would be one heck of a race."

There still is a race, but for runnerup honors. Five teams — Elk Grove, Hersey, Palatine, Forest View and Prospect — are still in the running with one more week of dual meets remaining. Only the Knights failed to keep pace by losing to Forest View.

Finally, in a meet involving the last place teams in the league, Schaumburg won its first MSL contest of the season over winless Glenbard North.

SCHAUMBURG 4, GLENBARD N. 1
"That's the first time they've won in three sets," said a happy Jeff Buchik. However, the two three-set victories by his Saxons made it the second time.

Dale Fenwick, playing at second singles, took three before disposing of Ben Homola, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. Fenwick also notched a triple victory against Hersey earlier in the season to help his team avoid a shutout. Hersey coach Lother Peistrup could quickly refresh the Cougar coach's memory for the Huskies are presently trailing second-place Elk Grove by just a one-point margin.

Also capturing a three-set match was the second doubles team of Rich Reese and Bob Hommewunt. The duo stopped Mark Ables and Jeff Hewat, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Posting the other wins were Bill Hommewunt over Finn Torjesen, 11-9, 6-4, and Randy Madon over Ted Anderson, 6-2, 6-3.

Dropping the other triple set for Schaumburg was the team of Pete Blohl and Larry Willer. They lost to Glenn Coulomb and Walt Keefe, 11-9, 6-8, 4-6.

ELK GROVE 4, CONANT 1

The Grenadiers of Coach Ken Rundquist just barely managed to stay a point ahead of Hersey. However, had all of the three-set matches gone the way of first singles, the Cougars would have won and the Grenadiers would have been down quite a few notches in the standings.

Conant's Buddy Edmondson beat Mark Greenberg, 3-4, 7-5, 6-4, in first singles. The Grove won the rest of the way, but not without a couple of real tough fights:

Len Greenberg over Marty Rohr, 6-3, 6-4; Ken Pollitz over Jim Michaels, 3-6, 6-0, 7-5; Mike Smith and Jim Siebold over Bruce Koehler and Vince Kirby, 4-6, 10-8, 6-2; and Scott Holste and Bruce Kinn over Mike Hennessy and Chuck Evans, 6-1, 6-4.

HERSEY 4, WHEELING 1

The Huskies were expected by some to sweep the Wildcats, winners only once in the league. However, Mark Shiozaki figured otherwise. Wheeling's third singles player defeated Tom Cassidy, 6-3, 6-2.

Hersey had its way the remainder of the meet, but that match cost it a share of second with Elk Grove. Here was how the other four matches went:

Chuck Oldenburg over Vern Fish, 6-1, 6-3; Dave Schunk over Dave McAllister, 6-4, 7-5; Jeff Seeger and Guy Spinks over John Kyle and Chris Pienta, 6-4, 6-0; and Bob Melches and Carl Bierdeman over Tim Havorsen and Dave Neukuchatz, 6-1, 6-1.

FOREST VIEW 3, PROSPECT 2

Causing a little stir around the league was the Falcons upset of the Knights. Making the two teams fairly even, according to Falcon coach Doug Tolman, was the loss of Mike Gross. He had been playing first doubles until an appendicitis attack put him in the hospital last week.

Prospect's misfortune proved Forest View's gain.

"They're the guys who won it for us," said Tolman referring to his doubles team of Joe Karwinski and Mike Korth. This sophomore pair defeated Chuck Clemens and Steve McMurry, 7-5, 6-4.

The other Falcon victories came from Jeff Rud over John Waters, 6-1, 6-3, and Art Jones over Alan Snyder by 6-2 scores.

Winning for Prospect were the second doubles team of Jeff Risteen and Mark Mavis and first singles player Bob Zimmanek. The latter was pushed three sets before beating Dick Thompson, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2; the former stopped Charlie Cooksley and Chris Phillips by 6-2 scores.

PALATINE 4, FREMD 1

In the fourth 4-1 decision of the afternoon, the Pirates proved too tough in all but second doubles against their cross-town rivals, the Vikings.

Managing to mar Palatine's try for a perfect mark was the team of Kim Abbott and Carl Papp. This twosome handled Fred Hoegler and Dick McNabney, 6-1, 6-2.

Posting the wins for third-place Pirates were these netmen:

Matt Borman over Chris Laffy, 6-3, 6-2; Kevin McNamara over Pat Irwin, 6-0, 6-0; Scott Dawson over John Lawrence, 6-0, 6-1; and Paul Clapper and Steve Snyder over Rich Courtney and Jeff Leasing, 6-4, 4-6, 6-1.

ARLINGTON 5, ROLLING MEADOWS 0

The only non-conformist of the day was Arlington. The Cardinals only allowed the Mustangs wins in 10 games. This was how it went:

Jim Meckel over Stan Hilly, 6-0, 6-1; Don Rodig over Curt Anderson, 6-2, 6-2; John Paczkowski over Mark Shannon, 6-0, 6-0; Jon Deery and Dana Morken over Don Bohac and Larry Pressel, 6-2, 6-1; and Bob Blomquist and Rex Miller over Paul Germano and Gary Cheamey, 6-1, 6-1.

FROSH-SOPH ACTION

Arlington and Hersey were the only lower level teams to register shutouts over Rolling Meadows and Wheeling, respectively.

Notching the only 4-1 decision was Prospect with Forest View being the victim.

There were three 3-2 meets — Glenbard North over Schaumburg, Fremd over Palatine and Conant over Elk Grove.

Arlington, Prospect Top Divisions In Badminton

by PAT RITCHIE

The Mid-Suburban Conference girls badminton season came to an end Thursday, April 27, when the divisional winners met for the playoffs at Prospect High School.

The North Division winner, Arlington, brought an undefeated team into the play-offs. They began the 1972 season with 19 wins and no losses. After the five divisional games and three non-division games this season, Arlington extended their record to 27-0.

Prospect gained the rights to represent the South Division in the play-offs by use of the tie-breaker system, as Forest View and Prospect ended the season with 4 wins and 1 loss divisional record. Arlington won the play-offs and received the first Mid-Suburban Conference Badminton trophy.

Each school played a total of 8 meets, five meets within their division and three non-divisional meets. As determined by the Womens Sports Division of the Mid-Suburban Conference, each meet consisted of three singles matches and four doubles matches.

There were several outstanding individual performances turned in this year, among those were Nancy Cunningham, Arlington's number one singles; Barb Wray and Dianne DeWitt; Ann Gilmore and Jean Condon, Arlington's number one and two doubles team played an undefeated season.

Also Carol Flores, Prospect's number one singles and Gemma Capozzoli and Pat Hauslein, Prospect's number one doubles. Forest View's numbers one, two, and three singles players, Kathy Moore, Linda Abrams, and Elaine Kaup, respectively turned in outstanding performances as well as the number two doubles team, Andrea Dziem and Terri Ulrich. Hersey's outstanding players, Carol Danegger, number one singles and Lynne Aszman and Gaby Ronnett, number two doubles.

St. Pat's Hurts St. Viator's Title Hopes

St. Patrick's tennis team dealt St. Viator a crushing blow towards repeating as the Suburban Catholic Conference champion with a 4-1 victory Thursday at the Shamrocks courts.

Only Tom Wenzel, the Lions' fine freshman player, managed to win and remain undefeated in varsity play. Wenzel beat Tom Krix, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5.

The Lions setbacks, which dropped their record to 4-2 in the SCC, came this way:

Doug Baran over Mike McMahon, 6-3, 6-1; Marty Green over Mike Rovnes, 7-5, 12-10; Jim Fleach and Bob Schamrowski over Tom Meyer and Mark Savage, 6-3, 6-4; and Dave Cash and Jim Oleary over Tom Cole and Tom Marshall, 10-6, 6-1.

This left the varsity with an overall record of 9-4.

The frosh-soph team won 5-0 to keep alive its hopes to repeat as the lower level champ. The young Lions are 4-2 in the SCC.

Palatine Roms Over Arlington

'Cats Nip Huskies In MSL Track

by LARRY EVERHART
Track & Field Editor

Half of the Mid-Suburban League's track teams were in action Thursday as three duals were run.

While there were a few fine individual efforts — some ranking as personal bests and making the Herald area honor roll — most teams were not going all out. Several coaches said they were saving their boys for big meets the next night (the Falcon Invitational at Forest View for Arlington, Wheeling and Hersey; the Maine East Relays for Palatine).

This was understandable since these league duals do not count toward final standings anyway (everything hinges on the conference meet at Forest View this Friday). Coaches wanted their squads gradually working toward their best possible for big meets just ahead, rather than risking hitting a physical or mental peak too soon.

As a result, some top individuals did not compete in their best events Thursday — or, perhaps, in just one rather than two. And two meets were cancelled — Fremd at Prospect and Glenbard North at Elk Grove (the Vikings, Knights and Grizzlies also were slated for the Falcon Invitational the following night). These meets will not be made up. Forest View and Conant were not scheduled for Thursday.

The closeness in the caliber of the Hersey and Wheeling cinder squads could not have been reflected better since the final score was 6-483, Wheeling, Palatine, as expected, romped over Arlington 80-33. And Schaumburg took a cue from the baseball team — which had christened its new field with a victory the night before — as the Saxons topped Rolling Meadows 74-83 in the first meet ever on the winners' new track.

Looking at all three meets together, the 440-yard dash had three excellent times. Leading was Dan Leider of Hersey with the best time (up to the weekend) in the Herald area, 50.9. He had earned first place on the area honor roll six days earlier with a 51.0.

Palatine also had a pair of fine quarter-mile times with 31.4's registered by both Jim Staumer and Larry Monnes. That had been the best time in the area until Leider bettered it. Staumer, who just passed out his teammates for first place, tied his top time and Monnes turned his personal best.

Another Pirate, Brian Barnett, lowered his first-place area time in the mile run with a sparkling 4:21.2. Barnett also had owned the top mark of 4:24.2 previously. His new time ranks as one of the best in the state.

The shot put had the most fine marks with four that were near the top of the area honor roll. Mark Chidley, who owns the best tosses with 53-11 and 53-10 1/2, led Thursday with 56-7 1/2.

Bob Sloan of Rolling Meadows was right behind with 50-1 1/2, his personal best and good for fourth on the honor roll. Brother John, who held second last week with 51-5 1/2, came up with 49-10 1/2. And Bill Chlebsek of Wheeling came up with his best effort, 49-11 1/2.

In the pole vault, Palatine's Paul Streator tied the area top mark up to that time held by Greg Morand of Arlington when Streator soared 13-0. Morand and Steve Sucher of Hersey both hit 12-9 Thursday and that was easily Sucher's best.

Jan Fitzgerald of Palatine, who has been injured most of the season, showed that he is back in form in the 100-yard low hurdles with 21.1, sixth in the area at that point.

Bill Schumann came up with one of the top conference times this year in the 880-yard run with 1:58.7. That was just 4 off his own peak.

Still another fine time was the 3:29.5 by Hersey in the mile relay — their team best and second in the area until Thursday trailing only Palatine's 3:26.4.

The Wheeling-Hersey result was a repeat from the indoor season when the Wildcats also edged out the Huskies by one point. Just a slight bit extra by Hersey in any one of a number of places might have made the difference.

For example, in the long jump, second place (for Wheeling) came by the most minute of margins over third (Hersey) — a quarter of an inch. For another example, Wheeling won the 300-yard relay by a tenth of a second.

Three Wheeling boys — hurdler Dave Poole, sprinter Kevin Danielson and weights man Chlebsek — paced the triumph with two first places each. Poole won the high hurdles in 16.5 and the lows in 22.6. Danielson was the winner of the 100-yard dash in 10.4 and the 200 in 23.2, and Chlebsek added a 132-11 in the discus throw to his shot put victory with a quarter-inch under the 50 barrier.

Those three accounted for all of Wheeling's wins except for Schumann's 1:58.7 half-mile and the 880 relay victory.

For Hersey, sophomore Tom Burridge won the two-mile run in 18:12.3. Leider's excellent 50.9 took the quarter, Frank Walsworth won the mile in 4:33.6. Dave Kauts triumphed in the long jump in 26 1/2. Sucher's 12-9 vault was first and the mile relay's outstanding 3:29.5 won easily.

Palatine spread the scoring around pretty evenly in its breeze over Arlington. J. Dubiago was the only double winner with 10.5 in the 100 and 23.0 in the 220. Fitzgerald had the same time in the 100.

Other Pirate victories were by Dave Tehle with 10:04.3 in the two-mile, Kent Mundschenk with 16.2 in the high hurdles, Tom Glenn with 2:01.4 in the half-mile, Jim Grab with 134-8 in the discus and Jim Sander with 6-0 in the high jump.

Adding to the Pirate totals, of course, were the above-mentioned standout efforts of Barnett, Staumer, Streator and Fitzgerald.

Arlington's only triumphs came on Chidley's 56-7 1/2 in the shot and Dave Mills' 19-4 1/4 long jump.

Arnie Jackson and Bob Casper were double winners for Schaumburg in its topping of Rolling Meadows. Jackson took the two-mile in 9:58.7 and the mile in 4:38.6 while Casper ruled the high hurdles in 16.3 and the lows in 22.0.

The Saxons' other winners were Rick Stabeck with 2:04.7 in the 800, Eric Porter with 22.7 in the 200, Bruce Mahlig with 11-4 in the pole vault, and the 880 relay with 1:38.2.

The brothers Sloan paced the Mustangs — Bob's 50-1 1/2 shot put and John's 130-5 discus toss earning wins. The pair traded seconds in the same events.

Also winning for Meadows were Joe Brightwell with 10.5 in the 100, Jeff Koonick with 53.6 in the 440, Steve Baleigh with 5-8 in the high jump and the mile relay team with 3:34.4.

In frosh-soph meets Schaumburg hammered Rolling Meadows 163-24, Palatine routed Arlington 95-31, and Hersey defeated Wheeling 68-53.

A full slate of meets is on tap Tuesday as squads time up for Friday's league showdown: Hersey and St. Viator will be at Prospect, Arlington at Wheeling, Rolling Meadows at Fremd, Elk Grove at Schaumburg, Conant at Glenbard North and Palatine and Fremd in the North Shore Invitational at Maine East.

Rose President Of Parkway Loop

Al Rose, 749 S. Warren, Palatine, was elected president of the Parkway bowling league for next season at the league's annual dinner party Friday at Navarone Restaurant with Earl Williams, 1905 Tano Lane, Mount Prospect, named vice president. Bob Paddock, 273 S. Plymouth, Inverness, was elected secretary-treasurer for the 31st year.

Receiving championship recognition were members of the Meyers team which defeated Gutwein the final night of competition. Members of the team included Captain George Meyer, 537 S. Warren, Palatine; Jake Herr, 901 N. Douglas, and James Haanel, 1904 E. Grove, Arlington Heights; Roy Hinrichs, 2403 Eastman, Rolling Meadows; and Fred Turcotte, 7N735 Central, Bensenville.

High average award (185) went to Al Karston, 712 W. Dempster, Mount Prospect. High series trophy (832) was won by Vern Schroeder of Chicago. High game award went to Al Rose (255).

Winner of the Robert P. Bergdahl Memorial Award for most improved bowler was Bud Mills, 315 S. Gibbons, Arlington Heights.

Milwaukee Muscle

The Boston Celtics have won more NBA championships than any other team but the Milwaukee Bucks have the best record in play-off competition, winning 17 of 24 games for a .708 percentage. The Celtics are 119-78, a .604 mark good enough for second place.

Falcons Triumph; Keep Coming Back

by PAUL LOGAN

It was one of those games that looked like it would never end.

Visiting Conant slammed the ball around pretty good in the first two innings at Forest View's diamond, a windy hitters' park. However, after it had built up a 4-0 lead, the host team came back to tie it in the bottom of the second.

The Cougars took the initiative again and made it 5-4, but the Falcons quickly retaliated to deadlock the game.

After Conant increased the margin to 8-4, Forest View bounced back a third time with two in the bottom of the sixth. Although the Cougars now enjoyed an 8-7 advantage, they had to be a little uneasy. The reason — reliever Rick Haaning had put down the Cougars in order, strikeouts everyone, and the top of the Forest View order was coming to bat.

The Cougars' fears were justified. After Forest View loaded the bases, Dale Schoenbeck rapped a two-run single to make it 8-8. Conant "gave" the Falcons one more on its only error. Then little Craig Ties came on in relief in the top of the seventh to put out a minor rally and preserve the 10-8 victory Friday.

Conant jumped all over right-handed ace Larry Monroe in the first inning. Following a single by Gary Pemberton and a walk to Bill Atkins, Keith Steelman hammered a three-run shot over the right field fence.

A base hit by George Patten, an error by Monroe and a RBI single by Pemberton drove Monroe from the mound. Haaning came on and put in a pretty steady performance until he was lifted in the seventh.

Schoenbeck, who led the Falcons with a 3-for-4 batting show, led off with a single in the second. Two fly outs later, Bob Bergeson singled and Haaning doubled them in with an opposite field double to left.

After Mike Pryor was hit in the helmet, Randy Jespersen stroked a double off the fence to score two more.

Conant made it 5-4 in the third without a hit. Steve Andrews was hit by a pitch, moved up two bases on ground outs and scored on a delayed double steal.

A double by Greg Fink, a sacrifice by Bergeson and a single by Haaning through the pulled-in infield tied the game again, 5-5.

Forest View really passed out the charity runs in the fifth. Andrews reached on an error and scored later on a wild pitch. Following a fielder's choice and a stolen base by Mike Atkeclatis, Haaning fanned a Cougar for the second out. Then Darryl Drew singled in Atkeclatis and a pair of errors allowed Drew to keep running and score, too.

The Falcons made it 8-6 with three straight singles to load the bases, followed by a pinch hit, two-out single by Tom Mueller off reliever Chet Pudlosky.

Forest View finally took its first lead in the game in the sixth. Walks to Pryor and Jespersen and a single by Bill Miller loaded the bases. After a force out at the plate, Schoenbeck came through with a single to left. The error gave the Falcons a two-run cushion.

A walk to Conant's Pudlosky in the seventh forced Coach Tom Seidel to bring on Skiles, who had played second and third prior to his pitching stint. He fanned one, forced Pudlosky at second on a fielder's choice and then Schoenbeck threw out that Cougar trying to go to second after a pitch got away.

St. Viator Keeps Title Hopes Alive

St. Viator kept its flickering title hopes glowing brilliantly Friday after a crucial 2-1 conquest of talented Marist. The triumph hiked the Lions' Suburban Catholic Conference record to 8-3 and added even greater importance to their expected showdown with once-beaten Holy Cross later this week.

Southpaw ace Mike Cook, who one-hit the Redskins earlier this season, was super-sharp again in limiting Marist to just four singles and an unearned tally. Mike is still unbeaten this season and hasn't yielded an earned run in two games.

Stan Bobowski staked Cook to a 1-0 lead in the second inning when he led off the frame with a booming shot to straightaway centerfield.

The eventual winner came in the third and was the product of another extra-base blast. After one out, Cook ripped a single to left and breezed around via Ken Martin's towering triple to the same field.

Cook, meanwhile, was pitching perfect baseball the first time through the Redskin lineup. He knocked down the initial 10 Marist batters he faced before being touched for a single in the fourth.

A leadoff single and two-base error in the fifth finally broke the shutout. One out later, a squeeze bunt produced Marist's lone marker. Two walks and a scratch hit got Cook in trouble in the seventh, but this 11th strikeout preserved the important decision.

Lake Park Ousts Grove In Slugfest

In one of the most awesome displays of power of the season, Lake Park eliminated Elk Grove from the state baseball tournament, 11-10 in an eight-inning district game Saturday.

It was a heart-breaking defeat for the Grenadiers who held leads of 6-5 and 10-8 during the slugfest only to watch as Lancer hero Mike DeLasser stroked a bases-loaded single with two out in the bottom of the eighth to break up the contest.

The teams combined for 21 runs and 19 hits of which eight were extra-base blasts. The outfielders on each club were on the dead run all afternoon. The ones they never did catch up with included home runs by Elk Grove's Jim Emalie and Lake Park's Roger DeLasser, Kurt Steger and John Sprengel.

The Grenadiers tallied first on Tony Tringali's leadoff triple and a single by Rick Hauserman, but Lake Park earned a deadlock in the second via a walk and a three-bagger by Mike DeLasser.

Elk Grove hurler Jim Emalie kissed one in the third with nobody on to crack the tie but the Lancers countered with two on a walk, error and two singles.

The momentum switched back to the Grenadiers in the fourth as Hauserman and Scott Pruitt unleashed back-to-back doubles prior to Steve Scholten's single, but Lake Park knotted the count at 4-4 on pitcher John Sprengel's circuit shot.

Again Elk Grove took charge in the fifth on an error, a sacrifice and Tringali's single and the see-saw pattern remained intact when Lake Park pushed two across on a walk and Steger's booming blast to center.

The victors padded their margin with two more in the sixth on an infield hit and Roger DeLasser's estimated 400-foot shot to right, but Elk Grove stormed back in the seventh on three consecutive passes, an error and base hits by Bob Chen and Schoenbeck to assume a 10-8 cushion.

After two-up and two-down in the bottom of the seventh, though, the Lancers drew another deadlock on a hit batsman, two errors and Kevin Lio's single. They eventually won it in the eighth when three walks preceded Mike DeLasser's single after two outs.

Giles Hits 4th In Wheeling Victory

by KEITH REINHARD

Dave Giles blasted his fourth home run of the campaign to trigger a two-run first inning rally by Wheeling and the scoring held up the rest of the way as the Wildcats nudged visiting Arlington 2-1 in conference baseball paly Friday.

Mark Griffith came on late in the game to help Bob Peter post the winning decision for the 'Cats. The Cardinals were limited to only two hits in the contest and saw their hopes of a North Division title diminish even further coupled with a Hersey triumph the same afternoon.

In the home half of the first frame

Bert Newman singled to lead off but was picked off base. An out later Dave Sherrow, who went the distance on the mound for the guests, served up a pitch that Giles cracked over the fence in right centerfield to put Wheeling on the scoreboard.

Tony Schuld was issued a free pass after that and Dan Tonnancour promptly unloaded a double to send Schuld across with what proved to be the decisive tally.

Arlington recorded their lone run in the third stanza and Peter was fortunate to escape so lightly. He passed Sherrow to start things off, hit the next batter and after a fielder's choice yielded a single to Jim Locascio that brought Sherrow in. A passed ball followed and eventually Dave Kahik was given an intentional walk to load the bases with only one out.

Ed Carpenter and Wayne Geyer both got good wood on the ball after that but their fly balls were hauled down in center and right respectively.

In the sixth Peter worked his way into another jam by walking Carpenter and Geyer with one away. Griffith came on then to fan the next batter, walk the bases loaded and finally get Sherrow out on a deep grounder to John Theriault at short after working the count to 3-3.

Griffith struck out the side in the bottom of the seventh then to preserve Peter's second victory in three decisions.

Falcons Win Key Net Meet

Only two slim points separate the four teams presently vying for runner-up honors behind runaway Arlington in Mid-Suburban League tennis.

Moving into contention on Friday was Forest View following its 3-0 victory over Schaumburg in a makeup meet on the Falcons' courts.

Behind Arlington, presently with 42 points, are Elk Grove (31), Harsey (30), Palatine (29) and Forest View (28). Prospect, having played one less meet than the rest of the leaders, can still make a move with big wins over its final two opponents — last place Glenbard North and Conant.

The Falcons had four two-set victories. They came like this:

Dick Thompson over Bill Hommowun, 6-1, 6-1; Jeff Rud over Dale Fenwick, 6-3, 6-3; Art Jones over Randy Madon, 6-1, 6-2; and Charlie Cooksley and Chris Phillips over Rich Reese and Bob Hommowun, 10-8, 7-5.

Extended three sets before winning were Joe Karwinski and Mike Korh. This sophomore twosome beat Larry Willner and Pete Bohl, 6-0, 2-6, 7-5.

Schaumburg came back in the fresh-soph meet with a 4-1 victory.

The Saxon varsity has nine points, five ahead of Glenbard North.

Zoning Ordinance Under Review By Developers

Elk Grove Village's proposed comprehensive zoning ordinance is now being reviewed by village developers and major builders prior to its expected passage later this spring.

Village Mgr. Charles Willis said Friday that copies of the document, as revised by the village board, have been sent to developers, builders and the Association of Industry and Commerce for suggestions or recommendations.

"All these parties have displayed an interest in the ordinance from the beginning and provided comments along the way," Willis said.

Comments from the developers and builders are to be sent back to the village by May 23, he said. The board will consider any recommendations made before expected approval of the ordinance late this month or next month.

THE COMPREHENSIVE zoning ordinance, under study by the village for three years, is designed as a comprehensive amendment to present zoning ordinances.

The purpose of the ordinance, according to an introductory section, is "to insure that adequate light, clean air and safety from fire . . . may be secured," to conserve the taxable value of land and buildings; to lessen or avoid congestion in public streets; to lessen or avoid "hazard to persons and damage to property resulting from accumulation or runoff of storm or flood waters;" and to promote the public health, safety, comfort, morals and welfare.

As now written, the ordinance includes a controversial provision prohibiting home business occupations in the village. The ban, objected to by a number of village residents, extends to any "rendering of a service . . . on the premises" of a residential unit.

Also included in the ordinance is a prohibition against parking commercial or recreational vehicles on residential property. The prohibition extends only to vehicles which are parked as to extend over the sidewalk.

The ordinance contains no restrictions against parking vehicles in the back yards of homes, as had been considered.

Police Protection Report Due

A report on whether residents in unincorporated Elk Grove Township are willing to pay more taxes for additional police protection should be ready next week, according to town officials.

A questionnaire was sent to residents in unincorporated areas asking if they were satisfied with their present police protection and if they were willing to pay a $6 tax per $10,000 assessed property valuation to improve it.

Residents also were asked whether or not they preferred a police car to patrol the unincorporated areas regularly, or just be on call to respond to emergencies.

Town Auditor Bernard Lee has said he believed the township could provide a squad car and manpower to protect the unincorporated areas from dusk to dawn, seven days a week, for $40,000 a year.

Lee said a property tax of $6 per $10,000 assessed valuation would provide the funds to finance the additional police protection.

A referendum would have to be passed by voters, before the tax could be levied.

Lee said if such a referendum is passed, township officials would talk to villages within the township about contracting for police service.

In February members of several homeowners association in unincorporated areas asked the town board to provide extra police protection. At that time a survey was suggested to find out how many persons were willing to pay for the service.

Currently the unincorporated areas are protected by Cook County Sheriff's police.

JOHN VAN KATWICH, 14, and Kevin Hannon, 12, of Dimes Walkathon held Saturday in the area. hoped they would be the first to complete the 12-mile walk. Hannon, 100, marched in the March. These two boys were the first out to walk and march.

Village Takes Stand Against State Taxing

The Elk Grove Village Board of Trustees opposes "the high charges" levied by the state for collection of the sales tax, does not favor continuation of the sales tax on food and drugs and opposes taxation of local government bonds.

Those were the positions taken last week by the board while discussing three resolutions recommended for approval by Village Mgr. Charles Willis and Finance Director George Coney. The proposed resolutions have been adopted by the Illinois Municipal Finance Officers Association.

The board approved a recommended resolution requesting a 50 per cent reduction in the state's charge for collection of the sales tax. The state currently charges a 4 per cent administrative fee for collection of the tax, a fee which cost the village $44,000 last year.

The board, however, defeated by a 5-1 vote a resolution supporting the continuation of the sales tax on food and drugs. The board then referred discussion of alternate resolutions to the judicial, planning and zoning committee.

The board approved a third resolution, opposing taxation of local government bonds. There has been a "continuous movement afoot" to remove the exempt status of bonds, Willis said, a move which would force the village to pay more to borrow money.

Condominium Truth-In-Sales Bill Up For Vote Next Week

by NANCY COWGER
A state condominium in truth selling bill, proposed by Hoffman Estates officials, was released last week from the House of Representatives Judiciary Committee, minus an amendment that would have made it virtually ineffective.

Action is to be taken on the bill in the House this week, said Rep. David Regner, R-Mount Prospect, who sponsored the bill. It then will be introduced in the Senate, where opposition is anticipated. Sen. John Graham, R-Barrington, will probably introduce the bill in the Senate, Regner said.

Officers in the homeowners association of Barrington Square, Hoffman Estates, may be called to testify in support of the bill when it reaches the Senate, said Regner. He is expecting strong opposition from the Home Builders Association of Illinois, which offered an amendment in the House committee that would have killed any effectiveness of the proposed law.

Robin Berglund and Jay O'Toole, both on the executive board of the Barrington Square Homeowners Association, this week offered to testify in favor of the bill before either house of the General Assembly.

THE OFFER WAS made because some members of the association claimed facts were misrepresented to them when they purchased their condominium homes from Kaufman and Broad Homes, Inc., developers of the complex, Berglund said. He emphasized the developers took great pains to ensure against such problems, but that irresponsible salesmen "out to make a buck" in commissions deliberately misrepresented giving the developers leverage for better control of their employee's sales tactics, said Berglund.

Regner said he "may ask the people to testify if we need them," and added "yes" when asked if he expected he would. The builders organization probably will renew its opposition in the Senate, Regner said.

The bill originated with Hoffman Estates Plan Commission chairman Richard Regan, who has said he received numerous complaints from condominium purchasers over misrepresented or misunderstood facts. He worked with Regner in the bill's drafting.

As first proposed, the bill basically would require full disclosure by the seller, prior to sale, of all information concerning expenses, responsibilities and privileges connected with the condominium ownership. The home builders amendment would have added a clause allowing a seller to list areas in which he would not make disclosures, exempting himself from provisions of the bill.

Fire Reported At Ma & Pa's Store

A fire yesterday morning caused extensive damage at Ma and Pa's Country Candy Store in downtown Arlington Heights.

The fire was reported at 7:50 a.m. and firemen searched the smoke-filled building at 125 E. Davis before finding the flames in a back room on the first floor.

There also was extensive smoke damage, the firemen said. An official estimate of the damage was not available yesterday afternoon.

Firemen worked for about 30 minutes before the fire was extinguished. Cause of the blaze was not known.

High School Board May OK '72 Budget

The board of education of High School Dist. 214 will be asked to adopt the education fund operating budget for the 1972-73 school year at its meeting today.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

The proposed education fund budget has been developed by the district's budget committee and administration. As proposed it totals $22,394,750, an increase of nearly $2 million more than this year's budget.

The education fund is the largest of the district's taxing funds. Teachers are paid and educational supplies are purchased from the fund.

Also Monday, the board will discuss whether to continue shuttle bus services next year for students living in three areas of the district. The shuttle buses have been provided for students who live closer than 1 1/2 miles to their school but must walk along busy streets to school.

THE BOARD will discuss whether it should continue the shuttle service next year for students from Forest View High School in the Lake Briarwood subdivision south of Mount Prospect and for students in an area east of Arlington Heights

Road and north of Golf Road, around Council Trails, Foster and Belmont streets.

In addition, the board will consider the shuttle service to Wheeling High School for students east of Elmhurst Road and north of Palatine Road.

The board will also receive a progress report on Buffalo Grove High School, now under construction at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads in Buffalo Grove, from the school's architects and will welcome American Field Service students from the various high schools to the meeting.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

Handcuffed by Communist victories in Vietnam, the Senate end-the-war bloc is likely this week to put aside its attempt to legislate an end to American involvement in the conflict.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, with three primary wins under his belt, said his wide victory margin in North Carolina may prompt him to enter the California primary as a write-in candidate.

Henry A. Kissinger has postponed, for the second time in less than a month, his scheduled visit to Japan.

Tanzania, angered by two years of scandal in state government and 20 years of Democratic empire rule by Lyndon B. Johnson and John B. Connally, voted out their leaders in a rush for reform and sent the South's first black woman to Congress, primary returns showed.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers interrupted his nine-day European mission and returned to Washington for urgent talks with President Nixon on the Southeast Asian crisis.

Senate Democratic and Republican Leaders Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott returned from what they described as an "encouraging" 10-day visit to Communist China, and said they would report directly to President Nixon within two days.

About 20 persons were hospitalized in San Diego, Calif., after they breathed toxic nitric acid fumes created when a support cart deflating the Apollo 18 moon capsule exploded.

The World

Anarchists, apparently anxious to avenge the execution of three of their members, set off a series of bombs in Istanbul, Turkey's largest city, injuring four persons.

Honduran soldiers spread out through the thick, rain-soaked jungles south of the Gulf of Honduras, searching for a man who hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane between Allentown, Pa., and Washington and parachuted with $303,000 into this Central American nation.

Investigators for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reported that Laos and Cambodia were on the verge of toppling before North Vietnam concentrated its troops in the current offensive against South Vietnam.

Jerusalem-Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir says Romania is prepared to act as a go-between but not mediator to produce a Middle East settlement.

The War

U.S. Navy warplanes shot down three North Vietnamese MIGs in dogfights 80 miles southwest of Hanoi but a Navy attack bomber was knocked down by a Communist antiaircraft missile, the U.S. command said.

North Vietnamese Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap, marking the 18th anniversary of his victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, said he has since defeated three American governments and is in the process of finishing off "the war of Nixon."

Community Backs Alexian Brothers

by HARRY WEINER

The esteem with which area residents hold the Alexian Brothers Medical Center in Elk Grove Village was well exhibited last week at a benefit dinner at the Itasca Country Club.

Sponsored by the Alexian Associates, an organization of civic and business leaders supporting the medical center, the $17.50-a-plate dinner featured former astronaut Neil Armstrong as the drawing card guest of honor.

Even with the first man on the moon on hand, however, hospital officials had to be pleased with the overflow crowd which attended the second annual benefit affair. Although the country club dining room was prepared to accommodate 550 persons, 635 showed up.

The dinner thus provided another significant contribution to the growing fund which will help pay for the $9 million expansion program at the hospital. The campaign is more than half way to its $1,800,000 goal, having passed the $1 million mark last month.

DURING THE dinner, hospital officials thanked the crowd for their support and revealed details of the expansion program.

Brother Ferdinand Leyva, administrator of the hospital, noted that the hospital keeps serving a greater number of patients each year, thus maintaining pressure for expansion of its facilities.

"Last year there were more than 12,800 in-patients," he said. "We took care of nearly 28,000 patients in the emergency room — 5,000 more than the previous year. The visits to our outpatient department jumped by 3,000 and there were nearly 12,000 visits last year."

With such a great need — as indicated by the ever increasing numbers of patients — it is encouraging to know that the hospital has widespread support from the people who will benefit most from its expansion, the residents of the area.

FIRE SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK was climaxed Saturday at the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect with a demonstration by firemen of how they remove victims from an auto accident. Here, firemen pry open a car door. "Victims" were then flown by helicopter to Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Also Saturday firemen fought a simulated fire at the shopping center. Almost 20 area fire departments took part in the week-long observance at the shopping center. It was sponsored by the Elk Grove Village and Mount Prospect fire departments. Demonstrations of various firefighting and rescue techniques were held nightly at the shopping center also.

Free Dental Care For Kids May Be Reality In Sept.

A free dental clinic for children 16 and under whose parents cannot pay for dental care could be operational in Schaumburg Township by September, if $3,000 for equipment purchases can be raised.

A free immunization clinic for children could be established within a month, if a room could be found and a volunteer to act as registrar would step forward.

Plans for a free medical clinic for persons unable to pay are not advancing as quickly, but are on the drawing board.

A prenatal clinic for indigent expectant mothers is "ready to go, but the hospitals are reluctant to take the patients."

Each of these plans was announced Tuesday night by Jeanne McClosky, head of the medical assistance division of the Community Life Program.

THIS IS A group of 180 volunteers who have provided a multitude of services for 70 families since its formation in January. Among these services has been giving food to 26 families, providing money management guidance to three families, finding lawyers for another six, and providing seven families with free dental care. Other services have included furnishing appliances for three families, counseling four unwed mothers, taking three children to hospital emergency rooms, finding jobs for six persons and eye glasses for one person.

The program has four divisions, and the number of services it performs fall somewhere within the four.

More volunteers are needed to help develop the programs Mrs. McClosky talked about, to provide transportation in emergency situations, to sit and visit with persons having problems, and to answer telephones.

This was among the information given to volunteers who attended a meeting Tuesday.

Persons interested in helping should call 685-1477.

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Richard Salinas, 26, of 805 W. Dundee Rd., in Palatine Township, was subdued by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs.

SALESMAN ATTEMPTED TO KILL

Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abel, 1242N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband, Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and slight trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search for Salinas through several area communities.

They searched Salinas' home, located just south of the forest preserve, but were told that he may have gone to work at a local blacktop company.

Police learned that the firm had contracted a driveway job at 2211 Fuller, Rolling Meadows, and found Salinas driving a backhoe tractor there.

Sheriff's police cordoned the area with assistance from Rolling Meadows police, forced Salinas off the tractor and made the arrest.

The shotgun, reportedly used in the shooting was found later at Salinas home, police said.

Salinas is being held in Cook County jail.

Recycled Paper Gets Failing Grade

by JERRY THOMAS

Ecology paper got a failing grade from art director Archie Wilson of Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54, after a year's trial use of the recycled paper.

"I did not reorder recycled paper for the district's use next teaching term," he said.

Wilson said instead he ordered 40,800 packages of traditional construction paper for the district's use in the coming 1972-1973 school year.

"I was afraid of recycled paper this year and because of last year's disillusionment with its performance did not even seek bids for it," said Wilson.

The art director added that the cut-and-draw "Ecology" paper, as it is called, was ordered last teaching year because it was 2 cents cheaper per package than regular paper. This year one of the bidders for the regular paper did include a bid for ecology paper and it was a penny more expensive per package than the other paper, said Wilson.

"However, even if it had been cheaper than the regular paper this year I would not have reordered due to complaints from principals and my art teachers," said Wilson.

WILSON SAID the ecology paper had flecks of color in it, a white core that showed when ripped and was not uniform in texture or color. True color is important in art projects, said Wilson, adding that color value on a junior high school level was difficult to teach when colors did not run true.

He complained of the ecology paper's brittleness and said it did not fold or bead well but split when used.

A group of youngsters at Hillcrest Elementary School while in the midst of constructing three-dimensional designs with the ecology paper talked about its use.

Barry Neal finished what looked like a three-story spider with 29 legs and said, "It cuts and glues better than the old stuff we used to use." Barry added that traditional construction paper pulled away from the glue and had to be dried longer.

"We don't get all day to do this stuff you know so every minute counts," he added.

Debbie Fecker said, "We study all about our environment and our teachers tell us how important it is to conserve our resources so I think they should keep trying to use ecology paper."

Debbie said she is worried about where the animals will go if people keep cutting down trees to make paper.

DANNIE ALTMAN and Gail Lehman

THE USE OF RECYCLED paper for art projects has been abandoned in Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54. Hillcrest School student Patti Noron of Hoffman Estates creates a three-dimensional design with such paper the district is using in some schools this year. The district decided against reordering for the next school term but will use up the recycled paper over from the first order.

agreed the blue sheets they both had were a little different. But we both know they are blue don't we?" asked Gail.

Scott Parker didn't believe the school district wasn't going to use recycled paper anymore. "Our teachers helped us when we all collected thousands of coupons from Wesson products and sent them so the Wesson Oil people could plant trees for us," he said.

Scott explained that Wesson redeems all the coupons sent in and plants seedling trees in children's national forests. Hillcrest collected enough coupons to reforest nine acres of national forest.

No negative comments could be found from children about ecology paper in the elementary class. "Kids can't be expected to compare textbooks either," Wilson said.

"Our materials and construction paper is an important art material on all levels. It is in effect our teaching tool or textbook," said Wilson. "I know I sound like the baddie who is against ecology. However, I must be concerned with costs and in producing a material the teachers can work with," he said.

WILSON ADDED this year's higher cost for ecology paper could be because of the companies attempts to improve the color quality. "I may give it a chance again," he said.

"The samples brought in by ecology paper salesmen did look pretty good this year," admitted Wilson. "However, the paper did fade when it was in the sunlight last school term and I just don't want to be disappointed again."

Lorraine Lark New President Of Park Board

The Wheeling Park District Board elected new officers and toured local parks at a meeting Thursday.

Lorraine Lark was elected president of the board and Gus Nizzi was elected vice president.

The election of the new officers, who will serve for a year, was a change from park policy in recent years. Policy has been to elect the board vice president as president for the following year.

Gene Sackett, who served as vice president for the past year, was not nominated for the presidency according to the past procedures.

Sackett cast the only "no" votes in the election, voting against both Mrs. Lark and Nizzi.

The election of officers was the first order of business for the new fiscal year. Only Mrs. Lark was nominated for the presidency and only Nizzi was nominated for the vice presidency.

Mrs. Lark thanked Sackett and past president Alf Wilson for serving the past year.

The board also appointed an attorney, a treasurer, and a secretary for the district.

ROGER BJORVIK was reappointed as attorney, although Mrs. Lark, who brought his name up for the appointment, voted against him. All four of the other commissioners voted for Bjorvik's reappointment.

reappointment.

William Blank was unanimously appointed as treasurer and Supt. Ferd Arndt was unanimously reappointed as board secretary. Board members said they would elect a new secretary after Arndt leaves the district. He will retire when a new superintendent is hired.

The board changed its committee structure back to an original system of two members serving on each committee.

Last year the system was for each board member to serve on all committees.

COMMITTEE appointments made by Mrs. Lark were:

Finance Committee — Robert Ross, chairman, and Gene Sackett, member.

Buildings and Grounds Committee — Gene Sackett, chairman, and Alf Wilson, member.

Recreation Committee — Gus Nizzi, chairman, and Robert Ross, member.

Public Relations Committee — Alf Wilson, chairman, and Gus Nizzi, member.

Two letters praising Arndt for his work with the district were read aloud. The letters were from Wheeling High School principal Thomas Shirley and High School Dist. 214 Superintendent Edward Gilbert.

In other business the board approved spending $400 to install a culvert and driveway for a new exit from the parking lot at Heritage Park.

The district will blacktop the parking lot once the stone has been compressed by traffic.

Once the new exit is built cars will enter the parking lot by the north driveway and leave by the new south driveway.

BEFORE THE regular meeting began the board members toured various park sites, including Chamber of Commerce Park on N. Wolf Road, North Side Park adjacent to Nathaniel Hawthorne School and Husky Park, adjacent to Jack London Junior High School.

At the meeting Sackett asked each of the board members to write up a report on observations from the tour and suggestions for developing each of the three park sites.

Sackett asked the members to have their reports in to Arndt by May 15.

A new lawnmower purchase for $400 was approved by the board.

A report from Arndt to the board suggesting caution in reviewing proposals for the new ice rink sports complex was referred to the buildings and grounds committee for further study.

THE BOARD approved sending a resolution to honor Ray Kittendorf for his work as aquatics director for the district. Kittendorf left last month after his post was consolidated into the recreation director's job.

The board also approved spending $2,000 to $4,000 to repair the cracks in the community pool. Board members noted that a leak in the pool resulted in a $4,200 water bill last summer. Arndt told the board an alternative measure of buying an aluminum liner for the pool would cost $74,000.

GORDON KESTING "PAWN-TERS" his next move during a chess match in a lunch-time chess tournament at Joyce Kilmer School in Buffalo Grove. The tournament is open to all the fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Kil-

mer. Awards will be given to students finishing in the top four places. The tournament is directed by its organizer, Norman Geske, principal at Kilmer School.

Fined $100 For Fuel Tax Evasion

Ernest Stavros of Prospect Heights has been fined $100 after a Cook County Circuit Court judge found him guilty of acting as a bulk user of diesel fuel without a license, according to George Mahlin, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Department agents said Stavros, who operates Stavros Bros. Farm Equipment Co., 1030 S. Milwaukee Ave., with his brother, James, was using untaxed diesel fuel for farm equipment in company trucks. Untaxed diesel fuel may be used in farm equipment but not for over-the-road trucks.

Stavros, 54, was arrested March 15 at Whipple Tree Village Mobile Home Park, which he manages. His case was heard May 2 by Associate Judge Marvin Peters.

Road Work Bids To Be Opened Today

Wheeling's village board will open bids tonight for construction of the extension of 12th Street.

Also included on the agenda for the 8:30 p.m. meeting is a resolution authorizing the expenditure of state Motor Fuel Tax funds for the Wheeling Road extension, the preliminary plat for the Chelsea Cove development, and a payment to Mileage Well and Pump Co., Inc. for work on the McHenry Road well.

Contract Talks Hit Standstill

by RICH HONACK

Contract talks between the Elementary Dist. 21 Board of Education and the Wheeling Faculty Council are at a standstill for the fifth time in eight meetings.

Entering what was expected to be final meeting on the procedural section of the contract, the council turned down three of the board's four counter proposals.

It accepted the board's proposal on binding arbitration in grievance procedures, but would go no further on other times.

The council feels it cannot agree on a policy statement from the board concerning the scope of the contract. Nor does it feel it can accept the board's proposed contract without fact-finding as part of the impasse procedure.

The council also feels that before it signs a multi-year agreement on the procedural section it must have the assurance that the "strike clause" in that section can be reopened yearly.

THE SCOPE problem is not a new one to the talks, but indications at an earlier meeting were that it would be settled with a policy statement from the board.

Larry Halter, spokesman for council and Illinois Education Association representative, said he will only accept the policy statement if it is included in the contract.

"The association fears that if it is not sealed in the contract the board may, at any time, change its mind and the policy," he explained.

John Barger, spokesman for the board, said it was a matter of trust. He said the board must go on its past record and it has never taken back a policy that has benefited the teachers.

He added, "We will never accept putting the policy in the contract."

Halter disagrees with the board's counterproposal to leave out fact-finding from the impasse procedure. They feel it is necessary and vital to the talks.

The board, on the other hand, feels the impasse procedure should only go as far as mediation.

"If we keep bargaining and know there is still another step to go after mediation, we are going to hold back items. It is just natural for both sides to react in this manner," said Barger.

HALTER ASKED what happens if the talks cannot be settled by mediation, but the board did not give a concrete answer.

The council agreed to the board's wording in the "strike clause," which was bothersome in the past, but it wants that clause to expire at the same time as salaries and fringe benefits.

The board answered with a flat "no."

Halter said the board must give in to the complete reopening clause, including mediation, fact finding and the strike clause, "before it will ever get a multi-year agreement on any section of the contract."

Both teams said they will return to the bargaining table at 4 p.m. tomorrow with counter-proposals for the three areas of disagreement.

"If we see the board is not giving any more than they have in the past it is just possible we will call a formal impasse at this meeting," said Halter.

High School Board May OK '72 Budget

The board of education of High School Dist. 214 will be asked to adopt the education fund operating budget for the 1972-73 school year at its meeting today.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

The proposed education fund budget has been developed by the district's budget committee and administration. As proposed it totals $22,344,750, an increase of nearly $2 million more than this year's budget.

The education fund is the largest of the district's taxing funds. Teachers are paid and educational supplies are purchased from the fund.

Also Monday, the board will discuss whether to continue shuttle bus services next year for students living in three areas of the district. The shuttle buses have been provided for students who live closer than 1 1/2 miles to their school but must walk along busy streets to school.

THE BOARD will discuss whether it should continue the shuttle service next year for students from Forest View High School in the Lake Briarwood subdivision south of Mount Prospect and for students in an area east of Arlington Heights

Road and north of Golf Road, around Council Trails, Foster and Belmont streets.

In addition, the board will consider the shuttle service to Wheeling High School for students east of Elmhurst Road and north of Palatine Road.

The board will also receive a progress report on Buffalo Grove High School, now under construction at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads in Buffalo Grove, from the school's architects and will welcome American Field Service students from the various high schools to the meeting.

Was Band Trip Idea For Kids?

by RICH MONACK

Will the Wheeling High School Band make a trip to Germany this summer or won't it?

That is a question band parents will have to answer at a meeting of the Wheeling Instrumental League Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The parents and organizers of the trip have been working hard to raise the $140,000 necessary to make the two-week tour. They have enough money to make a second payment, due May 15. But according to officials, the outlook is dim for raising approximately $70,000 more before a June 30 deadline.

The only way the money can be raised, as it appears now, is if someone decides to pay the entire bill for the trip, which at this late date seems unlikely, or if the parents decide to pay for the entire trip themselves.

TOM SHIRLEY, principal of Wheeling High School, has sent each band parent a letter explaining the financial situation of the trip, again explaining the decision is theirs to make.

According to Shirley's letter, 132 band families have already donated a total of $12,250. This does not include any money donated by parents at pancake breakfasts, car washes and other fund-raising events, when the same faces have been seen again and again.

Non-parent contributions at this point total $27,016, with another $10,000 pledged by W. Clement Stone and $1,000 by the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce. Shirley's letter also states that the most non-parent support that could possibly come is $8,000.

Therefore, the only way the students are going to make the trip overseas is if 165 band families divide up approximately $55,886. That works out to roughly $435 per family unit, which must be paid no later than June 15, if the parents decide to go ahead with the trip.

IN HIS LETTER to the parents, Shirley gives the parents four other alternatives, to which they have been asked to respond.

They are:
—To participate even though they are not able to contribute the full amount of $435 but feel they can contribute something.
—To participate although unable to provide any financial assistance.

—Not to participate.

—To contribute an additional amount to help the cause.

Shirley asked the parents to send him their opinions, in strict confidence, by today. He added that this is the only way an intelligent decision could be made about future plans for the trip.

SHIRLEY'S ATTEMPTS are well-founded, and the parents should meet them with a full return of opinions.

It is easy for everyone to jump on the "bandwagon" when everything is going smoothly, but not so easy when things are tough.

Many of the parents have worked hard and long to keep the Wheeling band trip alive. And, undoubtedly, many will be in favor of paying the $435. But is it worth it?

No one can honestly answer that but the parents.

They have been told how the trip will be educational for their children and bring honor to Wheeling, the State of Illinois and the United States.

They have also, from many reports, been told that the travel agency and the organizers of the trip will get 10 per cent of the gross profits, which in the case of Wheeling High School is close to $13,000.

For all 14 bands expected to make the tour the gross profits will be close to $100,000.

THE PARENTS ALSO have been told that there is no connection between the travel agency and the National Educational Scholarship foundation, sponsors of the tour. At the present time there is no connection.

However, when the trip was organized, and until the end of last month, a Chicago industrialist was both the owner of the travel agency and one of the founders of NESF. According to the industrialist, he sold his stock in the travel agency at the end of last month.

This earlier connection, though now defunct, leads to another question for the parents at the Wednesday night meeting: Was the trip solely designed to be educational and bring honor, or was it designed to help raise money for a travel agency? If education and honor are the primary goals, why hasn't the profit margin been cut to a minimum?

The Wheeling High School Band parents deserve to know.

Whee! Glider Can Really Fly-y-y-y...

by CAROLE RHYNE

With a kiss from his wife and a hearty swig of cola, science teacher George Mangel climbed into his 1890-style glider to disprove the old adage, "If God had meant for man to fly, He'd have given him wings."

Standing by impatiently were 800 Holmes Junior High School students, including the 18 eighth graders in Mangel's class who built the engineless plane.

Tension mounted as Mangel carefully tested the rope running to the red sports-car that was to lift him and the plane into the air.

Everything ready, five boys lifted the glider to run with it until the craft became airborne. The car revved its engine and started up, followed by the boys and the plane.

Suddenly the rope launching the glider snapped as the car picked up speed.

After a short intermission to find a heavier rope, everything was "go" for a second try.

This time the glider, named the "Hawk," swooped off the ground and rose some 50 feet on its maiden flight.

THEN IT HAPPENED. Caught by a draft, the plane, almost vertical, stalled in mid-air and plunged to the ground.

Shaken, Mangel said later he was disappointed the flight couldn't have lasted longer but promised "the Hawk will be repaired and we will fly it again."

Earlier in the day some of the boys in Mangel's class gave the plane a test by running down a hill to the east of the school in Mount Prospect.

"The plane really flies," exclaimed one of the students, while another said self-assuredly, "I knew it would."

Watching the tests, Mangel said he had no doubt that the machine could fly. Mangel said he got the glider's blueprints from another teacher in California, where gliders are the current rage.

MANGEL, who is a licensed commercial pilot, said however that it was his first experience in steering a glider.

He said the biggest factor in flying gliders is the wind. He said the plane takes off at 15 miles per hour, however a wind of even 10 miles an hour could make steering difficult.

"It's the type of machine you wouldn't want to take up in weather conditions where you can't control it," he said.

"Controlling the plane is simply by body weight," Mangel said before the flight.

"Steering the glider is easy," Evan Wehnt, one of the plane's builders, said. "If you want to go to the left, you lean to the left; if you want to go to the right, you lean to the right."

Mangel added that if the pilot wanted to angle up, he shifted his weight back.

For Those Away From Home

A policy statement concerning drug abuse among students in Dist. 21 was discussed by school administrators and board members, but was held for further discussion. Two board members disagreed with the policy as it would relate to the police department.

PRELIMINARY PLANS for a quadruminium project north of McHenry Road near Elmhurst Road were approved by the Wheeling Plan Commission on Thursday. Hollywood Builders has asked for approval of a 1,500 population complex known as Chelsea Cove. Apartments were originally slated for construction at the site, but the builders have asked to change that.

BUFFALO GROVE Park Director Stan Crosland said in an interview that "community involvement is the important thing in developing a good park district." He outlined several plans for future park projects, including a teen council to set up recreation programs for high school and junior high students.

BUFFALO GROVE trustees approved the formation of an appearance commission, and are now seeking members for five positions on the panel. The commission will develop an appearance code for the village and review building plans for conformity to village standards.

CONSTRUCTION HAS begun on the new Des Plaines River Wastewater Reclamation facility at Pekara and Walnut Drive north of Wheeling. The system will serve the Lake County portion of Buffalo Grove and the surrounding areas. Buffalo Grove village officials have already agreed to connect to the system when the first phase is complete.

PLANS FOR three major water projects in the coming year have been announced by the Wheeling Village board. Plans are now under way for a new well, a new section of water main in one part of town, and a widening and dredging project on the Wheeling drainage ditch.

BUFFALO GROVE village trustees refused acceptance of a survey on needed repairs of driveway aprons, curbs and sidewalks in units 4-9 of Strathmore, until a second examination of the area has been made. Trustee James Shirley said he found several homes not listed for repair which had substantial damage or deterioration of concrete.

PLANS TO include a triple movie theater in the development of a proposed sports complex in Wheeling have been announced. Officials of Metro Sports, Inc., met with the village president and Hollywood Builders to discuss a possible site for the project.

THE WHEELING Village Board and village employees reached a settlement in salary negotiations, with employees getting a five per cent cost of living increase plus added benefits. Several other items were also agreed upon at the third negotiation session.

WHEELING TOWNSHIP has agreed to pay its share of construction costs on Arlington Heights Road, leaving only the Village of Arlington Heights to approve its portion. Buffalo Grove and Cook County are also cooperating in the $183,000 project.

THE VILLAGE of Wheeling, the Wheeling Trust and Savings Bank and apartment developer Victor Smigel have been named as defendants in a suit filed in Cook County Circuit Court. The suit, filed in behalf of 27 residents in the West Strong Street area, is to overturn the rezoning of 47 apartment buildings in the area.

Love-Triangle Murder Try Charged

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Liquor Control Law Amendment Is Passed

An amendment to the Buffalo Grove liquor control ordinance was passed by the village board last week, allowing sale of liquor on election days and holidays.

The former state law which prohibited the sale of liquor on election days was changed by the state legislature so each municipality could make its own decision. If a municipality does not enact an ordinance allowing the sale, however, it is still automatically prohibited in that area.

The amendment passed unanimously.

Tahoe Development Gains Approval

Wheeling's village board approved a new final plat for phase I of the Tahoe Village development at the board meeting last week.

The board voted to an existing plan for the development before approving the new plan.

Presented by developer Ben Pekin, the new plan changes the development by widening a street, offsetting the townhouse buildings, rearranging garage locations in the apartment buildings and adding more space.

Three buildings with 36 apartment units and 65 townhouses will be built in the first phase of the development. The development is located east of Buffalo Grove Road, south of the Cambridge subdivision in Buffalo Grove.

In other action, the board approved a resubdivision of land at 604 N. MILwaukee where a new restaurant is proposed.

The board approved payment of April bills totaling $22,414.

A payment of $4,444 to the Jensen Corp. for police department video equipment was approved by the board.

In a discussion of waiving a zoning fee on a rezoning request, the board asked zoning board chairman Douglas Cargill for additional information.

BOARD MEMBERS said they would be willing to waive the fee in the case of a not-for-profit organization. Cargill had written to the board about an applicant who was unable to pay the rezoning fee.

William Bieber, director of building and zoning, told the board one of the owners of an abandoned gas station had replied to a village letter urging that the station be demolished. Bieber said that the station, on Dundee Road and George Road, was in the process of being sold.

The board approved an additional $900 for premiums to increase the village's insurance coverage. Village Mgr. George Passolt said new village ambulance service was one reason for increasing coverage.

Trustee Albert Lang said the board will interview applicants for volunteer commissions on May 15. He said he had received recent applications for the environmental control and Civil Defense commissions.

Youth Commission chairman June Orloski notified the board that Commissioner John Grunst has missed three consecutive meetings. The board asked the village clerk to contact Grunst to see if he wished to remain on the commission.

The board also met in a closed session to discuss personnel.

by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs. Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abel, 1242N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband, Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and a light trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search for Salinas through several area communities.

They searched Salinas' home, located just south of the forest preserve, but were told that he may have gone to work at a local blacktop company.

Police learned that the firm had contracted a driveway job at 2211 Fuller, Rolling Meadows, and found Salinas driving a backhoe tractor there.

Sheriff's police cordoned the area with assistance from Rolling Meadows police, forced Salinas off the tractor and made the arrest.

The shotgun, reportedly used in the shooting was found later at Salinas' home, police said.

Salinas is being held in Cook County jail.

Park Board Wants Land Donation Law

Buffalo Grove Park District commissioners told the village board Thursday they would like to see the village adopt a land or cash donation ordinance for local builders, similar to the Naperville ordinance.

At a special meeting with the park district, board members asked what should be incorporated in such an ordinance from a recreation point of view.

Park commissioners said they agreed with most of the standards set up in a proposed ordinance drawn up by the village, with the exception of the amount of required land donations for recreation. William Kiddle, park district president, said he could see a proposed ratio of 5.5 acres per $1,000 persons (adopted from the Naperville Ordinance) raised to 7-10 acres.

The proposed village ordinance makes provision for both parks and schools, with adjoining facilities receiving special attention. Any private recreational areas provided by developers would be credited toward what they would be required to turn over to the park district or schools.

IF A LAND donation would not be feasible, such as in a small project, the builder would then be required to provide a sum of money equal to the value of the land he would have had to give.

Village Pres. Gary Armstrong asked the commissioners for specific recommendations so an ordinance satisfactory to all could be proposed. When Kiddle asked how the village would implement the ordinance in relation to the parks, Armstrong said, "The ordinance is what we follow. If it says $1,000 per unit, that's what they'll pay. We can, of course, make some exceptions, but we want to make something people can believe in."

Park Director Stan Croeland suggested the Naperville ordinance be used as a plan instead of an ordinance. As a plan, "It could create a greater sense of efficiency and community involvement," he said. He added that in Naperville the school and park districts are the first to see developers' plans, a situation he doesn't think exists now in Buffalo Grove.

Much of the meeting was taken up with discussions over how much of a land donation requirement would be fair, and how cash in lieu of land would be calculated. Trustees plan to use the information from the park district, along with developers' ideas and school district ideas, to formulate an ordinance, if it is deemed necessary.

GORDON KESTING, "PAWN-DERS" his next move during a chess match in a lunch-time chess tournament at Joyce Kilmer School in Buffalo Grove. The tournament is open to all the fourth, fifth and sixth graders at Kil-

mer. Awards will be given to students finishing in the top four places. The tournament is directed by its organizer, Norman Geske, principal at Kilmer School.

Find Firemen Innocent Of Sex Charges

Two volunteer Buffalo Grove firemen, Richard J. Wilhelm and James Donovan, were found innocent Wednesday in circuit court on charges of impersonating police officers and contributing to the sexual delinquency of a minor.

The two were charged by Wheeling police on Sept. 4, 1971 after an alleged incident involving a 17-year-old girl, who worked in Wheeling.

Wilhelm and Donovan contended from the time police filed the charges that they were innocent.

The two men have been reinstated to the Buffalo Grove Fire Department.

"We are glad to have them back and glad this thing was cleared up," said Chief Wayne Winter. "They were put back on the force as soon as we found out about the verdict."

Donovan and Wilhelm had been on the department for 2 and 1 1/2 years respectively, before the charges were filed.

Student Banquet To Honor Employers

Wheeling High School students in the Diversified Occupations Club will honor employers they have worked for during the school year May 10 at a banquet.

The banquet will be at Hans Bavarian Lodge in Wheeling. Each company which has employed students in the diversified occupations program this year will receive a plaque from the students.

Diversified occupations is one of several vocational work-study programs run

There May Be Solution For Summer Teen Jobs

Summer can be a long ordeal for a teen-ager who wants to work but can't find a job, so the Buffalo Grove Park District and the village board may team up to offer a solution.

Park commissioner Dede Armstrong Thursday night asked the village board for cooperation in setting up a youth job center in the village.

She said the program could be relatively inexpensive, operating at a possible budget of $1,000 for the summer. The program would require an adult director, a telephone and an office from which to work.

The village trustees agreed the village might pay for half of the program, with details to be worked out later. Mr. Armstrong said she hoped the village could provide an office and the phone for the operation.

The job center would be able to help students find jobs such as painting, lawn-mowing, babysitting and pet-sitting, among others. The short-term jobs might be included with whatever longer term jobs could be found.

MRS. ARMSTRONG mentioned the idea at a previous meeting and has been working on possibilities since then. She has talked to counselors and officials at Wheeling High School and Elk Grove Community Services, which is in its third year with a similar operation.

The program would be available for high school and college students, and perhaps junior high but would be restricted to Buffalo Grove.

The proposed program would also include a small registration fee to be paid by the students themselves, to help cover the costs of administering the office.

Persons interested in helping formulate the program or working with the students as the director should contact village or park district officials so the system can be set up as soon as possible.

Contract Talks Hit Standstill

by RICH HONACK

Contract talks between the Elementary Dist. 21 Board of Education and the Wheeling Faculty Council are at a standstill for the fifth time in eight meetings.

Entering what was expected to be final meeting on the procedural section of the contract, the council turned down three of the board's four counter proposals.

It accepted the board's proposal on binding arbitration in grievance procedures, but would go no further on other times.

The council feels it cannot agree on a policy statement from the board concerning the scope of the contract. Nor does it feel it can accept the board's proposed contract without fact-finding as part of the impasse procedure.

The council also feels that before it signs a multi-year agreement on the procedural section it must have the assurance that the "strike clause" in that section can be reopened yearly.

THE SCOPE problem is not a new one to the talks, but indications at an earlier meeting were that it would be settled with a policy statement from the board.

Larry Haller, spokesman for council and Illinois Education Association representative, said he will only accept the policy statement if it is included in the contract.

"The association fears that if it is not sealed in the contract the board may, at any time, change its mind and the policy," he explained.

John Barger, spokesman for the board, said it was a matter of trust. He said the board must go on its past record and it has never taken back a policy that has benefited the teachers.

He added, "We will never accept putting the policy in the contract."

Haller disagrees with the board's counterproposal to leave out fact-finding from the impasse procedure. They feel it is necessary and vital to the talks.

The board, on the other hand, feels the impasse procedure should only go as far as mediation.

"If we keep bargaining and know there is still another step to go after mediation, we are going to hold back items. It is just natural for both sides to react in this manner," said Barger.

HALTER ASKED what happens if the talks cannot be settled by mediation, but the board did not give a concrete answer.

The council agreed to the board's wording in the "strike clause," which was bothersome in the past, but it wants that clause to expire at the same time as salaries and fringe benefits.

The board answered with a flat "no."

Haller said the board must give in to the complete reopening clause, including mediation, fact finding and the strike clause, "before it will ever get a multi-year agreement on any section of the contract."

Both teams said they will return to the bargaining table at 4 p.m. tomorrow with counter-proposals for the three areas of disagreement.

"If we see the board is not giving any more than they have in the past it is just possible we will call a formal impasse at this meeting," said Halter.

Fined $100 For Fuel Tax Evasion

Ernest Stavros of Prospect Heights has been fined $100 after a Cook County Circuit Court judge found him guilty of acting as a bulk user of diesel fuel without a license, according to George Mahin, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Department agents said Stavros, who operates Stavros Bros. Farm Equipment Co., 1030 S. Milwaukee Ave., with his brother, James, was using untaxed diesel fuel for farm equipment in company trucks. Untaxed diesel fuel may be used in farm equipment but not for over-the-road trucks.

Stavros, 54, was arrested March 15 at Whipple Tree Village Mobile Home Park, which he manages. His case was heard May 2 by Associate Judge Marvin Peters.

High School Board May OK '72 Budget

The board of education of High School Dist. 214 will be asked to adopt the education/fund operating budget for the 1972-73 school year at its meeting today.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

The proposed education fund budget has been developed by the district's budget committee and administration. As proposed it totals $22,384,750, an increase of nearly $2 million more than this year's budget.

The education fund is the largest of the district's taxing funds. Teachers are paid and educational supplies are purchased from the fund.

Also Monday, the board will discuss whether to continue shuttle bus services next year for students living in three areas of the district. The shuttle buses have been provided for students who live closer than 1 1/2 miles to their school but must walk along busy streets to school.

THE BOARD will discuss whether it should continue the shuttle service next year for students from Forest View High School in the Lake Briarwood subdivision south of Mount Prospect and for students in an area east of Arlington Heights

Road and north of Golf Road, around Council Trails, Foster and Belmont streets.

In addition, the board will consider the shuttle service to Wheeling High School for students east of Elmhurst Road and north of Palestine Road.

The board will also receive a progress report on Buffalo Grove High School, now under construction at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads in Buffalo Grove, from the school's architects and will welcome American Field Service students from the various high schools to the meeting.

Was Band Trip Idea For Kids?

by RICH MONACK

Will the Wheeling High School Band make a trip to Germany this summer or won't it?

That is a question band parents will have to answer at a meeting of the Wheeling Instrumental League Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The parents and organizers of the trip have been working hard to raise the $140,000 necessary to make the two-week tour. They have enough money to make a second payment, due May 15. But according to officials, the outlook is dim for raising approximately $70,000 more before a June 30 deadline.

The only way the money can be raised, as it appears now, is if someone decides to pay the entire bill for the trip, which at this late date seems unlikely, or if the parents decide to pay for the entire trip themselves.

TOM SHIRLEY, principal of Wheeling High School, has sent each band parent a letter explaining the financial situation of the trip, again explaining the decision is theirs to make.

According to Shirley's letter, 132 band families have already donated a total of $12,250. This does not include any money donated by parents at pancake breakfasts, car washes and other fund-raising events, when the same faces have been seen again and again.

Non-parent contributions at this point total $27,016, with another $10,000 pledged by W. Clement Stone and $1,000 by the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce. Shirley's letter also states that the most non-parent support that could possibly come is $8,000.

Therefore, the only way the students are going to make the trip overseas is if 185 band families divide up approximately $55,890. That works out to roughly $435 per family unit, which must be paid no later than June 15. If the parents decide to go ahead with the trip.

IN HIS LETTER to the parents, Shirley gives the parents four other alternatives, to which they have been asked to respond.

They are:
—To participate even though they are not able to contribute the full amount of $435 but feel they can contribute something.
—To participate although unable to provide any financial assistance.

—Not to participate.

—To contribute an additional amount to help the cause.

Shirley asked the parents to send him their opinions, in strict confidence, by today. He added that this is the only way an intelligent decision could be made about future plans for the trip.

SHIRLEY'S ATTEMPTS are well-founded, and the parents should meet them with a full return of opinions.

It is easy for everyone to jump on the "bandwagon" when everything is going smoothly, but not so easy when things are tough.

Many of the parents have worked hard and long to keep the Wheeling band trip alive. And, undoubtedly, many will be in favor of paying the $435. But is it worth it?

No one can honestly answer that but the parents.

They have been told how the trip will be educational for their children and bring honor to Wheeling, the State of Illinois and the United States.

They have also, from many reports, been told that the travel agency and the organizers of the trip will get 10 per cent of the gross profits, which in the case of Wheeling High School is close to $13,000.

For all 14 hands expected to make the tour the gross profits will be close to $100,000.

THE PARENTS ALSO have been told that there is no connection between the travel agency and the National Educational Scholarship foundation, sponsors of the tour. At the present time there is no connection.

However, when the trip was organized, and until the end of last month, a Chicago industrialist was both the owner of the travel agency and one of the founders of NESF. According to the industrialist, he sold his stock in the travel agency at the end of last month.

This earlier connection, though now defunct, leads to another question for the parents at the Wednesday night meeting:

Was the trip solely designed to be educational and bring honor, or was it designed to help raise money for a travel agency? If education and honor are the primary goals, why hasn't the profit margin been cut to a minimum?

The Wheeling High School Band parents deserve to know.

Whee! Glider Can Really Fly-y-y-y...

by CAROLE RHYNE

With a kiss from his wife and a hearty swig of cola, science teacher George Mangel climbed into his 1890-style glider to disprove the old adage, "If God had meant for man to fly, He'd have given him wings."

Standing by impatiently were 800 Holmes Junior High School students, including the 18 eighth graders in Mangel's class who built the engineless plane.

Tension mounted as Mangel carefully tested the rope running to the red sports-car that was to lift him and the plane into the air.

Everything ready, five boys lifted the glider to run with it until the craft became airborne. The car revved its engine and started up, followed by the boys and the plane.

Suddenly the rope launching the glider snapped as the car picked up speed.

After a short intermission to find a heavier rope, everything was "go" for a second try.

This time the glider, named the "Hawk," swooped off the ground and rose some 50 feet on its maiden flight.

THEN IT HAPPENED. Caught by a draft, the plane, almost vertical, stalled in mid-air and plunged to the ground.

Shaken, Mangel said later he was disappointed the flight couldn't have lasted longer but promised "the Hawk will be repaired and we will fly it again."

Earlier in the day some of the boys in Mangel's class gave the plane a test by running down a hill to the east of the school in Mount Prospect.

"The plane really flies," exclaimed one of the students, while another said self-assuredly, "I knew it would."

Watching the tests, Mangel said he had no doubt that the machine could fly. Mangel said he got the glider's blueprints from another teacher in California, where gliders are the current rage.

MANGEL, who is a licensed commercial pilot, said however that it was his first experience in steering a glider.

He said the biggest factor in flying gliders is the wind. He said the plane takes off at 15 miles per hour, however a wind of even 10 miles an hour could make steering difficult.

"It's the type of machine you wouldn't want to take up in weather conditions where you can't control it," he said.

"Controlling the plane is simply by body weight," Mangel said before the flight.

"Steering the glider is easy," Evan Wehant, one of the plane's builders, said. "If you want to go to the left, you lean to the left; if you want to go to the right, you lean to the right."

Mangel added that if the pilot wanted to angle up, he shifted his weight back.

For Those Away From Home

A policy statement concerning drug abuse among students in Dist. 21 was discussed by school administrators and board members, but was held for further discussion. Two board members disagreed with the policy as it would relate to the police department.

PRELIMINARY PLANS for a quadrominium project north of McHenry Road near Elmhurst Road were approved by the Wheeling Plan Commission on Thursday. Hollywood Builders has asked for approval of a 1,500 population complex known as Chelsea Cove. Apartments were originally slated for construction at the site, but the builders have asked to change that.

CONSTRUCTION HAS begun on the new Des Plaines River Wastewater Reclamation facility at Pekara and Walnut Drive north of Wheeling. The system will serve the Lake County portion of Buffalo Grove and the surrounding areas. Buffalo Grove village officials have already agreed to connect to the system when the first phase is complete.

PLANS FOR three major water projects in the coming year have been announced by the Wheeling Village board. Plans are now under way for a new well, a new section of water main in one part of town, and a widening and dredging project on the Wheeling drainage ditch.

BUFFALO GROVE village trustees refused acceptance of a survey on needed repairs of driveway aprons, curbs and sidewalks in units 4-9 of Strathmore, until a second examination of the area has been made. Trustee James Shirley said he found several homes not listed for repair which had substantial damage or deterioration of concrete.

PLANS TO include a triple movie theater in the development of a proposed sports complex in Wheeling have been announced. Officials of Metro Sports, Inc., met with the village president and Hollywood Builders to discuss a possible site for the project.

Love-Triangle Murder Try Charged

by DOUG RAY

Liquor Control Law Amendment Is Passed

An amendment to the Buffalo Grove liquor control ordinance was passed by the village board last week, allowing sale of liquor on election days and holidays.

The former state law which prohibited the sale of liquor on election days was changed by the state legislature so each municipality could make its own decision. If a municipality does not enact an ordinance allowing the sale, however, it is still automatically prohibited in that area.

The amendment passed unanimously.

Tahoe Development Gains Approval

Wheeling's village board approved a new final plat for phase I of the Tahoe Village development at the board meeting last week.

The board voted to an existing plan for the development before approving the new plan.

Presented by developer Ben Pekin, the new plan changes the development by widening a street, offsetting the townhouse buildings, rearranging garage locations in the apartment buildings and adding more space.

Three buildings with 36 apartment units and 65 townhouses will be built in the first phase of the development. The development is located east of Buffalo Grove Road, south of the Cambridge subdivision in Buffalo Grove.

In other action, the board approved a resubdivision of land at 604 N. Milwaukee where a new restaurant is proposed.

The board approved payment of April bills totaling $22,414.

A payment of $4,444 to the Jensen Corp. for police department video equipment was approved by the board.

In a discussion of waiving a zoning fee on a rezoning request, the board asked zoning board chairman Douglas Cargill for additional information.

BOARD MEMBERS said they would be willing to waive the fee in the case of a not-for-profit organization. Cargill had written to the board about an applicant who was unable to pay the rezoning fee.

William Bieber, director of building and zoning, told the board one of the owners of an abandoned gas station had replied to a village letter urging that the station be demolished. Bieber said that the station, on Dundee Road and George Road, was in the process of being sold.

The board approved an additional $800 for premiums to increase the village's insurance coverage. Village Mgr. George Passolt said new village ambulance service was one reason for increasing coverage.

Trustee Albert Lang said the board will interview applicants for volunteer commissions on May 15. He said he had received recent applications for the environmental control and Civil Defense commissions.

Youth Commission chairman June Orlovski notified the board that Commissioner John Grunst has missed three consecutive meetings. The board asked the village clerk to contact Grunst to see if he wished to remain on the commission.

The board also met in a closed session to discuss personnel.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs. Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abel, 1241N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband. Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and slight trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search for Salinas through several area communities.

They searched Salinas' home, located just south of the forest preserve, but were told that he may have gone to work at a local blacktop company.

Police learned that the firm had contracted a driveway job at 2211 Fullie, Rolling Meadows, and found Salinas driving a backhoe tractor there.

Sheriff's police cordoned the area with assistance from Rolling Meadows police, forced Salinas off the tractor and made the arrest.

The shotgun, reportedly used in the shooting was found later at Salinas home, police said.

Salinas is being held in Cook County jail.

Jealous Husband Incident

Man Charged With Love Triangle Murder Attempt

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Richard Salinas, 26, of 805 W. Dundee Rd., in Palatine Township, was subdued by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

Placement Day Draws 75 Candidates

by JOANNE VAN WYE

Getting the best teachers and being fair to all applicants are the two main objectives of a new teacher recruitment process in Palatine-Rolling Meadows Elementary Dist. 15.

Approximately 75 prospective teachers were interviewed on Friday at Marion Jordan School in Palatine by the 16 elementary principals. This was the first of two placement days for elementary teachers. This Friday another 75 applicants for elementary teaching positions will be interviewed at a placement day at Hunting Ridge School in Palatine.

Applicants for junior high school positions were invited to a placement day last April 28 at Plum Grove School in Rolling Meadows.

The applicants were all screened prior to the placement days and only the best were invited back.

First the applicants were screened on the basis of letters they wrote asking for applications. An estimated 3,000 requests for applications were made out but only about 2,000 sent out.

Paul Jung, director of personnel, said that photocopies and dictated letters were ignored because if a person was really interested they should take the trouble to write a personal letter. Also ignored were illegible letters. In mid-March the district stopped sending applications except to persons in areas that are hard to fill.

TO DATE, approximately 1,200 applications have been returned. The applications have been screened and only candidates who appeared to be good potentials were invited for an interview.

Jung already has interviewed an estimated 250 candidates for about an hour each. During the interviews he'll give them a hypothetical classroom situation and ask them how they would handle it, find out a little about their educational philosophy, goals, and objectives and just try to get a feeling of what they would like as a teacher.

Candidates who Jung feels are good potential teachers are then invited to the placement days so each principal can make his own evaluation and have a larger voice in the hiring.

"They are all good candidates or they wouldn't be here," said Robert Dellamaria, principal of Jane Addams School in Palatine. "What we are really doing is asking them to sell themselves."

Each candidate spent about five minutes with each of the principals. During this period the principals were able to find out a little about the applicant and the applicant learned a little about each school.

A folder with the applicant's resume, transcript, student teaching information and recommendations followed each applicant. The principals indicated on the folder whether they had seen the applicant and also rated each applicant.

ON THE BASIS of the brief interviews each principal will invite some of the applicants they are really interested in back to their school for more extensive interviews. So principals indicated they would be involving their entire staffs in the final interview process because all of the candidates are well qualified so personality and ability to get along with others has to play a major role.

By 10 a.m. most of the principals had already listed three or four applicants they would like to invite to the school.

All of the principals indicated they thought the new recruitment process was a good idea. The applicants also indicated they liked the process much more than some of the interviews they had gone to in other districts.

In the past, applicants were interviewed by a couple of principals and administrators on their campus. The interviewing process was not as extensive and also, some candidates not really interested in Dist. 15 went through the interviewing process just for the experience, eliminating the time available for good candidates interested in Dist. 15.

"IT IS NICE TO be able to talk to all of the different principals rather than just be a name on some one's files," said applicant Kathy Hammer. "It is really more fair because sometimes you don't hit it off well with one person but this way you get a chance with more than just one person."

"I feel much more relaxed because I am not under so much pressure being with each principal for only five or ten minutes," said Kris DeSario of Northwestern Illinois University.

"As my first experience, it's really an experience," said Penny Mikusch of Western Illinois University. "I feel a little drained out now. The questions weren't repetitions. Each principal was really a new experience."

Some of the other candidates disagreed and felt the process was somewhat repetitious but still a good idea.

No actual hiring will be done until after the placement days. Last year 78 new teachers were hired. This year Jung is only expecting about 30 vacancies on the teaching staff of 570.

Public Land Use On Joint Meet Agenda

Use of public land within Palatine will be the main consideration at a joint meeting of the Palatine Park Board and the Village Board following tonight's village board meeting at village hall.

The joint meeting, scheduled for about 8:45 p.m., is being held at the request of the park board. The village board last week met with the library board for joint consideration of library expansion plans.

Prior to tonight's park discussion, the village board will consider a request for rezoning of six lots in the North View subdivision for multi-family use. The plan commission last week recommended denial of the rezoning request.

The board also will consider an ordinance amending the village building code and will vote on extending the maintenance agreement it has with the state for upkeep of state roads through Palatine. Adoption of the 1972 salary ordinance for village employees, excluding police, also will be considered at tonight's meeting if it can be prepared in time for the board. Specific figures on the raise have not been released, although Village Mgr. Berton Braun previously has said the raise will be below 5 per cent and will be given across-the-board to employees.

Area Teens To Visit Scotland

Two teen-agers from Inverness, and one from Palatine will represent Illinois in a 4½-week trip to Scotland and England this summer as part of a YMCA program.

Steven Conklin, 16, of 361 S. Grayfriars Ln., Inverness, a student at St. Viator High School in Arlington Heights; Ruth Reed, 17, of 1720 Fifth Rd., Inverness, a student at Fremd High School; and Marilyn Proctor, 15, of 505 Stuart Ln., Palatine, also a student at Fremd High School, and Marilyn Proctor, 15, of 505

Stuart Ln., Palatine, also a student at Fremd, will be among 100 youths from the United States and the only ones from Illinois participating in the program.

The program is sponsored by the International Student Service of the YMCA. The youths will leave Chicago June 30 and spend three weeks in England and Scotland living in people's homes, then 10 days touring the countries.

They were selected for the trip after submitting applications and being screened.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

Handcuffed by Communist victories in Vietnam, the Senate end-of-the-war bloc is likely this week to put aside its attempt to legislate an end to American involvement in the conflict.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, with three primary wins under his belt, said his wide victory margin in North Carolina may prompt him to enter the California primary as a write-in candidate.

Henry A. Kissinger has postponed, for the second time in less than a month, his scheduled visit to Japan.

Tuzane, angered by two years of scandal in state government and 20 years of Democratic empire rule by Lyndon B. Johnson and John B. Connally, voted out their leaders in a rush for reform and sent the South's first black woman to Congress, primary returns showed.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers interrupted his nine-day European mission and returned to Washington for urgent talks with President Nixon on the Southeast Asian crisis.

Senate Democratic and Republican Leaders Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott returned from what they described as an "encouraging" 15-day visit to Communist China, and said they would report directly to President Nixon within two days.

About 20 persons were hospitalized in San Diego, Calif., after they breathed toxic nitric acid fumes created when a support cart defueling the Apollo 16 moon capsule exploded.

The World

Honduran soldiers spread out through the thick, rain-soaked jungles south of the Gulf of Honduras, searching for a man who hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane between Allentown, Pa., and Washington and parachuted with $300,000 into this Central American nation.

Investigators for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reported that Laos and Cambodia were on the verge of toppling before North Vietnam concentrated its troops in the current offensive against South Vietnam.

Jerusalem-Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir says Romania is prepared to act as a go-between but not mediator to produce a Middle East settlement.

Anarchists, apparently anxious to avenge the execution of three of their members, set off a series of bombs in Istanbul, Turkey's largest city, injuring four persons.

The War

U.S. Navy warplanes shot down three North Vietnamese MIGs in dogfights 80 miles southwest of Hanoi but a Navy attack bomber was knocked down by a Communist antiaircraft missile, the U.S. command said.

North Vietnamese Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap, marking the 18th anniversary of his victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, said he has since defeated three American governments and is in the process of finishing off "the war of Nixon."

Winston Park Junior High School would like all parents to remember the ice cream social tomorrow evening 7:30 to 9 p.m. No need to prepare dessert for dinner — come to the school and enjoy both dessert and fellowship. While you're enjoying the food, go through your child's rooms and see his accomplishments for the year. You'll be surprised to see how much he has done and how well.

Many of these ice cream socials and open houses are the last official meeting of the year. Plan to attend and be interested in your child's school.

THURSDAY is Ascension Day and Christ Lutheran Church American Lutheran Church Women are planning a service at 10 a.m. at the church on Rohlfing Road. Pastor Griffin will give a brief meditation followed by a coffee hour. Nursery service will be provided.

MOTHERS AND Daughters will enjoy the banquet and fashion show at Christ Lutheran Church Friday at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday is the deadline for the tickets which cost $2.50 and $1.25 for 12 and under. Gladys Norrell, 359-4960, is ticket chairman or they are available at the church office.

Fashions will be by Marie Fashions — Town and Country. If you don't have a mother or a daughter borrow one. These events are always fun. What a nice way to begin your Mother's Day weekend.

THE BOOK is out! You will recall when we mentioned a book that was soon to be out by Karen Crook and Judy Anderson featuring arts and crafts of local people. It's here and I've seen it and it truly is great! You can have a copy by calling Karen at 358-4618 or Judy at 358-3952. Or you may send to P. O. Box 714, Palatine with 35 cents to cover postage and handling and the book is yours.

You would not believe all the wonderful crafts people make. I had no idea Palatine was so full of such talented people. Don't throw anything away — you may think it's trash, but someone could turn it into a thing of beauty.

DID YOU HEAR the lawn mowers roaring last weekend. One sound I do not welcome for summer, especially on Sunday morning! However, I guess that is part of the vicious cycle. We put food on the lawn so it will grow and then when it grows we cut it.

THIS IS THE time of year when we look forward to that ever popular summer vacation. As you are looking for places to go and things to do, don't forget beautiful Illinois. Our state has much to offer and there are things you can do in a day, a weekend or an extended stay.

Southern Illinois is quite historical. Did you know that Illinois ranks second in tourist attractions in the country. That is what was gathered from a survey done by the Bell Telephone Co. People were asked where they would most like to go for a vacation and our state was second only to Washington, D.C. And you were wondering what to do!

Call me if you know of any places where families can go for a week of fishing, golfing, swimming, tennis, and just relaxing. My number is 358-1025.

MRS. MARY CSANDI, principal of Kimball Hill School in Rolling Meadows, and Gene Schull, principal of Lake Louise School in Palatine, talk to teacher candidates as more candidates look at slides of the district while they wait their turn to be interviewed. Approximately 75 teacher candidates were interviewed by all 16 elementary teachers on the first of two placement days for elementary teachers.

Lutheran School Wants To Get To Know You

Immanuel Lutheran School in Palatine is participating in a special program this week to better acquaint community residents with the school.

The school's "Mission-in-Motion" program corresponds with similar efforts at the other 105 schools in the Chicago area which belong to the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod.

Orville G. Schaeffer, principal of the Palatine school, said the program is designed "to let the community know the school is here; a lot of people don't know we exist."

He indicated the school's enrollment the past three years, 275 students, is lower than the school's capacity of 325 students.

There were about 325 students enrolled in previous years, Schaeffer said, attributing the decline to fewer children being born in general and fewer families joining the church.

AS PART OF the "Mission-in-Motion" program, a special rededication of the school's teachers, board of education members, and parents of students was affirmed at Sunday's services. Rev. Theodore Braem, pastor of the church, officiated.

In addition, religion curriculum and Christian sex education materials will be displayed at The Optical Center, 47 W. Slade St., next week.

Youngsters at the school will participate in a quizdown at 1 p.m. Thursday in the school cafeteria, competing against students from St. Peter Lutheran School in Arlington Heights and St. Paul Lutheran School in Mount Prospect.

A pet show will be presented at the Palatine school at 12:30 p.m. Friday and prizes will be awarded.

The public is invited to attend the events.

Unit School Study Snubbed

An offer to join Elk Grove Twp. School Dist. 59 in a study of unit districts was turned down by Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 board of education, president Mrs. Dianne Hart said last week.

Mrs. Hart, after hearing a letter from Harry Peterson, Dist. 59 president, said "our interest in unit districts is in how it would affect Dist. 54."

She added that Dist. 54 appreciated the offer from the adjoining district and might contact Dist. 59 to share general information but she indicated Dist. 54 would conduct a separate study.

Adam Jelen asked by Mrs. Hart to chair a unification committee, declined the chairmanship. The education committee chairman Sherwood Spatz will begin that committee's study.

Jealous Husband Incident

Man Charged With Love Triangle Murder Attempt

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Richard Salinas, 26, of 905 W. Dundee Rd., in Palatine Township, was subdued by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs. Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs.

Anthony Abel, 1242N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband, Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and slight trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search for Salinas through several area communities.

They searched Salinas' home, located just south of the forest preserve, but were told that he may have gone to work at a local blacktop company.

Police learned that the firm had contracted a driveway job at 2211 Full, Rolling Meadows, and found Salinas driving a backhoe tractor there.

Sheriff's police cordoned the area with assistance from Rolling Meadows police, forced Salinas off the tractor and made the arrest.

The shotgun, reportedly, used in the shooting was found later at Salinas home, police said.

Salinas is being held in Cook County jail.

RICHARD SALINAS, who has been charged with attempted murder after a shotgun shooting at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve Friday, is subdued by Rolling Meadows and Cook County Sheriff's Police. Twenty pellets allegedly lodged in the back of Jose Lopez, after an argument over Salinas' wife. Two Arlington Heights residents were injured in an auto accident that occurred as Lopez was being taken to the hospital.

Placement Day Draws 75 Candidates

by JOANNE VAN WYE

Getting the best teachers and being fair to all applicants are the two main objectives of a new teacher recruitment process in Palatine-Rolling Meadows Elementary Dist. 15.

Approximately 75 prospective teachers were interviewed on Friday at Marion Jordan School in Palatine by the 16 elementary principals. This was the first of two placement days for elementary teachers. This Friday another 75 applicants for elementary teaching positions will be interviewed at a placement day at Hunting Ridge School in Palatine.

Applicants for junior high school positions were invited to a placement day last April 28 at Plum Grove School in Rolling Meadows.

The applicants were all screened prior to the placement days and only the best were invited back.

First the applicants were screened on the basis of letters they wrote asking for applications. An estimated 3,000 requests for applications were made out but only about 2,000 sent out.

Paul Jung, director of personnel, said that photocopies and dittoed letters were ignored because if a person was really interested they should take the trouble to write a personal letter. Also ignored were illegible letters. In mid-March the district stopped sending applications except to persons in areas that are hard to fill.

TO DATE, approximately 1,200 applications have been returned. The applications have been screened and only candidates who appeared to be good potentials were invited for an interview.

Jung already has interviewed an estimated 250 candidates for about an hour each. During the interviews he'll give them a hypothetical classroom situation and ask them how they would handle it, find out a little about their educational philosophy, goals, and objectives and just try to get a feeling of what they would like as a teacher.

Candidates who Jung feels are good potential teachers are then invited to the placement days so each principal can make his own evaluation and have a larger voice in the hiring.

"They are all good candidates or they wouldn't be here," said Robert Dellamaria, principal of Jane Addams School in Palatine. "What we are really doing is asking them to sell themselves."

Each candidate spent about five minutes with each of the principals. During this period the principals were able to find out a little about the applicant and the applicant learned a little about each school.

A folder with the applicant's resume, transcript, student teaching information and recommendations followed each applicant. The principals indicated on the folder whether they had seen the applicant and also rated each applicant.

ON THE BASIS of the brief interviews each principal will invite some of the applicants they are really interested in back to their school for more extensive interviews. See principals indicated they would be involving their entire staffs in the final interview process because all of the candidates are well qualified so personality and ability to get along with others has to play a major role.

By 10 a.m. most of the principals had already listed three or four applicants they would like to invite to the school.

All of the principals indicated they thought the new recruitment process was a good idea. The applicants also indicated they liked the process much more than some of the interviews they had gone to in other districts.

In the past, applicants were interviewed by a couple of principals and administrators on their campus. The interviewing process was not as extensive and also, some candidates not really interested in Dist. 15 went through the interviewing process just for the experience, eliminating the time available for good candidates interested in Dist. 15.

"IT IS NICE TO be able to talk to all of the different principals rather than just be a name on some one's files," said applicant Kathy Hammer. "It is really more fair because sometimes you don't hit it off well with one person but this way you get a chance with more than just one person."

"I feel much more relaxed because I am not under so much pressure being with each principal for only five or ten minutes," said Kris DeSario of Northwestern Illinois University.

"As my first experience, it's really an experience," said Penny Mikusch of Western Illinois University. "I feel a little drained out now. The questions weren't repetitious. Each principal was really a new experience."

Some of the other candidates disagreed and felt the process was somewhat repetitious but still a good idea.

No actual hiring will be done until after the placement days. Last year 78 new teachers were hired. This year Jung is only expecting about 30 vacancies on the teaching staff of 570.

High School Board May OK '72 Budget

The board of education of High School Dist. 214 will be asked to adopt the education fund operating budget for the 1972-73 school year at its meeting today.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

The proposed education fund budget has been developed by the district's budget committee and administration. As proposed it totals $22,384,750, an increase of nearly $2 million more than this year's budget.

The education fund is the largest of the district's taxing funds. Teachers are paid and educational supplies are purchased from the fund.

Also Monday, the board will discuss whether to continue shuttle bus services next year for students living in three areas of the district. The shuttle buses have been provided for students who live closer than 1 1/2 miles to their school but must walk along busy streets to school.

THE BOARD will discuss whether it should continue the shuttle service next year for students from Forest View High School in the Lake Briarwood subdivision south of Mount Prospect and for students in an area east of Arlington Heights Road and north of Golf Road, around Council Trails, Foster and Belmont streets.

In addition, the board will consider the shuttle service to Wheeling High School for students east of Elmhurst Road and north of Palatine Road.

The board will also receive a progress report on Buffalo Grove High School, now under construction at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads in Buffalo Grove, from the school's architects and will welcome American Field Service students from the various high schools to the meeting.

Area Teens To Visit Scotland

Two teen-agers from Inverness and one from Palatine will represent Illinois in a 4 1/2-week trip to Scotland and England this summer as part of a YMCA program.

Steven Conklin, 16, of 381 S. Grayfriars Ln., Inverness, a student at St. Vitor High School in Arlington Heights; Ruth Reed, 17, of 1720 Fifth Rd., Inverness, a student at Fremd High School, and Marilyn Proctor, 15, of 505 Stuart Ln., Palatine, also a student at Fremd High School, and Marilyn Proctor, 15, of 505

Stuart Ln., Palatine, also a student at Fremd, will be among 100 youths from the United States and the only ones from Illinois participating in the program.

The program is sponsored by the International Student Service of the YMCA. The youths will leave Chicago June 30 and spend three weeks in England and Scotland living in people's homes, then 10 days touring the countries.

They were selected for the trip after submitting applications and being screened.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

Handcuffed by Communist victories in Vietnam, the Senate and the war bloc is likely this week to put aside its attempt to legislate an end to American involvement in the conflict.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, with three primary wins under his belt, said his wide victory margin in North Carolina may prompt him to enter the California primary as a write-in candidate.

Henry A. Kissinger has postponed, for the second time in less than a month, his scheduled visit to Japan.

Texas, angered by two years of scandal in state government and 20 years of Democratic empire rule by Lyndon B. Johnson and John B. Connally, voted out their leaders in a rush for reform and sent the South's first black woman to Congress, primary returns showed.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers interrupted his nine-day European mission and returned to Washington for urgent talks with President Nixon on the Southeast Asian crisis.

Senate Democratic and Republican Leaders Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott returned from what they described as an "encouraging" 16-day visit to Communist China, and said they would report directly to President Nixon within two days.

About 30 persons were hospitalized in San Diego, Calif., after they breathed toxic nitric acid fumes created when a support cart defueling the Apollo 16 moon capsule exploded.

The World

Honduran soldiers spread out through the thick, rain-soaked jungles south of the Gulf of Honduras, searching for a man who hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane between Allentown, Pa., and Washington and parachuted with $305,000 into this Central American nation.

Investigators for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reported that Laos and Cambodia were on the verge of toppling before North Vietnam concentrated its troops in the current offensive against South Vietnam.

Jerusalem-Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir says Romania is prepared to act as a go-between but not mediator to produce a Middle East settlement.

Anarchists, apparently anxious to avenge the execution of three of their members, set off a series of bombs in Istanbul, Turkey's largest city, injuring four persons.

The War

U.S. Navy warplanes shot down three North Vietnamese MIGs in dogfights 80 miles southwest of Hanoi but a Navy attack bomber was knocked down by a Communist antiaircraft missile, the U.S. command said.

North Vietnamese Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap, marking the 18th anniversary of his victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, said he has since defeated three American governments and is in the process of finishing off "the war of Nixon."

If your youngster comes home from school and tells you he is studying the American Indian or pioneer life, you can be almost sure his school has enjoyed a visit from Kathy Brightwell, 4104 Owl Dr.

Kathy lectures on the American Indian and pioneer life and colonial arts and crafts. She has given more than 70 lectures in nine different school districts and also to senior citizen clubs and scout troops.

She has an extensive collection of Indian costumes, jewelry, bustles and bells for dancing, headbands and looms among many other items and Kathy mentioned that it takes two eight-foot tables to hold all of her collection.

"There are many items in my collection which cannot be replaced and my collection is worth a great deal of money, but the true value of it is sharing it with the children." Kathy went on to explain that she allows the children to try on some of the costumes while she tells them about the different types of Indians, their different ways of living and how they talk without speaking.

"I was, always interested in Indians and as a youngster I was fascinated with beadwork which always looked so complicated to me. Actually, it is very easy to do."

ANOTHER REASON for Kathy's interest in Indians just might be because husband Ron is one-eighth Creek Indian, making my children one-sixteenth Creek Indian.

Kathy's collection of colonial ware includes colonial costumes, dutch ovens that were actually used for baking, cast-iron tongs for handling meat in fireplaces that are more than 150 years old, a coal scuttle, a cornbread stick pan, also 150 years old and a stone jug for holding "corn likker" that had the actual corncob stopper in it.

Ron's main interest in pioneer customs is in woodcarving. "That's how he quit smoking," remarked Kathy. "He took up woodcarving and does an outstanding job."

Kathy maintains her interest and shares it with the Girl Scout troop in which she has taken part for 13 years. She teaches the girls beading and the troop made a quilt for which they have received many offers but Kathy stated the quilt belongs to the troop and is not for sale.

KATHY also does her own canning and has taught her neighbors to can. She sews her own draperies and slipcovers and is now working on the costumes for a play. She crochets, dabbles in art and is especially interested in Pennsylvania Dutch art, especially the hex signs. Kathy also mentioned that she helped charter the Central Road PTA and has served in almost every chair on the board.

She has been the school clown for the fun fair, organized a bootcamp for the park district that drew more than 10,000 kids, has held offices in the Junior Women's Club, is a member of the Rolling Meadows Music Boosters Club and is treasurer of the Mustang Boosters Club. She is now in charge of the Girl Scout Summer Day Camp and babysits for two children.

Ron and Kathy also are quite active at our new high school, chaperoning at dances and helping with the Christmas party and the homecoming dance.

"Ron was never one to become involved but he truly believes in our high school," Kathy remarked. "He is a member of the Booster publicity committee and draws the cartoons for the Booster newsletter, the Express."

RON AND KATHY are the parents of four children which may be one reason they're such a busy couple. Joe, 16, attends Rolling Meadows High School; Tammy, 13, is a student at Carl Sandburg; John, 10, and Billy Bob, 6, are both students at Central Road School.

The entire family also is very musical as they play many and varied instruments such as the banjo, guitar, piano, organ, flute, drums and the tripholi.

Last summer the Brightwells visited a Cherokee Reservation in North Carolina and this year are planning to spend 22 days in the Southwest, where they will visit several reservations.

City Council Will Meet Half Hour Late

Rolling Meadows City Council meetings will start one half hour later than usual beginning Tuesday, and continuing through the end of October.

The meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month will begin at 8:30 p.m., instead of 8 p.m.

MRS. MARY CSANDI, principal of Kimball Hill School in Rolling Meadows, and Gene Schull, principal of Lake Louise School in Palatine, talk to teacher candidates as more candidates look at slides of the district while they wait their turn to be interviewed. Approximately 75 teacher candidates were interviewed by all 16 elementary teachers on the first of two placement days for elementary teachers.

Lutheran School Wants To Get To Know You

Immanuel Lutheran School in Palatine is participating in a special program this week to better acquaint community residents with the school.

The school's "Mission-in-Motion" program corresponds with similar efforts at the other 106 schools in the Chicago area which belong to the Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod.

Orville G. Schaeffer, principal of the Palatine school, said the program is designed "to let the community know the school is here; a lot of people don't know we exist."

He indicated the school's enrollment the past three years, 275 students, is lower than the school's capacity of 325 students.

There were about 325 students enrolled in previous years, Schaeffer said, attributing the decline to fewer children being born in general and fewer families joining the church.

AS PART OF the "Mission-in-Motion" program, a special rededication of the school's teachers, board of education members, and parents of students was affirmed at Sunday's services. Rev. Theodore Braem, pastor of the church, officiated.

In addition, religion curriculum and Christian sex education materials will be displayed at The Optical Center, 47 W. Slade St., next week.

Youngsters at the school will partici-

in Arlington Heights and St. Paul Lutheran School in Mount Prospect.

Unit School Study Snubbed

An offer to join Elk Grove Twp. School Dist. 59 in a study of unit districts was turned down by Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 board of education, president Mrs. Dianne Hart said last week.

Mrs. Hart, after hearing a letter from Harry Peterson, Dist. 59 president, said "our interest in unit districts is in how it would affect Dist. 54."

She added that Dist. 54 appreciated the offer from the adjoining district and might contact Dist. 59 to share general information but she indicated Dist. 54 would conduct a separate study.

Adam Jelen asked by Mrs. Hart to chair a unification committee, declined the chairmanship. The education committee chairman Sherwood Spatz will begin that committee's study.

Assessment '70 Last Arguments Will Be Today

Attorneys for both sides in the Special Assessment '70 trial will present their closing arguments to the jury today.

At first it had been expected the case would be turned over to the jury Friday. But, unexpectedly lengthy cross-examinations of the village's real estate expert witness and disagreement over the nature of the instructions to the jury postponed any such action until today.

About 110 property owners from the Hatlen Heights area of Mount Prospect are objecting to the amounts they are being assessed by the village for a $634,000 storm sewer project that will alleviate flooding in the area. A jury trial on the dispute began last Monday.

Most of the court proceedings Friday were taken up with critical cross-examination of Jack Witaowsky, a real estate appraiser and consultant with 35 years' experience, who was called to the stand to testify for the village.

WITAOWSKY SAID that is his opinion the fair market value of homes in the assessed area "would increase approximately 5 per cent because of the sewer project. He estimated the price range of the homes in the Hatlen Heights area at $34,500 to $41,000, and said installation of the proposed sewer system would mean the value of properties there would increase between $1700 and $2,000.

Explaining the reason for his 5 per cent figure, Witaowsky said the area currently has a reputation for flooding. Asked what the reputation does to the area, he said, "It suppresses the real estate market and makes the market very slow. Also, the houses tend to sell at a price below what they normally do."

Under cross-examination that grew lengthy and sharp at times, Witaowsky admitted he had appraised only the homes of the objectors. He said that in no case did he enter any of the homes, but only examined them from the outside.

To this William Moore, an attorney for one group of objecting property owners, asked, "Didn't you assume the benefit without finding out what the facts were at all?" Witaowsky replied this was not true.

MOORE maintained that some of the Mount Prospect properties being assessed were not associated with the Hatlen Heights area and thus would not even receive the benefit of having the flood stigma removed from them.

Moore also made a motion to strike all of Witaowsky's testimony from the record. Moore contended the real estate witness had demonstrated little knowledge of the area and had assumed an across-the-board increase of 5 per cent on property values if the system were installed.

Judge Helen McGillicuddy denied the motion to strike Witaowsky's testimony, a motion supported by the other attorneys representing objectors.

After some 20 minutes more of cross-examination, James Traynor, another attorney representing objectors, made a similar motion to have Witaowsky's testimony stricken from the record. Traynor maintained that Witaowsky had demonstrated "no knowledge of the area." Yet another attorney for the objectors, J. William Braithwaite, joined Traynor, saying Witaowsky's testimony was based on "wild hearsay."

SUPPORTING THE motion was Edward Finnegan, also an attorney for a group of objectors. Said Finnegan, "We haven't heard his (Witaowsky's) opinion — just the name of some unnamed person from Nelson Realty Co. (Finnegan was referring to Witaowsky's statement on the stand that he had consulted the manager of Nelson Realty while making his appraisals.)

Judge McGillicuddy denied the motion. A renewed objection by Finnegan that the project should not be considered a local improvement was also denied by the judge.

A motion to drop assessments against eight property owners along Busse Road was taken under advisement by the judge.

FIRE SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK was climaxed Saturday at the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect with a demonstration by firemen of how they remove victims from an auto accident. Here, firemen pry open a car door. "Victims" were then flown by helicopter to Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Also Saturday firemen fought a simulated fire at the shopping center. Almost 20 area fire departments took part in the week-long observance at the shopping center. It was sponsored by the Elk Grove Village and Mount Prospect fire departments. Demonstrations of various firefighting and rescue techniques were held nightly at the shopping center also.

Eye Low-Income Housing Need Survey

A survey of Mount Prospect residents on the need for low and moderate-income housing in the village is being considered by the village's community services and mental health commission.

Dr. Michael Ruane, commission chairman, said, "We have decided we need information on the matter and we will try to set up a survey." Commission members have not yet decided how the survey will be taken or what questions will be included. The decision to take the survey was made at the commission's meeting Thursday.

The group's next meeting is planned for June 1. At that time commission members plan to meet with Arlington Heights officials who performed a similar survey in that village.

The question of low and moderate-income housing in the village was turned over to the commission earlier this year. Last September the matter was first brought before the village board by the Mount Prospect-Prospect Heights Human Relations Committee.

The committee urged the board to study what it termed "the inequities in housing that affect the village." A resolution stating there was a need for such housing in Mount Prospect was considered earlier this year by the village's public health and safety committee. Rather than voting on the resolution, the committee referred the matter to the commission.

Name Health Services Director

Marjorie C. Boswell has been hired as Mount Prospect's first director of health services. Village Mgr. Robert J. Eppley made the announcement Friday.

In a letter to the village board, Eppley said, "I have asked her to serve as staff liaison person with the board of health and she will set up the department of health services."

Continuing, Eppley said, "Up to now, although the (village code provided for a health department, our health inspections were performed more from a crisis than a scheduled point of view since only part-time personnel were available." Eppley predicted the start of a "professionally oriented public health program" under Mrs. Boswell's supervision.

In her new job Mrs. Boswell, a Palatine resident, will be paid $12,000 yearly. She is a registered nurse and a registered sanitarian.

In Palatine she served as both a health inspector and later as director of public health.

Prior to Mrs. Boswell's appointment as a full-time health director, health inspections had been conducted by a part-time health official and two assistants. Village Finance Director Richard Jesse has estimated the three spent between 45 and 50 hours each month on the job.

As early as last October, the village's public health and safety committee considered the hiring of a full-time health director. Funds for Mrs. Boswell's salary were included in the new village budget.

St. Emily's Gives Aged A 'Day Out'

Saturday meant something special for about 250 Chicago-area aged and infirm residents.

The congregation at St. Emily's Catholic Church in Mount Prospect acted as host for about 250 individuals from the northern half of Cook County and Lake County.

The day was set up and coordinated by the Apostolate of the Handicapped, a group of volunteers that arranges outings and provides transportation the first Saturday of each month for infirm senior citizens.

Herz Has His Day In Court

Victor F. Herz, of 211 Hatlen Ave., Mount Prospect, finally had his day in court.

Herz is one of 110 property owners who was objecting to the amounts of their assessments for the Special Assessment '70 storm sewer project.

But Herz's case was somewhat different from that of his neighbors. According to last Tuesday's engineering testimony, the proposed underground 72-inch interceptor sewer line would pass within four feet of his home's foundation. In addition, the necessary easement and construction in his backyard would mean the removal of most of the trees, bushes and grass.

A real estate official Wednesday testified that instead of Herz receiving any benefit from the proposed project, his home value actually would drop by $4,000 because of the backyard work.

HERZ, who bought his home in December, 1969, testified Wednesday that the village offered him $150 for the easement. He added that the village's public works department told him no effort would be made to replace the trees, shrubbery or grass.

Herz's yard was one of the places the jury visited when they made their bus trip to the assessed area on Wednesday.

Under questioning, Herz revealed he had called the village's attorney, Kenneth O. Stoness, to ask him about replacement planting and was told by the lawyer that "he would have his day in court."

That day came Wednesday.

Contract Talk Hit Standstill

by RICH HONACK

Contract talks between the Elementary Dist. 21 Board of Education and the Wheeling Faculty Council are at a standstill for the fifth time in eight meetings.

Entering what was expected to be final meeting on the procedural section of the contract, the council turned down three of the board's four counter proposals.

If accepted the board's proposal on binding arbitration in grievance procedures, but would go no further on other times.

The council feels it cannot agree on a policy statement from the board concerning the scope of the contract. Nor does it feel it can accept the board's proposed contract without fact-finding as part of the impasse procedure.

The council also feels that before it signs a multi-year agreement on the procedural section it must have the assurance that the "strike clause" in that section can be reopened yearly.

THE SCOPE problem is not a new one to the talks, but indications at an earlier meeting were that it would be settled with a policy statement from the board.

Larry Halter, spokesman for council and Illinois Education Association representative, said he will only accept the policy statement if it is included in the contract.

tion, we are going to hold back items. It is just natural for both sides to react in this manner," said Barger.

HALTER ASKED what happens if the talks cannot be settled by mediation, but the board did not give a concrete answer.

The council agreed to the board's wording in the "strike clause," which was bothersome in the past, but it wants that clause to expire at the same time as salaries and fringe benefits.

The board answered with a flat "no."

Halter said the board must give in to the complete reopening clause, including mediation, fact finding and the strike clause, "before it will ever get a multi-year agreement on any section of the contract."

Both teams said they will return to the bargaining table at 4 p.m. tomorrow with counter-proposals for the three areas of disagreement.

"If we see the board is not giving any more than they have in the past it is just possible we will call a formal impasse at this meeting," said Halter.

Love-Triangle Murder Try Charged

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Richard Salinas, 36, of 605 W. Dundee Rd., in Palatine Township, was subdued by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs. Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abel, 1242N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband. Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and slight trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search for Salinas through several area communities.

They searched Salinas' home, located just south of the forest preserve, but were told that he may have gone to work at a local blacktop company.

Police learned that the firm had contracted a driveway job at 2211 Fulle, Rolling Meadows, and found Salinas driving a backhoe tractor there.

Sheriff's police cordoned the area with assistance from Rolling Meadows police, forced Salinas off the tractor and made the arrest.

The shotgun, reportedly used in the shooting was found later at Salinas home, police said.

Jealous Husband Incident

Man Charged With Love Triangle Murder Attempt

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

High School Board May OK '72 Budget

The board of education of High School Dist. 214 will be asked to adopt the education fund operating budget for the 1972-73 school year at its meeting today.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. in the administration building, 799 W. Kensington Rd., Mount Prospect.

The proposed education fund budget has been developed by the district's budget committee and administration. As proposed it totals $22,384,750, an increase of nearly $2 million more than this year's budget.

The education fund is the largest of the district's taxing funds. Teachers are paid and educational supplies are purchased from the fund.

Also Monday, the board will discuss whether to continue shuttle bus services next year for students living in three areas of the district. The shuttle buses have been provided for students who live closer than 1 1/2 miles to their school but must walk along busy streets to school.

THE BOARD will discuss whether it should continue the shuttle service next year for students from Forest View High School in the Lake Briarwood subdivision south of Mount Prospect and for students in an area east of Arlington Heights Road and north of Golf Road, around Council Trails, Foster and Belmont streets.

In addition, the board will consider the shuttle service to Wheeling High School for students east of Elmhurst Road and north of Palatine Road.

The board will also receive a progress report on Buffalo Grove High School, now under construction at Arlington Heights and Dundee roads in Buffalo Grove, from the school's architects and will welcome American Field Service students from the various high schools to the meeting.

Fire Reported At Ma & Pa's Store

A fire yesterday morning caused extensive damage at Ma and Pa's Country Candy Store in downtown Arlington Heights.

The fire was reported at 7:50 a.m. and firemen searched the smoke-filled building at 123 E. Davis before finding the flames in a back room on the first floor.

Capt. Ray Stark of the Arlington Heights Fire Department said "there was little structural damage but much of the contents of the building was ruined." An antique store also was located in the building and Stark said much of the merchandise was destroyed.

There also was extensive smoke damage, the firemen said. An official estimate of the damage was not available yesterday afternoon.

Firemen worked for about 30 minutes before the fire was extinguished. Cause of the blaze was not known.

Township Says Welfare Cases Up 58%

Elk Grove Township had a 58 per cent increase in the number of welfare cases reported during the 1971-72 fiscal year, according to figures released by township officials.

The increased cases involved a 78 per cent jump in number of persons on the general assistance rolls of the township during the fiscal year, according to William Rohling, township supervisor.

A total of $42,864 was spent for home relief, hospitalization and burial during the fiscal year, which ended March 1, Rohling said. The amount represents a 55 per cent increase in expenses from the $27,699 spent during the 1970-71 fiscal year.

Rohling noted that the township welfare budget has been increased 41 per cent from $58,800 to $83,950 to cover anticipated welfare costs for the 1972-73 fiscal year.

cal year.

A TOWNSHIP welfare assistant, Margaret Blaschke, reported that a record number 387 cases involving 1,277 persons received general assistance from the township during the fiscal year. Some 245 cases involving 717 persons were reported during the 1970-71 fiscal year.

In the 1968-70 fiscal year, 180 cases and 632 cases were reported by the township. The caseload increased 115 per cent and the number of persons helped 102 per cent from the 1968-70 to the 1971-72 fiscal year, Mrs. Blaschke noted.

The township's increasing role in assistance apparently is caused at least in part by the agency's ability to give immediate aid to families hit by sickness or accident. While other agencies require time limits before giving assistance, the township can help immediately, township officials explained.

GENERAL assistance cases are handled at the township level because such cases cannot be referred to the state. Cases involving dependent children and medical disabilities are maintained by the township for an interim period. The average general assistance recipient stays on the township rolls for 30 to 60 days, though some receive aid on and off for months, officials said.

Officials in Schaumburg Township also have reported an increase in the number of welfare cases. More than twice as many families received aid from the Schaumburg Township office during 1971-72 than in 1970-71, officials reported.

In Wheeling Township, a smaller increase was reported. The number of families receiving aid increased from 114 in 1970-71 to 147 in 1971-72.

This Morning In Brief

The Nation

Handcuffed by Communist victories in Vietnam, the Senate end-the-war bloc is likely this week to put aside its attempt to legislate an end to American involvement in the conflict.

Alabama Gov. George Wallace, with three primary wins under his belt, said his wide victory margin in North Carolina may prompt him to enter the California primary as a write-in candidate.

Henry A. Kissinger has postponed, for the second time in less than a month, his scheduled visit to Japan.

Texas, angered by two years of scandal in state government and 20 years of Democratic empire rule by Lyndon B. Johnson and John B. Connally, voted out their leaders in a rush for reform and sent the South's first black woman to Congress, primary returns showed.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers interrupted his nine-day European mission and returned to Washington for urgent talks with President Nixon on the Southeast Asian crisis.

Senate Democratic and Republican Leaders Mike Mansfield and Hugh Scott returned from what they described as an "encouraging" 18-day visit to Communist China, and said they would report directly to President Nixon within two days.

About 30 persons were hospitalized in San Diego, Calif., after they breathed toxic nitric acid fumes created when a support cart deflating the Apollo 16 moon capsule exploded.

The World

Honduran soldiers spread out through the thick, rain-soaked jungles south of the Gulf of Honduras, searching for a man who hijacked an Eastern Airlines plane between Allentown, Pa., and Washington and parachuted with $303,000 into this Central American nation.

Investigators for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reported that Laos and Cambodia were on the verge of toppling before North Vietnam concentrated its troops in the current offensive against South Vietnam.

Jerusalem-Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir says Romania is prepared to act as a go-between but not mediator to produce a Middle East settlement.

Anarchists, apparently anxious to avenge the execution of three of their members, set off a series of bombs in Istanbul, Turkey's largest city, injuring four persons.

The War

U.S. Navy warplanes shot down three North Vietnamese MIGs in dogfights 80 miles southwest of Hanoi but a Navy attack bomber was knocked down by a Communist antiaircraft missile, the U.S. command said.

North Vietnamese Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap, marking the 18th anniversary of his victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu, said he has since defeated three American governments and is in the process of finishing off "the war of Nixon."

Contract Talks Hit Standstill

by RICH HONACK

Contract talks between the Elementary Dist. 21 Board of Education and the Wheeling Faculty Council are at a standstill for the fifth time in eight meetings.

Entering what was expected to be final meeting on the procedural section of the contract, the council turned down three of the board's four counter proposals.

It accepted the board's proposal on binding arbitration in grievance procedures, but would go no further on other times.

The council feels it cannot agree on a policy statement from the board concerning the scope of the contract. Nor does it feel it can accept the board's proposed contract without fact-finding as part of the impasse procedure.

The council also feels that before it signs a multi-year agreement on the procedural section it must have the assurance that the "strike clause" in that section can be reopened yearly.

THE SCOPE problem is not a new one to the talks, but indications at an earlier meeting were that it would be settled with a policy statement from the board.

Larry Halter, spokesman for council and Illinois Education Association representative, said he will only accept the policy statement if it is included in the contract.

"The association fears that if it is not sealed in the contract the board may, at any time, change its mind and the policy," he explained.

John Barger, spokesman for the board, said it was a matter of trust. He said the board must go on its past record and it has never taken back a policy that has benefited the teachers.

He added, "We will never accept putting the policy in the contract."

Halter disagrees with the board's counterproposal to leave out fact-finding from the impasse procedure. They feel it is necessary and vital to the talks.

The board, on the other hand, feels the impasse procedure should only go as far as mediation.

"If we keep bargaining and know there is still another step to go after mediation, we are going to hold back items. It is just natural for both sides to react in this manner," said Barger.

HALTER ASKED what happens if the talks cannot be settled by mediation, but the board did not give a concrete answer.

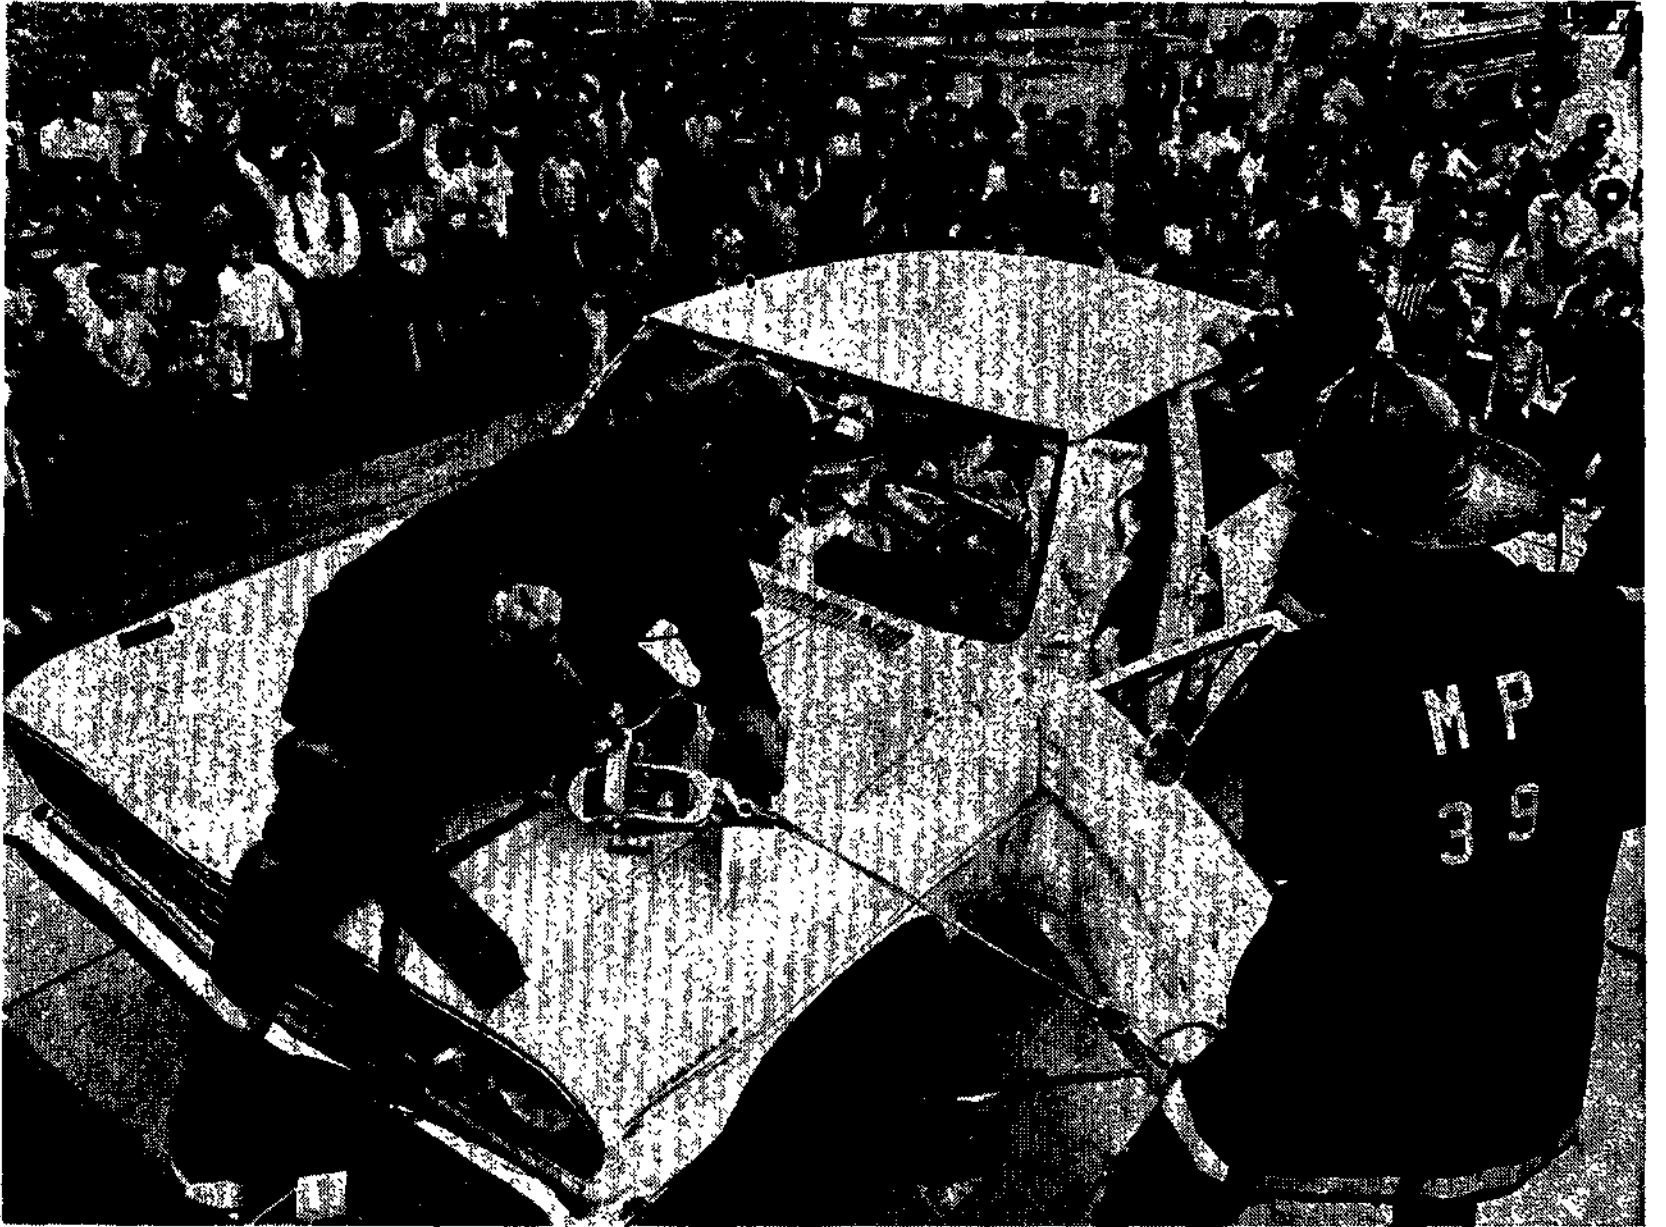

The council agreed to the board's wording in the "strike clause," which was bothersome in the past, but it wants that clause to expire at the same time as salaries and fringe benefits.

The board answered with a flat "no."

Halter said the board must give in to the complete reopening clause, including mediation, fact finding and the strike clause, "before it will ever get a multi-year agreement on any section of the contract."

Both teams said they will return to the bargaining table at 4 p.m. tomorrow with counter-proposals for the three areas of disagreement.

"If we see the board is not giving any more than they have in the past it is just possible we will call a formal impasse at this meeting," said Halter.

FIRE SERVICE RECOGNITION WEEK was climaxed Saturday at the Randhurst Shopping Center in Mount Prospect with a demonstration by firemen of how they remove victims from an auto accident. Here, firemen pry open a car door. "Victims" were then flown by helicopter to Holy Family Hospital in Des Plaines. Also Saturday firemen fought a simulated fire at the shopping center. Almost 20 area fire departments took part in the week-long observance at the shopping center. It was sponsored by the Elk Grove Village and Mount Prospect fire departments. Demonstrations of various firefighting and rescue techniques were held nightly at the shopping center also.

Fined $100 For Fuel Tax Evasion

Ernest Stavros of Prospect Heights has been fined $100 after a Cook County Circuit Court judge found him guilty of acting as a bulk user of diesel fuel without a license, according to George Mahin, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Department agents said Stavros, who operates Stavros Bros. Farm Equipment Co., 1030 S. Milwaukee Ave., with his brother, James, was using untaxed diesel fuel for farm equipment in company trucks. Untaxed diesel fuel may be used in farm equipment but not for over-the-road trucks.

Stavros, 54, was arrested March 15 at Whipple Tree Village Mobile Home Park, which he manages. His case was heard May 2 by Associate Judge Marvin Peters.

Wins $1,000 Grant

A student from John Hersey High School has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship to Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H. Alan Pritz of 817 N. Drury Ln., Arlington Heights, is a senior at the school, where he ranks eighth in a class of 600. He is vice president of the school's student council and president of the National Honor Society.

Schools Fail In Racial Education, Says Tom Deet

by NANCY COWGER

The schools have failed to prepare the minds of young white children to live in brotherhood in a multi-racial society, according to Tom Deet, a Hanover Park resident and a member of the Open Door Society (ODS).

He urged a campaign for more exposure of multi-racial ideas in school systems.

Deet spoke at a meeting Tuesday night of Community Life Program, a Schaumburg Township volunteer organization formed this year to provide emergency assistance for families needing aid in areas ranging from medical help to budget management counseling.

But Deet's remarks generally were addressed at the "Northwest suburbs" racist society. The criticisms he expressed of the suburbs as a region he applied to the local area as well. And the actions he urged on local residents were part of a general campaign he said would be mounted to deal with school systems and other institutions.

"We're going to be moving into the area of educational systems," Deet said. ODS has met with high level state education office personnel, and "we'll be setting up meetings with curriculum directors everywhere."

"WE BELIEVE essentially that school systems have failed in the responsibility of preparing minds of young white children to exist in brotherhood and dignity in a multi-racial society," Deet said. "We will move in an institutional way into school systems at the state and local level."

"I came here hoping for some action," Deet said. He listed steps he wished individuals take, beginning with calling and writing letters to school board members in Dist. 54 supporting introduction of material dealing with such areas as the history and academic contributions of minority persons.

"Voice your concerns to school board members. Write letters to them. Start right here in your own school system helping your teachers to help your children grow up with freer attitudes toward other races," said Deet. He also suggested the residents talk with Catholic school officials.

DEET SAID he came to report what was happening and enlist local aid, and referred to a recent cross burning incident after a white family with an 11-month-old adopted daughter bought a home in Hanover Park.

"I could offer analysis, criticism — tell you you're a bunch of racists and the Northwest suburbs are a racist society. I would like to come back and tell how ODS views the Northwest suburbs. Because of the nature, the very constitution of the Northwest suburbs, we are a society very isolated from minority races. Our white suburbs must begin right now to educate ourselves as to how we'll act when we are integrated," Deet said.

A number of township residents took issue with Deet's words, among them Township Supervisor Vernon Laubenstein.

Laubenstein asked if the Hanover Park incident as "a scene to create an incident," suggesting representatives of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference entered the situation "so quickly."

LAUBENSTEIN CITED incidents of friendship between township blacks and whites.

"This is what's really happening, sir. I'm not apologizing and I don't think we ought to develop a guilt complex for things that don't exist. There are bigots, but let's not create an artificial climate of concern or racism," Laubenstein said.

Deet responded that black Schaumburg youngsters have been chased home from school by other children calling them derogatory names and said a black Hoffman Estates family had a bomb thrown on its front lawn. However, he said, "There are an awful lot of people here with goodwill."

Township Police Report Due

A report on whether residents in unincorporated Elk Grove Township are willing to pay more taxes for additional police protection should be ready late next week, according to town officials.

A questionnaire was sent to residents in unincorporated areas asking if they were satisfied with their present police protection and if they were willing to pay a $6 tax per $10,000 assessed property valuation to improve it.

Residents also were asked whether or not they preferred a police car to patrol the unincorporated areas regularly or just be on call to respond to emergencies.

Town Auditor Bernard Lee has said he believed the township could provide a squad car and manpower to protect the unincorporated areas from dusk to dawn, seven days a week, for $40,000 a year.

Lee said a property tax of $6 per $10,000 assessed valuation would provide the funds to finance the additional police protection.

A referendum would have to be passed by voters, before the tax could be levied.

Lee said if such a referendum is passed, township officials would talk to villages within the township about contracting for police service.

In February members of several homeowners association in unincorporated areas asked the town board to provide extra police protection. At that time a survey was suggested to find out how many persons were willing to pay for the service.

Currently the unincorporated areas are protected by Cook County Sheriff's police.

District Textbook Fees To Be $10.75

Each first through eighth grade student in Elk Grove Township Dist. 59 schools will pay a textbook fee of about $10.75 next year.

The Dist. 59 Board of Education last week voted to equally assess the cost of textbooks between the more than 10,000 elementary and junior high school students in the district.

Supt. James Ervitt estimated this would mean some $120,000 available for books with the $10.75 fee.

There is no book fee for kindergarten.

The board's action reinstated a policy approved last summer that each student pay his share of the textbook expenditures. The policy was suspended Aug. 16 due to the federal wage-price freeze.

Instead, this past year a $10 textbook fee was charged each pupil with a maximum of two children per family paying the fee.

BOARD MEMBER Sharrie Hildebrandt opposed the proposed textbook fees saying books belong in the education fund.

"I feel that textbooks are a germane part of the education of our children," she said. "They are not a frill; they belong in the educational fund."

Ervitt told the board that textbook fees could not be eliminated without a referendum.

The school board also voted to charge students participating in the district's "pay bus" program part of the transportation cost. Students living more than eight-tenths mile and less than 1½ mile may choose to ride a school bus on payment of a transportation fee. Transportation is provided at no cost to students living more than 1½ miles from the school.

Under the board's policy, 60 per cent of the average cost of bus transportation would be charged each student.

This year a $25 fee was charged each student riding the "pay bus" up to three children in the family.

Unit School Study Snubbed

An offer to join Elk Grove Twp. School Dist. 59 in a study of unit districts was turned down by Schaumburg Township School Dist. 54 board of education, president Mrs. Dianne Hart said last week.

Mrs. Hart, after hearing a letter from Harry Peterson, Dist. 59 president, said "our interest in unit districts is in how it would affect Dist. 54."

She added that Dist. 54 appreciated the offer from the adjoining district and might contact Dist. 59 to share general information but she indicated Dist. 54 would conduct a separate study.

MIKE VANVAERENBURGH, 14, and Kevin Haanon, Of Dimas Walkathon held Saturday in the area. hoped they would be the first to complete the 12, were two of about 100 marchers in the March. These two boys were the first out to walk and march.

Law And Order At Chippewa Junior High

by JACK PENCHOFF

Law and order came to Chippewa Junior High School Friday as members of the Northwest Suburban Bar Association staged the mock trial of a student "charged" with hit-and-run driving.

During the hour-long hearing of a case that in real life would probably take months to complete, a jury of 12 seventh and eighth graders listened to the evidence presented by a methodical prosecutor, to the arguments of a persuasive defense attorney and the advice of a black-robed judge—all bar association members.

The jury was out for just 10 minutes, deliberating secretly. The 450 Chippewa students assembled in the "courtroom" had also made up their minds and when the jury returned and announced its verdict, they cheered in agreement.

John Stewart, played by student Ed Hajeet, was accused of leaving the scene of an accident involving personal injury at an intersection near the school.

Court convened when the bailiff, portrayed by student William Honeycott, called the "courtroom" to order and warned the students that smoking and eating were not allowed.

The clerk, Rosemarie Hongola, called the case—State of Illinois versus John Stewart. The jury was told by Atty. Charles Hug of Des Plaines, who acted as assistant state's attorney, that Stewart's auto struck another car after turning on to Golf Road from Fourth Avenue. The driver then left the scene of the accident in violation of the law.

Atty. Michael Ushijima of Rosemont, who acted as defense counsel, acknowledged that his client's car was involved in the accident but said Stewart wasn't driving it when the collision took place.

Hug's witnesses included a Des Plaines policeman, played by Jay Decker; a Des Plaines fireman, portrayed by Ted Holloway; a witness to the accident, student Jeff Johnson; and the other driver in the collision played by Michael Ochwat.

The prosecutor tried to show that after the accused hit-and-run driver sped away from the scene of the accident, he drove to his home, sneaked up a back stairway and went to sleep.

The policeman, according to testimony, awakened him an hour later and found his wet, muddy shoes lying next to the bed. Hug said the wet shoes contradicted the defendant's claim that he had been asleep for five hours before the investigating officer woke him up.

Defense Atty. Ushijima called Stewart's brother to the stand. He said Stewart was home sleeping at the time of the accident. The defendant himself also testified that he was not involved.

On cross-examination, the prosecutor tried to refute their testimony, showing that Stewart's brother may not have heard him leave or return because the back door could not be seen from where the brother was sitting and watching television.

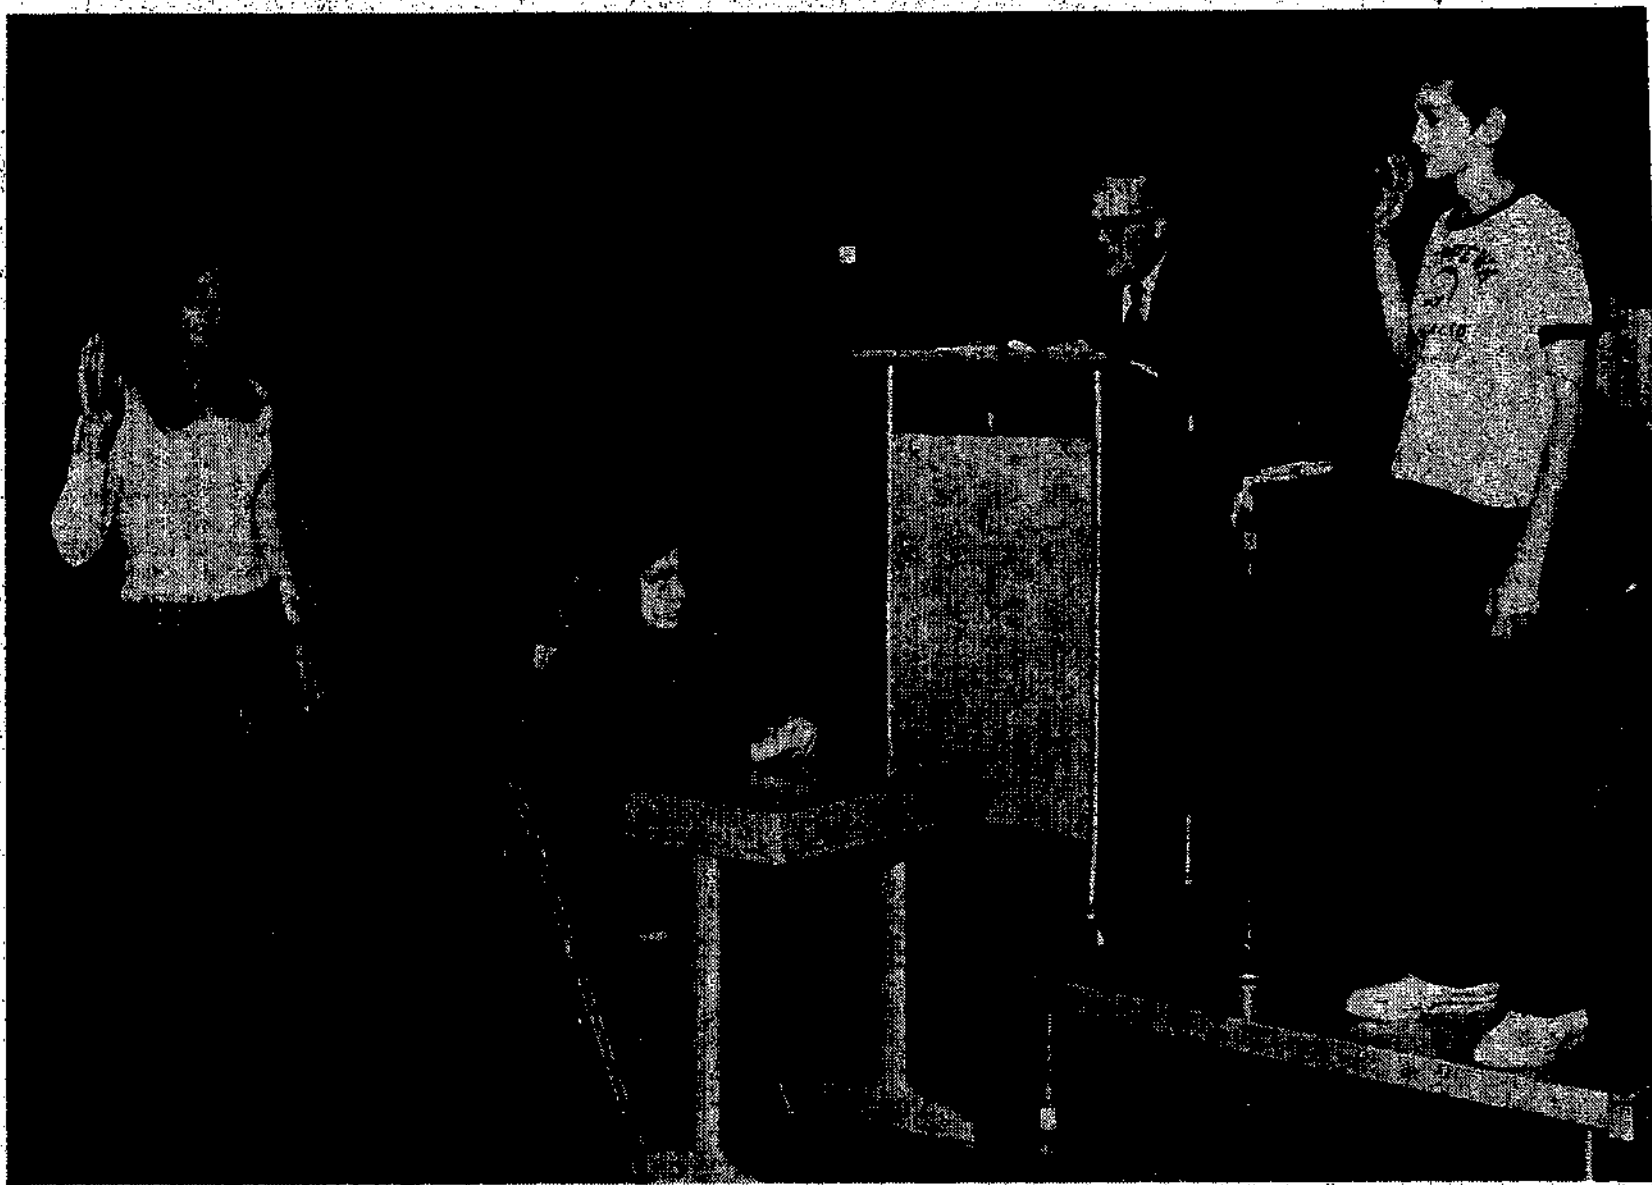

The defense said that Stewart's car had been stolen by someone who was involved in the accident and was later returned to Stewart's driveway.

The case then went to the jury. While the 12 students deliberated, the judge, played by Atty. Wilhelm Leyander of Des Plaines, answered questions and heard comments from the audience.

"He was framed," one student said. "His brother did it," said another. The audience, veterans of television courtroom dramas, obviously sided with the defendant, who was being tried solely on circumstantial evidence.

After 10 minutes, the jury members filed back in. They too questioned the evidence and announced that Stewart was not guilty, to the cheers and applause of the assembled Chippewa students.

The mock trial lacked the endless continuances, recesses and delays that mark real-life jury cases. But the bar association members handled it realistically. Their student audience saw that even an ordinary hit-and-run case can have all the drama of a television courtroom spectacular.

ACCUSED "HIT AND RUN" driver, played by student Ed Hajeet, is sworn in by clerk Rosemarie Hongola, left, at the rehearsal for last Friday's mock trial at Chippewa Junior High School in Des Plaines. Court reporter, played by Nancy Schiller, also took part in the Law Day observance sponsored by the Northwest Suburban Bar Assn.

Waycinden Park Tax Hike Expected

A tax raise for Waycinden Park residents is expected to result from a meeting Wednesday between Des Plaines city officials and representatives of the Elk Grove Rural Fire Protection district.

Waycinden, a 30-acre unincorporated Elk Grove Township community surrounded by Des Plaines, is part of the rural fire district which purchases fire protection service from the city.

Waycinden residents are now considering whether to seek annexation to the city. One of the main factors involved in a possible desire for annexation, Waycinden homeowner spokesmen have indicated, is the growing need for more governmental services, including police protection, and the added taxes which would result.

LAST YEAR, Waycinden residents paid about $9,000 to the city for Des Plaines Fire Department protection, according to City Clerk Eleanor Rohrbach. The tax rate within the rural fire district is $1.35 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Within the City of Des Plaines, the tax rate last year for fire protection was $1.95 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Several aldermen have said during city council meetings that Waycinden residents are "getting a bargain" because they are paying less for fire protection than city residents.

Ald. John Setz (7th), chairman of the council's fire committee, has said a tax raise will receive a careful examination.

Waycinden contains about 300 homes and 2,000 residents. It is located east of Elmhurst Road in an area bounded generally by Algonquin Road, Mount Prospect Road and Thacker-Dempster street.

Spokesmen for the Waycinden Park Homeowners Association, eighth ward aldermen and Des Plaines Mayor Herbert Behrel met last month to discuss possible annexation of the subdivision.

Behrel met last week with the president of Citizens Waycinden Utilities Co. to discuss possible city purchase of the Waycinden water supply system. The Citizens board is expected to discuss city activities in studying annexation, and a study may be made to determine the selling price for the Waycinden water system, Mayor Behrel has said.

The water supply, which mostly comes from the City of Chicago, was found "adequate to meet present and future water needs."

Buettner suggested that the city could receive $300,000 for the proposed water system improvements from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The rest could be raised through a bond issue, to be paid with revenues from water use, the report states.

About 25 per cent of the cost of these bonds would eventually be paid by city industries, which use a high volume of water, according to Buettner. The cost to the average residential customer would be $4.70 a year, the report states.

City Weighs Upgrading Water System

Des Plaines aldermen will meet tonight to discuss proposals for $2 million in improvements in the city water system.

The proposals, made last week in a report from a city-hired consulting firm, included "immediate" construction of a new pumping station, a 4-million-gallon reservoir and almost five miles of new water mains to improve the city's "totally inadequate" water pumping system.

The consulting firm, Carl F. Buettner and Associates Inc. of St. Louis, also proposed construction within four years of another pumping station, a 3-million-gallon reservoir and 14,000 feet of pipeline.

Representatives of the Buettner firm will attend tonight's meeting at 8 p.m. in City Hall, 1412 Miller, to answer questions from city officials.

ACCORDING TO the $11,200 report, "the present storage facilities and distribution system are totally inadequate to handle present maximum daily use."

The firm found low water pressure in important mains, malfunctioning storage tanks and other water circulation problems in the water system, which contains pipes installed before 1900.

The water supply, which mostly comes from the City of Chicago, was found "adequate to meet present and future water needs."

Buettner suggested that the city could receive $300,000 for the proposed water

Indict Elmhurst Man For Armed Robbery

An Elmhurst man, arrested by Des Plaines police Feb. 17 moments after he allegedly held up a dry cleaning store, was indicted yesterday by a Cook County Grand Jury on six counts of armed robbery.

Richard Clinton Harrison, 34, of 988 Virginia Ln., Elmhurst, was arrested outside the One Hour Martinizing store, 68 E. Northwest Hwy., Des Plaines, with $35 taken from a woman attendant.

The police had staked out the store because of other cleaning store armed robberies that occurred earlier in the area.

Harrison was indicted for the three Des Plaines cleaning store robberies; a Mount Prospect cleaning store; a stick-up and two holdups last December at a Niles art gallery. No date has been set for trial.

RICHARD SALINAS, who has been charged with attempted murder after a shotgun shooting at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve Friday, is subdued by Rolling Meadows and Cook County Sheriff's Police. Two Arlington Heights residents were injured in an auto accident that occurred as Lopez was being taken to the hospital.

Oakton Organizes Speakers Bureau

Oakton Community College has organized a speakers bureau made up of volunteers within the college and the community who will provide programs for civic groups, schools and special interest groups in Niles and Maine townships.

Oakton has 72 speakers on file who have volunteered to speak on 185 topics. Nineteen of these speakers are members of the Oakton College staff; the remainder were recruited from Niles-Maine Townships and some outlying communities, according to Jean Becker, assistant to the director of learning resources who is coordinating the program for the college.

Shirley Ellkin of Des Plaines has volunteered to assist the staff of Oakton Community College one day a week to help coordinate the "human resource pool" matching speakers with organizations. She has compiled a "topic table" which will be mailed to civic groups, schools and interested groups in the very near future.

Anyone interested in volunteering as a member of the "human resource pool" or in requesting a speaker from the pool should contact either Mrs. Becker or Mrs. Ellkin at 967-5126, Ext. 332.

Love-Triangle Murder Try Charged

by DOUG RAY

An apparent jealous husband has been charged with attempted murder after he allegedly fired a shotgun blast into the back of another man at the Deer Grove Forest Preserve, north of Palatine.

Richard Salinas, 26, of 805 W. Dundee Rd. in Palatine Township, was subdued by Cook County Sheriff's Police at noon Friday in Rolling Meadows, two hours after he reportedly fired 20 shotgun pellets into the back, head and shoulders of Jose Lopez, 24, of Chicago.

Lopez's condition "is not critical," according to spokesman at Northwest Community Hospital in Arlington Heights, where he is hospitalized.

According to police, Lopez and Mrs. Paulina Salinas, 24, were "sitting in the car talking" at the forest preserve, when Salinas found them. He took a shotgun from a red pickup truck, police said, and shot Lopez as he fled toward the woods.

AS LOPEZ WAS being transported to the hospital in a car driven by his brother Raymond, it collided with one driven by an Arlington Heights couple at Euclid Avenue and Wilke Road. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Abel, 1242N. Chestnut, both were hospitalized with head injuries.

Mrs. Salinas and Raymond Lopez were injured in the crash but have been released from Northwest Community Hospital. Raymond Lopez, 18, was charged by Arlington Heights police with running a stop sign.

THE SHOOTING, which police said was a single shotgun blast occurred after an argument between Jose Lopez, Mrs. Salinas and her husband, Raymond Lopez, who had driven to the forest preserve with his brother and Mrs. Salinas, was walking in the woods during the shooting, police said.

Police report that Salinas threatened Lopez with the shotgun and Lopez fled toward the woods. He was shot on the circular driveway, leaving a blood stain and slight trail of blood behind.

After the shooting, Lopez ran into the wooded area, where Mrs. Salinas and the victim's brother found him after Salinas had gone.

They helped him into the car and started toward Northwest Community Hospital and were about a mile from the hospital before the crash.

A sheriff's policeman said he was about a block away when the accident occurred. He said he then transported the injured persons to the hospital.

AFTER SHERIFF'S police were notified of the shooting, they began a search for Salinas through several area communities.

They searched Salinas' home, located just south of the forest preserve, but were told that he may have gone to work at a local blacktop company.

Police learned that the firm had contracted a driveway job at 2211 Fuller, Rolling Meadows, and found Salinas driving a backhoe tractor there.

Sheriff's police cordoned the area with assistance from Rolling Meadows police, forced Salinas off the tractor and made the arrest.

The shotgun, reportedly used in the shooting was found later at Salinas home, police said.

Salinas is being held in Cook County jail.

Scouting News

It was Circus Night at Cub Pack 14's April 28 pack meeting held at Forest School. Circus acts were presented — a man shot out of a cannon, a person sawed in half, a lion tamer, the fat lady, a juggler, clowns and many other circus characters to thrill the audience. This was followed by a circus parade with all of the boys who participated.

Two new boys, John Grisham and Bryan Chamberlain, received their Bobcat pins after saying the Cub Scout promise and were welcomed into the Pack.

The following boys received awards: Den 2 — Jeff Smith, assistant denier; Den 4 — Ronald Mack, gold arrow; Den 5 — Mike Miller, denner; Randy Trost, assistant denner.

Mike Brennen, Fred Clement, and Jeff Kargl were taken into Webelos by Dick Grzebleniak, Webelos leader, after lighting the candles symbolizing their progress so far in Cub Scouting. Jeff Kargl also received his Bear badge.

It was announced that Pack 14 sold 342 Scout-o-rama tickets. Arthur Mack, Scout-o-rama Chairman, presented gifts to those boys who sold twenty or more tickets. These were Joe Libretti, Ricky Otto, Jeff Kargl, Bill Wheatley and Ronald Mack.

At the end of the meeting, genius kits were passed out. These consisted of various materials usually discarded which the boys will use to create something to be shown at the next pack meeting. Awards will be given for the most creative and the best workmanship.

Pack 14 held a kite derby and a clean-up project at Forest School April 29, and the boys received hamburgers, french fries, and cokes afterwards at McDonald's.

May 20 there will be a fishing derby and another clean-up project at Lake Opeka starting at 1. The Memorial Day parade was announced and the boys were urged to participate.

Refreshments were served following the meeting and the boys played circus games.

ORCHARD PLACE School became the setting for Animal parades, tumbling performances and other extravaganzas.

for Cub Pack 148 Friday night April 28. The costumes and skits were tremendous and very entertaining. Each den took part in the spectacular and the acts were introduced by announcer Jo Ann Cunningham. Den Leaders Esther Lundquist, Eileen Curtis, Kathleen Hruban, Judy Wilhelm, Carole Huston, Bob Strickland and Shirley Henderson were talent scouts and co-ordinators.

Cubmaster Al Lundquist proclaimed Vincent Davidson the Pack's largest Scout-o-rama ticket salesman and he received his prizes.

Other awards were a Wolf badge to Nick Cozzi, plus a Gold and Silver arrow and 1 year pin. Gold arrows were given to Chris Kowalczyk and John Mueeting. Silver arrows went to David St. Germain as well as a Bear book. Matt Camper received a gold arrow and 2 year pin and along with Don Cunningham was welcomed into Webelos. Denner Bars went to Brian Jaekle, Dino Metropoulos, Jeff Palenske, Frank Hruban, Mike Strickland and Mike Bashem. Mike also received his Bear Book. Assistant Denner Bars went to Paul Zurl and Mike Birkenheier. Ken Hicken received a Bear book.

Our April Pack outing at Forest View Bowling Lanes was a huge success and the Scouts are looking forward to their visit to Wrigley Field June 19 for a ball game.

'I Gotta Stand In Line To Pay Taxes?'

by JERRY THOMAS

Taxpayers hold little identity in the Cook County assessor's office because most real estate tax payments are made by mail, but there is a small group among the thousands of property owners who add personality to the numbers they are listed by in the assessment books.

Mostly it's the little guy, bill clutched in hand, who walks into the first-floor office to pay his taxes in person.

It's almost as if some of the index numbers have walked off the pages in the binder to make the guys behind the counter at Parky's place (Assessor P. J. Cullerton's office) take notice.

A majority of those who walk in are women. They instinctively head for the spot at the end of the room where the line is as if they know you always wait in line to pay.

The clerks are polite but busy, and as one told a disgruntled woman complaining about her tax bill, "Hey, I'm a taxpayer too."

The lines are short now; the bills have just come out. For one old woman they were not short enough. Her babushka-bound head bobbed in emphasis as she kept up a steady stream of cusswords in her native language throughout her half-hour wait.

She punctuated the descriptive dialogue with a few statements in English like, "not enough I gotta pay, I gotta wait too," and, "how come you don't wait for the money like I wait in the line?"

No one shushed her or appeared to hear her except the guy in back of her, who said, "If it makes you feel better, talk. But, take it from me, you pay no matter what you say, so what's the difference?"

Ushers in the offices can tell you where to go whatever your question. They direct people to the right lines and won't tolerate cut-ins or sloppy lines.

"Keep those lines straight, close up there," is the usual order and even the old woman stops her pacing and stays close in line.

Some homeowners explain it's the first time they're paying and the clerks explain the system. You get stamped at one line, then go to another line and wait to pay a cashier.

It's old stuff for some taxpayers and they exchange pleasantries with the clerk, who by now is a familiar face.

"You going to pay your tax bill this time?" the clerk asks one woman.

"I'm paying," but under protest just like always," she answered.

"Okay," he said, laughing. "Then, like always I gotta tell you, go to the third floor and protest. You sure must like to stand in line."

She is the last in line of about 50 taxpayers he has processed. The clerk turned to a fellow worker and asks the same question again: "Why do they come downtown to stand in line?"

IT'S INEVITABLE, like death and taxes, lines of waiting people are part of the action in the County building in Chicago. Real estate bill taxpayers, the kind who like to make their payment in person, have started filling the corridors of the Cook County assessors' offices this week.

Holy Family Session Will Help Smoking Habit Go Poof

If you're interested in breaking the smoking habit — and winning an "IQ award" (I quit), you'll have the opportunity during the week of May 15.

Holy Family Hospital's medical staff and nursing service are sponsoring a series of five programs each evening during the week, starting at 7:30 p.m.

On May 15, Dr. Argelia Heller, psychiatrist, will kick-off the program with a talk on "Psychosomatic Aspects of Smoking." Her talk will explain the relationship between mind and body and how they work together to cause or eliminate a craving for smoking.

Dr. Noble Correll, thoracic surgeon, will talk on "Cancer of the Lung and other Chest Diseases" on Tuesday evening. He will be followed by Dr. Kenneth Maier, radiologist, who will present an X-ray demonstration of lung cancer, emphysema, bronchitis and peptic ulcer.

Each evening session will include a movie related to the subject and pamphlets will be distributed free as reminder guide-lines for information released, according to Mrs. M. Donahue, Holy Family staff development coordinator.

"Stop smoking students" are asked to phone Holy Family — 297-1800 and register with Nursing Service. Registration fee is $5 for adults and $2 for those under 21, according to Mrs. Donahue.

"SMOKING AND Heart Disease" will be covered on Wednesday. Dr. George Nelson, internist, and Dr. Earl Suckow, associate pathologist, will discuss heart and blood vessel disease in relation to smoking and other ways smoking can shorten life.

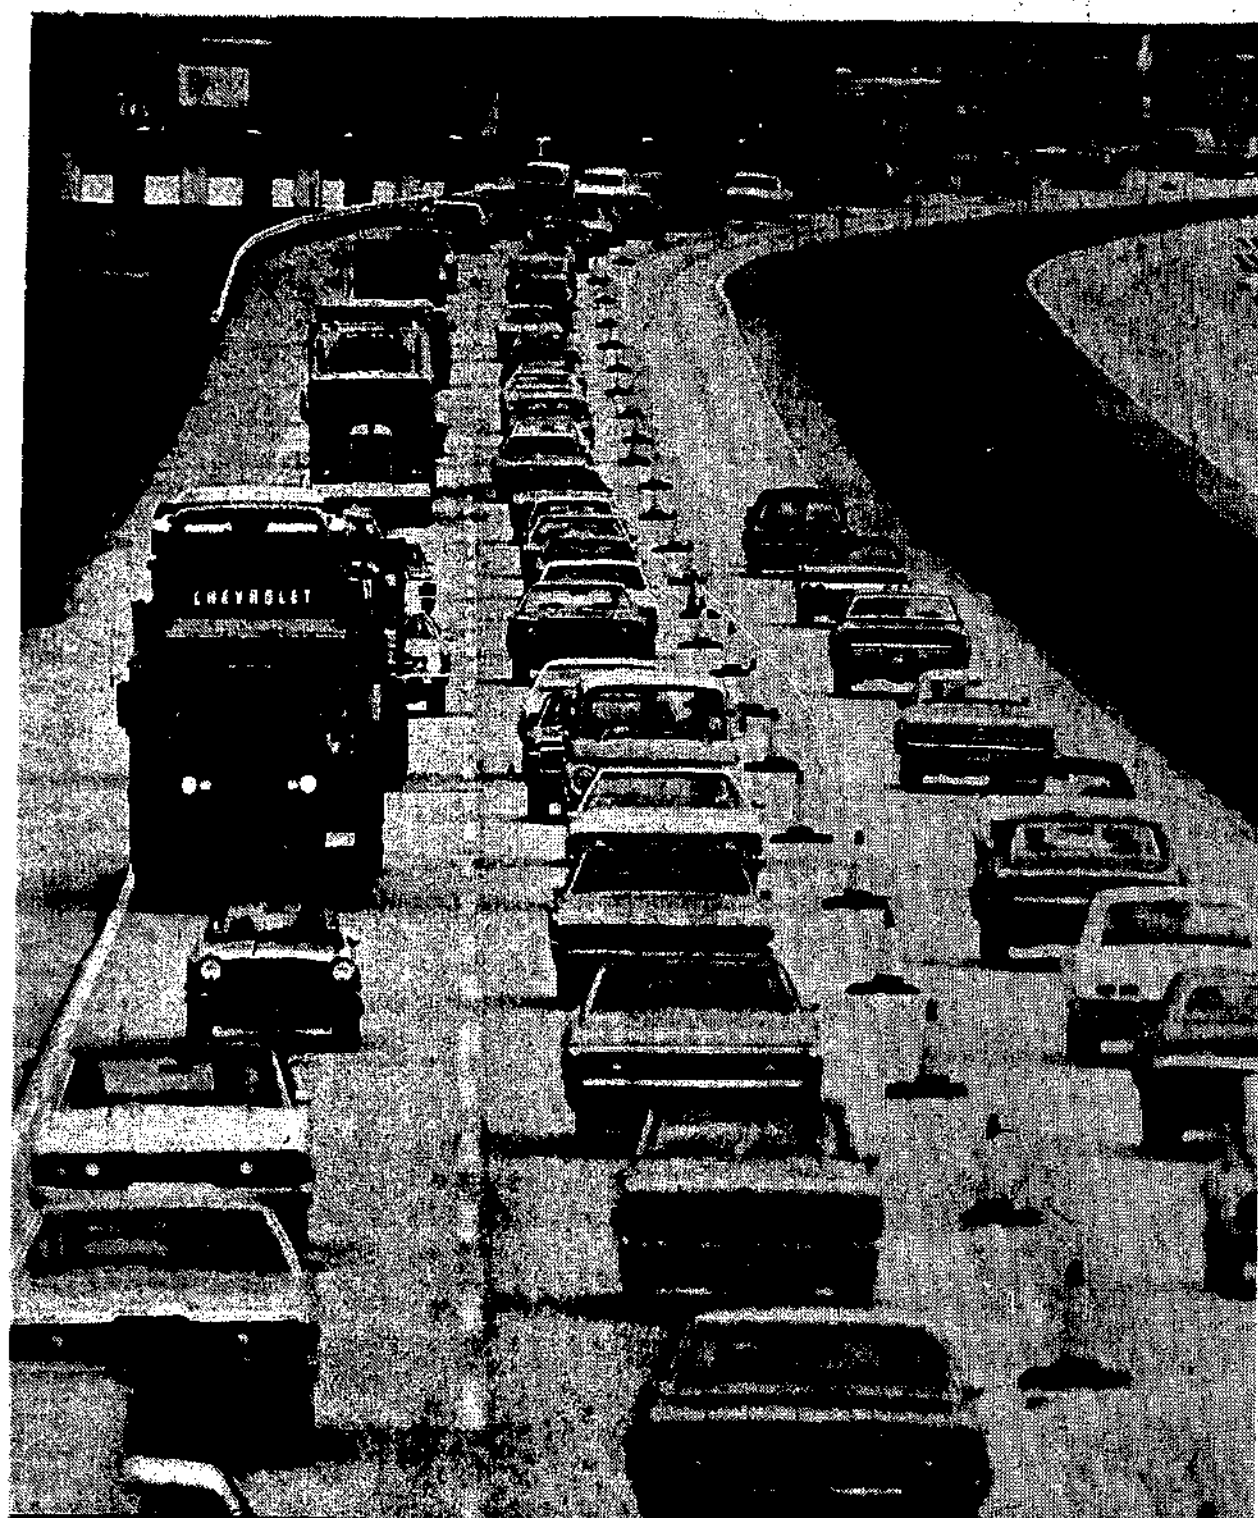

Dr. Ralph C. Greene, chief pathologist, will talk on "Action of Nicotine on the Lungs" on Thursday evening. He'll be followed by a demonstration staged by Niles West High School students showing the effect of smoking on lung tissue.

On the final night Dr. Henry Niemeyer, family practitioner, will talk on "Obesity Control for the Non-Smoker."

Also, Fred Schiavo, hypnotist and founder-president of the National Hypnosis Center and Director of the National Hypnosis Institute will discuss and demonstrate "How to Stop Smoking Through Auto-Suggestion."

Because meeting room facilities are limited, interested stop smoking students are urged to contact Holy Family, Mrs. Donahue said.

A SEEMINGLY ENDLESS string of cars inched toward west and Tri-State Tollways are under construction. The Chicago last week during morning rush hour. Suburban commuters will experience similar congested driving conditions for the next three months while the North-bumper-to-bumper traffic is shown at the junction of Northwest Tollway and Elmhurst Road in Des Plaines.

Program For Troubled Youths Seeks Help

A guidance and help program for troubled youngsters needs adult volunteers, according to the program sponsor, the Des Plaines Youth Commission.

Mature, emotionally stable adults who can spare some time to provide friendship and aid in solving problems should contact commission member, Lawrence Thome, 1883 Wicke Ave., or call 298-8676, according to commission officials.

The youngsters need a stable family atmosphere or just someone to "look up to," according to Thome. None of the youngsters in the program have been in "serious" trouble, which would have required detention in a state youth institution, he said.

Applications should include the adult volunteer's name, address, phone number, interests and hobbies, and reasons the volunteers may be qualified to help young people, Thome said.

THE AMOUNT of time each month the volunteer would spend with a youngster depends on the need, Thome said. Volunteers and young people will be matched up by common interests, according to commission members.

Volunteers accepted into the program will be given training, according to the needs of the youngsters, Thome said. In the past, the youth help program has been aided by training from the Des Plaines Police Department, the Maine Township Mental Health Association, 1032 Lee St., and the Northwest Human Relations Development Center, Rolling Meadows.

Often the youngsters are from "broken homes" where one parent is missing, through divorce, sickness or alcoholism, Thome said. An adult who will take to a young person, take him to sporting events, and share his hobby, can put the youngster back on the right path, according to youth commission officials.

Set Classes For Diabetics Here

Classes for diabetics will be offered by Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge at 7:30 p.m. on May 31, June 1 and June 6-7.

The classes will be taught by clinical nutritionists and registered nurses on the staff of Lutheran General. Each participant must have approval from his personal physician to attend although the physician does not have to be on the staff of Lutheran General, hospital officials said.

Persons registering for the classes must attend all four sessions. There is a $15 charge to cover instructional materials.

Among the topics to be covered are "Medical Aspects and Diabetic Emergencies," "Introduction to Diet and the Diabetic Exchange System" and "Food Preparation and Eating Away from Home." A discussion period will follow each presentation.

Reservations should be made in advance by contacting the clinical nutrition department at Lutheran General.

Radiology OKd For Hospital

Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge has been approved for a three-year residency in general radiology by the American Medical Association residency review committee for radiology. The committee represented the American Board of Radiology and the American Medical Association council on medical education.

One resident will be accepted each year for a total of three residents in the program at a time. Residents will spend 21 months in general diagnostic radiology and nine months of radiation therapy.

They will also have a six-month affiliation period at Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital in Chicago where they will study the use of isotopes and special procedures.

Lutheran General also has a four-year residency in pathology. The hospital offers an affiliate residency program in orthopedic surgery with Northwestern University Medical School and the Stritch School of Medicine of Loyola University.

With the University of Illinois College of Medicine it has an affiliate residency program in plastic surgery. Lutheran General is a teach hospital affiliated with the University of Illinois College of Medicine and has a rotating internship program.

Preschool Signups Here

The preschool program at Trinity Lutheran Church is now accepting registrations for the 1972-1973 school year. A limited number of openings exist in the Monday-Wednesday-Friday morning program for 4-year-olds and in the Monday-Wednesday morning program for 3-year-olds.

The preschool also offers other programs for 3 and 4-year-olds, but those classes already have been filled.

Enrollment in each class is limited to 20 children. There are two teachers assigned to each class and all classes will meet beginning the first week in October and run through May. No classes will be held on holidays and with vacation periods will follow the calendar of Des Plaines School Dist. 62. Morning sessions begin at 9 a.m. and end at 11:30 a.m. Afternoon sessions begin at 1 p.m. and end at 3:30 p.m.

Tuition for the three-day 4-year-old program is $20 per month and tuition for the two-day 3-year-old program is $15 per

ERA Up For Action In Assembly

THE HERALD Monday, May 8, 1972 Section I — 11

by TOM LAUE
SPRINGFIELD (UPI) — The amendment to the U.S. Constitution guaranteeing women equal treatment is ready for action in both the Illinois House and Senate, but it took some arm-twisting by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie to get it there.

The Senate Executive Committee Wednesday passed the ratification resolution with little trouble.

But its counterpart in the House seemed stymied because Committee Chairman Robert Juckett, R-Park Ridge, said even hearing testimony on the proposal would violate the Illinois Constitution.

Juckett referred to the provision that no proposed amendment to the U.S. Constitution can be ratified by Illinois unless three-fifths of the legislature's members have been elected since the amendment was proposed.

CONGRESS THIS spring submitted the Equal Rights Amendment to the 50 states for ratification, long after Illinois lawmakers took their seats last January. Reps. Eugene Chapman, D-Arlington Heights, and Giddy Dyer, R-Hinsdale, pleaded with Juckett to call the resolution, despite his constitutional concern.

"This legislature has passed bills contrary to the constitution before," Mrs. Dyer said. "Parochialism is a prime example. So I don't see what would be wrong with acting on this and then letting the courts decide its constitutionality."

But Juckett stood steadfast until both Ogilvie and House Speaker W. Robert Blair phoned Juckett, asking him to hear the measure.

"I believe I was right in the stand I took earlier," Juckett said in agreeing to call the bill.

"But out of deference to the House speaker and a personal request of the governor, a vote will be taken."

THE VOTE FINALLY came Wednesday evening as committee members, anxious to end their work, were walking out. Nearly lost in the shuffle were the comments of Rep. George Hudson, R-Hinsdale, who voted with House Majority Leader Henry Hyde, R-Chicago, against the proposal. Fifteen voted for it.

"This will lower the privileged status of women," Hudson said. "Why would you expect me to vote for something that eventually will do you immeasurable harm?"

Hudson held high a sheaf of telegrams he said came from women too busy doing housework to testify in person against the equal rights resolution.

Hudson's remark drew groans from women who backed the proposal.

"Do you want to be drafted?" asked Hudson.

SHOUTS OF "YES!" and "Right on!" were his answer.

They opposed alimony payments and one replied, "Of course. Alimony is such an injustice to men."

So far, 17 of the 38 states needed to ratify an amendment to the U.S. Constitution have approved the equal rights measure. Three-fifths of the members in each chamber must approve the resolution before Illinois joins them.

Meanwhile, Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott said he soon will issue an opinion on the validity of the constitutional question Juckett raised.

Florida's attorney general already has said he thinks a similar provision in Florida's charter is unconstitutional because it adds a standard no state may impose.

Dear Dorothy: We seem to have an unusual number of spiders around our house. We have to be careful what we use as we have children and a dog. Is there anything that will do the job and not be dangerous? —Harvey K.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture continues to recommend a household spray containing lindane, malathion or ronnel. One of the state universities still recommends a household spray containing Baygon, diazinon, dichlorvos or ronnel. Use the spray when the children and pet are not in the house and be sure to follow all the cautions on the label.

Dear Dorothy: I despise milk. Is it possible to have a balanced diet without drinking it? —Julia West.

Of course, I hate the stuff, too. But you can eat products that contain milk in other forms like cheese, ice cream and so on. The only missing nutrients that present a problem when milk is eliminated are calcium and vitamin D. Calcium is present in green, leafy vegetables and vitamin D will have to be supplied in tablet form. The other nutrients present in milk — vitamin A, thiamine, niacin, riboflavin and phosphate are easily obtainable from other sources such as meats, fruits and vegetables. From this listing, you can see that milk is a most complete food and it's a bit awkward when one doesn't take to the stuff.

Dear Dorothy: I've been trying to figure out what's meant by "detergent" foods. Help! —Marie W.

It's the dentists' phrase. They mean crunchy, low-carbohydrate foods like celery, carrot strips and radishes. They help to remove sticky foods from the teeth.

District Baseball Tourney Underway Today At East

District Baseball 2-4

In district tournament play — or any other tournament, for that matter — there are no tomorrow. Only today counts and let the tomorrows fall as they may.

The Maine East District Tournament opens today for four area baseball teams and there are no tomorrow for any of them — unless they win, of course.

Today's schedule has Maine West against Notre Dame and Tuesday's slate has Maine East against Maine North. The winners of both games will encounter Wednesday. All games are scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

In the tournament, a loss eliminates a team from further competition. Each win advances a team to another round.

Maine West comes in to today's game with a 7-4-1 record and will have right-hander Mark Ackerman on the mound. Ackerman has a 4-0-1 record with an 0.84 earned run average. He has walked only seven batters in 33 innings.

The Warriors' leading hitters are Roger Blumer (.333), Chris Bouchée (.307) and Rick Wolfgram (.307).

Maine West jumped out to a 5-1 record this season, but in their last six games the Warriors have won two, lost three and tied one. In those six games, the Warriors scored a total of nine runs.

There is concern at Maine West over the scarcity of hits, but there is optimism. "I've coached most of these boys since they were freshmen," said Warrior assistant coach Don Olson. "And every year they seem to have a mid-season slump. And every year they snap out of it."

"Hopefully, they will snap out of it Monday."

Notre Dame is the hottest team in the tournament, going unbeaten in its last eight games. The Dons, in their last 11 games, have won nine, lost one and tied one. The Dons have a 12-4-1 record for the season.

Dick Allegretti will be on the mound for the Dons and he has a 4-2 record. In his most recent outing, he was very impressive while shutting out powerful St. Victor 2-0.

Joe Saccomanno and Wayne Brekke are the Dons' leading hitters, but the most important aspect of Notre Dame's winning streak has been the hitting of Rich Pedit and Rich Lazinski. Both lettered last year, but were plagued with prolonged batting slumps early this season. The pair are stinging the ball lately and the Dons have been posting wins. The Dons have made just 29 errors in 18 games.

Maine East, which has a 7-4-1 record, will send Fred Parker (4-2) to the mound against Maine North, which has a 4-9 mark. The Norsemen will start Gary Halls (1-4). Halls has been plagued by his team's defensive problems in the field and only 16 of the 34 runs he has allowed have been earned.

Maine East's leading batter is Russ Anderson who has been on a spurge in recent outings. In Maine East's last five games, he has connected for 11 hits. Neal Schawel is Maine North's leading hitter among regulars with a .281 mark.

Warriors Divide Pair On Diamond

Wanted: top notch pitchers.

Purpose: to pitch against Maine West.

That's right, only top notch pitchers need apply to pitch against the Warriors. It seems that the Maine West batsmen do their best hitting against the top pitchers.

The Warriors split a pair of games played Thursday and Friday, beating Niles North 4-0 and losing to Maine South 4-2.

While defeating Niles North, the Warriors beat southpaw John Barnfield, whom many consider (including major league scouts) to be the best pitcher in the Central Suburban League.

On Friday, the Warriors lost to Maine South's Greg Clezadlo, who just started regular pitching a month ago.

In recent outings, the Warriors were blanked by Glenbrook North's Mike Stienbeck, New Trier West's Dave Weinger and Glenbrook South's John Shumway and were also beaten by Glenbrook. Though they are fine pitchers (all have better curveballs than fastballs), they do not measure up to the abilities of Barnfield.

Against Niles North, Mark Ackerman outpitched Barnfield with a silky four-hitter while striking out five batters. The shutout lowered Ackerman's earned run average to 0.84 and boosted his record to 4-0-1.

Maine West jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first inning against the Vikings. Rick Wolfgram started the frame by reaching second on an error. He advanced to second on a bunt single by Roger Blumer and scored on a wild pitch.

The Warriors made it 2-0 in the third as Wolfgram walked, went to second on Blumer's sacrifice bunt, went to third on a passed ball and scored on a sacrifice fly by Fred Campobasso.

Maine West added two insurance runs in the seventh inning after two were out. Mark Eichorn walked and scored on a double to left field by Wolfgram. Blumer advanced Wolfgram to third on an infield single and Wolfgram scored on a single to center by Campobasso.

Maine South won Friday's game with four unearned runs in the third inning after the Warriors had taken a 2-0 lead.

In the first inning, Wolfgram drew a walk, went to second on Blumer's sacrifice bunt and scored after two wild pitches.

A triple by Campobasso scored Wolfgram, who had walked, for a 2-0 Warrior lead in the third inning.

In the bottom of the third, the Hawks tallied their four runs.

After one out, Jim Lyons singled and Chuck Fahrner singled. Pete Lasowski flew out, but Clezadlo reached safely on an error to load the bases. Dave Patterson blasted a triple to right-center field to bring in three runs and an error later scored Patterson.

Mitchell was the losing pitcher, his second straight loss. He gave up six hits, struck out three and walked two. In the latter innings he appeared to be pitching stronger and later said he was regaining his rhythm.

The Warriors connected for only one hit against Clezadlo, Campobasso's triple.

The split put Maine West's record at 7-4-1 overall and 5-4-1 in the Central Suburban League.

Dons' Streak Continues

Notre Dame extended its unbeaten streak to eight consecutive games by beating St. Joseph 6-4 and St. Francis DeSales 3-1 Thursday and Friday, respectively.

In their last eight outings, the Dons have posted seven wins and one tie.

A spectacular catch by left fielder John O'Connor in the seventh inning against St. Joseph preserved the unbeaten string.

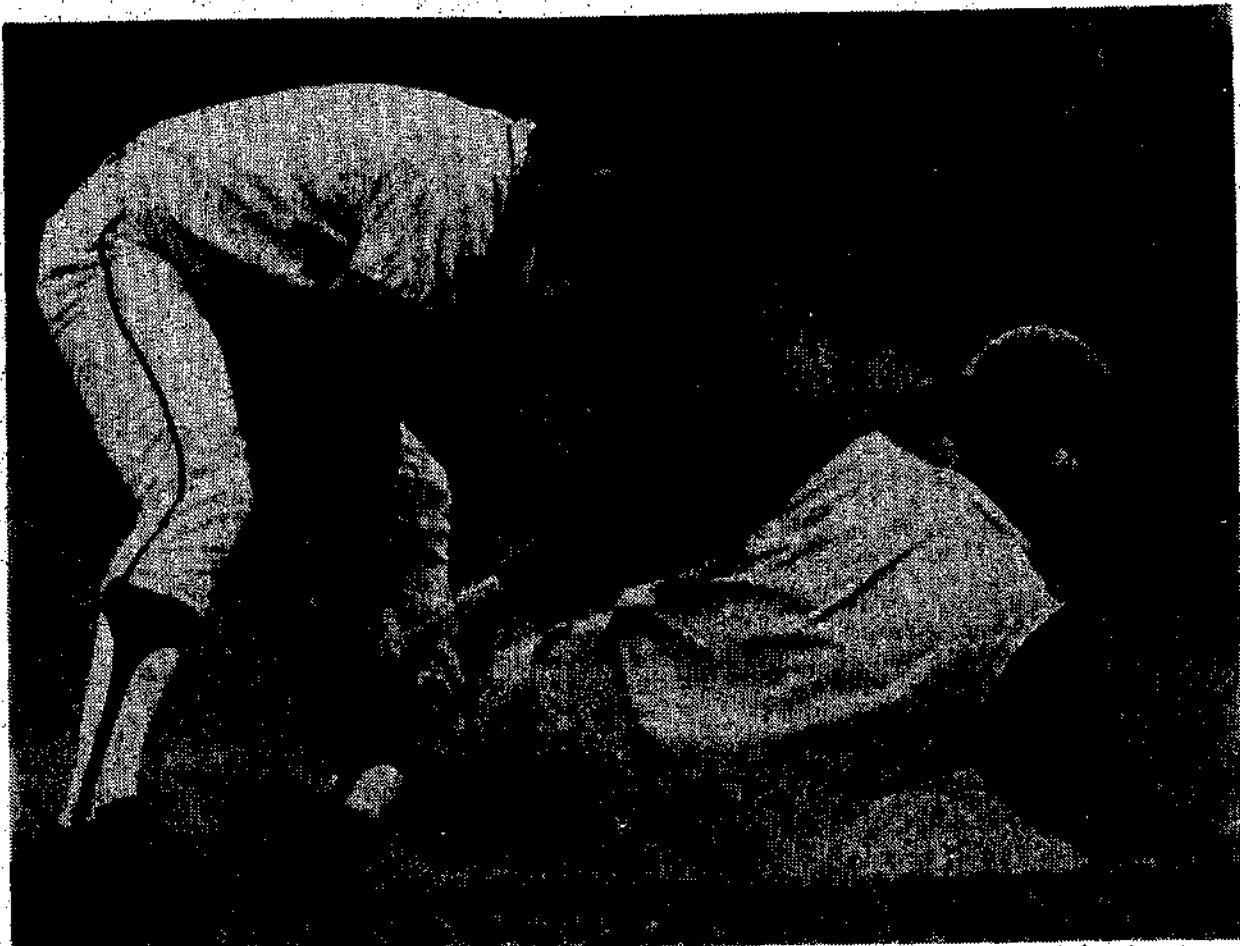

With the Dons on top 6-4, St. Joseph had the bases loaded with two outs in the seventh. A Charger batsman then rifled a shot to left field which had home-run written all over it. "When I saw that ball take off I thought the ball game was over," said Dons coach Ken Maziarz.

But, O'Connor turned his back to the infield, sprinted for what seemed like an eternity and pulled the ball in over his shoulder to end the game.

"That was the catch of the year as far as we're concerned," Maziarz said. "It was one of the best catches I've ever seen."

St. Joseph took a 1-0 lead in the top half of the first inning, but the Dons tied the count in the bottom half. Notre Dame went out in front 3-1 in the third frame.

In the sixth inning, Ken Sommers belted a bases loaded triple to give the Dons a 6-1 advantage.

North Wins One, Protests Defeat

Okne game won and one game lost. Well, maybe one game lost.

Maine North defeated Deerfield 5-4 Thursday and unofficially lost to Glenbrook South 3-2 Friday. The Glenbrook South game has been protested by Maine North.

The protest was made as a result of a play which came in the first inning Friday.

During that first frame, Maine North's Ken Spain hit a ground ball to Glenbrook South shortstop Paul Engelhard who threw the ball over the head of first baseman Nick Pauly. The ball sailed beyond the out of bounds line and the umpire declared the ball out of play and mentioned Spain toward second base.

As Spain trotted toward second base, he was called back by first base coach Bob Mueller since it was questioned whether Spain had touched first base or not.

In the meantime, Pauly retrieved the ball from beyond the out of bounds line and tagged Spain. The umpire declared that Spain was out.

Maine North coach Dave Kennedy claimed to the umpire that Spain could not be tagged out by a ball which was declared out of bounds. But, the umpire stood fast and would not reverse his decision.

"I do not think that Spain even had to touch first base," Kennedy later said. "The umpire mentioned Spain toward second base, awarded him the base."

"I can not see how a runner can be tagged out by a ball which is not in play. And that is why we protested the action."

Kennedy further explained that if the play had occurred in, say, Wrigley Field, a fan would have had the ball for a souvenir and there would be no ball for the runner to be tagged out by — if, in fact, the runner could officially be tagged out. Kennedy claims that the runner could not.

The out helped halt a Maine North rally in the first inning and, according to Kennedy, could have played a major role in the outcome of the game.

Against Deerfield on Thursday, the Norsemen recorded a victory with a four-run outburst in the last of the seventh and behind the pitching of Bill Harrison.

Harrison went the distance for the Norsemen, gave up three hits, four runs (only one earned) while striking out four and walking one.

The Norsemen took a 1-0 lead in the first inning as Dave Heltos walked, went to second on a sacrifice bunt by Neal Schawel, went to third on a ground out and scored on a fielder's choice.

Deerfield came back to take a 3-1 lead in the sixth and made it 4-1 in the seventh.

Maine North retaliated with a four-run outburst in the last of the seventh.

Mark Straessle beat out an infield single and went to second on a balk. Harrison, Heltos and Schawel were walked to score Straessle. Spain walked to score Harrison.

After two were out and the Norsemen trailing 4-3, Mark Harloff lined a single to left field to bring in Heltos and Schawel with the tying and winning runs.

Maine North scored one run in the infamous first inning as Schawel singled, went to second with a stolen base and scored as the catcher threw the ball into center field and the center fielder fumbled the ball.

In the third inning, Schawel belted a home run to left-center field, the first varsity homer in Maine North's short history.

Halls was the losing pitcher (thus far), though giving up only two hits while striking out six.

The split put Maine North's record at 2-9 in the Central Suburban League and 4-9 overall.

HIT WITH BOTH HANDS

DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE FREQUENT COMPLAINT OF 'TOO MUCH RIGHT HAND.' IT JUST ISN'T SO.

IF THE RIGHT HAND OVERPOWERS THE LEFT, IT IS BECAUSE THE LEFT HAND HAS NOT BEEN DOMINANT...THE GUIDING FORCE OF THE SWING. IF THE LEFT HAND IS LEADING AND FIRMLY IN CONTROL...YOU CAN HIT AS HARD AS POSSIBLE WITH THE RIGHT HAND—AND YOU SHOULD! USE BOTH HANDS TO THE UTMOST!

Parker Silences Glenbard

Fred Parker tuned up for his expected starting assignment against Maine North in the district tournament by stopping Glenbard West on four hits in a 3-1 victory Friday.

Weather permitting, Parker and the Demons will meet Maine North Tuesday on the Maine East diamond. Parker fanned nine batters and walked only one.

A home run blast by Glenn Sedjo to left-center field gave Maine East a 1-0 lead in the top half of the second inning. Glenbard West tied the count in the bottom half of the frame with an unearned run.

The Demons led the win in the sixth inning with four runs.

Russ Anderson started the inning with a single and Mike McDonnell followed with a swinging bunt single. Dan McDonnell grounded into a fielder's choice which advanced Anderson to third and Mike McDonnell to second. Anderson outran a throw to the plate on Sedjo's ground ball as McDonnell took third.

McDonnell scored on Dan Lowy's sacrifice fly and Joe Darby was hit by a pitch. Sedjo advanced to third and Darby to second on an error and a single by Parker scored both runners.

The victory boosted Maine East's record to 5-4-1 in the West Suburban League and 7-4-1 overall.

Warriors Stun Invitational Field

"We surprised some people," said Maine West tennis coach Roger King. "A lot of people."

Maine West, expected to be one of the also-rans in the Glenbrook South Invitational which included such top caliber teams as Highland Park, Evanston, Niles North, Glenbrook South and Evanston, was impressive in each of its wins. And the Warriors were also impressive in some of their losses.

In No. 1 singles, Jack Semler, who had been playing No. 3 singles all season, upset Niles North's Khariminder Dhalwal 6-3 and 6-1 in the first round. Dhalwal is one of the Central Suburban League's top players.

Semler lost the quarter-final round match to Evanston's Eric Friedler, who should be highly seeded in the state, 6-4 and 6-2.

Jim Lauffenberger lost to Evanston's Dan Moore 6-1 and 6-3 in the first round and to Niles North's Bob Weiner 6-1 and 6-0 in the second round while playing in

No. 2 singles. Lauffenberger's performance was termed as a fine one since he had been playing No. 2 doubles all season.

Maine West's No. 1 doubles team of Steve Wild and John Anderson defeated Fahlen and Kane of Niles North 6-4 and 6-4 in the first round and then came back with a surprising performance against Kerr and Shapiro of Evanston in the second round.

The Warrior duo led Evanston's pair 4-1 in the first round before losing to the favored Wildkitts 6-4. In the second set, Wild and Anderson were edged by the same score 6-4.

Roger Junge and Joe Thimann defeated Maine East's Jeff Erikman and Jim Ziegas 6-1 and 6-3 in the first round and then came close to a major upset in the second round.

Junge and Thimann beat Highland Park's highly regarded Sokolky and Warren 7-5 in the first set, which was one of the highlights of the meet. "Nobody could believe it," King said. "By that time there were people standing all around and they just couldn't believe what was happening."

The Highland Park duo, however, came back to win the next two sets 6-2 and 6-0.

Earlier in the week, the Warriors lost to Glenbrook South 5-1. Wild lost in No. 1 singles 6-4 and 6-1. Anderson lost in No. 2 singles 6-4 and 6-1. Semler lost in No. 3 singles 6-4 and 7-4.

Junge and Thimann posted a 6-2 and 6-0 win in No. 2 doubles and Lauffenberger and Doug Melanic lost 6-4, 2-6 and 7-5 in No. 2 doubles.

The meet was halted due to rain. Friedler had advanced to the finals with a 6-1 and 6-2 victory, but the most interesting match was between Highland Park's John Powell and Barrington's Greg Russell. In their semi-final match, each had won one set before the rain fell.

"That match (between Powell and Russell) will mean a lot in district seedings," King said. "It could hurt Highland Park's chances in the overall state tournament."

Highland Park and Evanston are said to have the two

Maine East Relays Prove 'Inconclusive'

by LARRY MLYNCZAK
The state track picture looks as muddy as ever.

Friday night's Maine East Relays was supposed to answer a few question marks and perhaps establish a state meet favorite, at least from the Chicagoland area.

Following the meet, everyone was going around trying to find some hidden meaning in the results, but none was to be found. "The results are very inconclusive as to establishing a favorite," said Maine East coach John Coughlan. "I don't think you can pick out a favorite based on what happened tonight," said Palatine coach Joe Johnson.

As Coughlan said, the results were inconclusive, mostly for the following reasons:

- a) All of the running events were relays and only two relay events are in the state meet — 800 yards and one mile.
- b) It rained, thus the high expectations for outstanding performances did not come to pass in the field events.
- c) The Maine East track is cinder and was "heavy" due to the rain.
- d) Evanston's Howard Jones, a 95 sprinter, did not compete due to a slight strain in the muscle behind his knee.

But, as Sgt. Joe Friday would say, just the facts. So here they are.

Evanston won the meet with 67 points. Proviso West was second with 63, Glenbard East third with 51½, Bloom fourth with 49, LaGrange fifth with 48, Oak Park sixth with 30. Glenbard West seventh with 26, Maine East and Maine South tied for eighth with 13, Palatine 10th with eight and one-half, Highland Park 11th with five and New Trier East 12th with none.

But, in varsity only events, Proviso West was the leading scorer with 53, Glenbard East was second with 51½, Bloom was third with 49 and Evanston dropped to fourth with 47. LaGrange scored as few as 28 points on the varsity level.

In events which will be run at the state meet (the 800-yard relay, the mile relay and the field events), Glenbard East was the leading scorer with 29½ points, Bloom was second with 29, Evanston third with 27, LaGrange fourth with 18 and Proviso West dropped to fifth with 17.

Since top notch performances only will score at the state meet, the Maine East Relay victory count is important. Bloom had the most wins with four while Proviso West and LaGrange had three each, Glenbard East two and Evanston and Glenbard West one each.

In state meet events, Bloom had three winners, LaGrange two, Glenbard East and Proviso West one each and Evanston was shut out.

Therefore, there were four "winners" at the Maine East Relays — Evanston in total points, Proviso West in varsity points, Glenbard East in state meet event points and Bloom in overall wins and state meet event wins.

"Another factor in this meet," Coughlan said, "is that we don't know who was using their best boys in what events." That, of course, only compounds the question marks.

The top performances in the meet were Proviso West's win in the four-mile relay in 17:42.5 (just five-tenths of a second off the best ever in the state), wins by Bloom's Dan Lueder in the shot put and the discus and John Stank's 6-6 leap in the high jump for Proviso West.

The best showing for local teams was Maine East's second place finish in the four-mile relay in 17:52.1 with John Lovasz, Gary Marshak, Rick Phalen and Pat Moyer.

Palatine took third in the two-mile relay in 8:05.7 with sophomore Tom Glenn, Scott Williams, Fred Miller and Brian Barnett. Maine East was fifth in the same event with Mike Bell, Mike Siefert, Phalen and Moyer.

Rick Gurolnick took fifth place in the pole vault for Maine East with 12-0.

Perhaps the best place to find the pre-state meet favorite would be Alton where Lester (Bo) Scott may win it all by himself. Scott has the state's best marks in the 100-yard dash, the 440-yard dash and the long jump thus far this season. And 16 points have won a state meet before. And, besides that, Alton also has a state contending high jumper.

But if there still is hope for the Chicagoland area, he may have been at trackside limping slightly at Maine East Friday night.

Oh, yes, Howard Jones of Evanston can also win a state meet all by himself.
